SATURDAY...DECEMBER 23, 1899 PROSPERITY IN BIG CHUNKS

That the country is prosperous cannot deny. for we are told by such undeniable authority as the Oregonian. St. Louis Globe-Democrat, and hundreds of other like truthful journals, that it is, and they give "facts and figures" to prove their assertions, but that the prosperity is not equally distributed among all is quite certain. Some manufacturing concerns that are controlled by trusts are extremely prosperous, the railroads generally are enjoying a wave of prosperity, and officeholders are not going hungry, but the farming communities, the merchants and trades peopje generally are not enjoying the thrift that they would desire. There are reasons for this that may be found in the following list of prices that prevailed in Milwaskee on November 13 of this year and compared with those prevailing a year ago by Robert Schilling, of Milwaukee:

NOVEMBER 13, 1898:

NOVEMBER 13, 1899: Barley, shels..... Corn, bushel..... 2-inch iron pipe, foot..... Sucker rods foot Rope and twine, pound. Nails, 100 pounds..... Fence wire..... Lumber. 1.000 feet

The prices of farm produce are taken from the market report of the Milwaukee Sentinel, of November 14, 1899, the rest are obtained from business men. They may vary somewhat in different stores and different localities, but they are a fair average.

Mr. Schilling goes on to make these comparisons, addressing himself to the farmers:

With these advanced prices in manufactured products it cannot be danied that the manufacturers have prosperity thrust upon them in great, big, chunks And with his products reduced in price and everything he has to buy advanced it is not difficult to see why the farmer is not prosperous. The merchant, too, suffers from this inequality of distribution of "good times." He is placed at a disadvantage .by having to invest nearly double the amount of capital ln the stocks he carries, and although he may make the same per cent of profit on every dollar invested that he did a year ago, his trade is diminished by the inability of his customers to buy of him. Therefore the farmer and the merchant are being sacrificed alike for the benefit of the manufacturers who are in the trusts.

Another cause of prosperity that has been forced upon a certain class during the past year is the increese in taxation. This has benefited the officeholders and government contractors, but it is a burden on all others. Taxes have been enormously increased during the past year, while the incomes of at least one half the taxpayers have decreased. According to the reports IN POWER OF RAILROADS.

of the secretary of the treasnry, the total customs and internal revenue recelpts for the year ending June 30, 1898, were $320,475,703 and for the year ending June 30, 1899, they were $479, 089,839, an increase of $129,089,939, or very nearly $10 for each of the thir teen million yoters in the country and a totaal tax of $37 per voter.

When taxes have thus increased an the prices of farm products diminished it is a difficult matter to believe the assertions of our contemporaries that all the people are prosperous, and the country enjoying an unprecedented mount of thrift.

ONESIDED FINANCIERING. The currency bill that has passed the house and will be adopted with perhaps a few amendments by the senate, more onesided than any financial legislation that has ever been attempted in America. It is all in favor of the creditor class and opposed to the debtor in that it makes all obligations both public and private, payable in one class of money, and it gives to a certain class the privilege of making money plentiful or scarce, whenever i is beneficial to them to do so. According to the provisions of the bill there is no real money except gold, and no token money but national bank notes. That there is not enough gold in circulation to meet the demands of trade all will agree, and since there can be no credit money issued except national bank notes, the volume of money will be placed solely in the hands of the banks.
