In the first place there is no vacancy in the war portfolio nor is there any likelihood of there being one, for the president has not the backbone to invite Alger to resign, new regiment. It will soon be filled, and that he will never resign of his own accord is clear to all. Alger has no intention of resigning, for he has Philippines, in spite of the climate and a job that suits him, and besides the president is under obligations to his secretary of war that he cannot ignore. And second, Roosevelt is not seeking to be a member of President McKinley's cabinet. He is not a friend or admirer of the adminishigher honor to be governor of New York than a member of the cabinet of a mismanaged administration. More than this McKinley does not want Roosvelt in the cabinet, especially at the head of the war department, for Roosevelt would bring order out of chaos, and this would reflect discredit upon the past administration of that man the president wants.
