

"Right Peart."

"I was right peart till the rheumatism got in," said a suffering old man who lived near the swamp. Fact is, wherever you live you can't be "right peart" if you are a victim of this troublesome disease. Captain C. W. Houtsenpiller, Springfield, O., says: "I found great relief from inflammatory rheumatism by using Brown's Iron Bitters." Thousands of other people have found similar relief.

SPRING FEVER

At this season every one needs to use some tonic. IRON enters into almost every physician's prescription for those who need building up.

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS

THE BEST TONIC

For Weakness, Lassitude, Lack of Energy, etc. It has no equal. It is the only iron medicine that is not injurious. It purifies the blood, invigorates the system, restores appetite, aids digestion. It does not blacken or injure the teeth, cause heart disease or produce constipation—other iron medicines do. Dr. G. H. BINKLEY, a leading physician of Springfield, O., says:

"Brown's Iron Bitters is a thoroughly good medicine. I use it in my practice, and find its action exactly all other forms of iron. In weakness, or a low condition of the system, Brown's Iron Bitters is usually a positive necessity. It is all that is claimed for it."

A SINGULAR BOOK.

Scintillating with sarcasm and Brilliant with Truth.
New York Cor. American Rural Home.
Chap. I. "Has Malaria," goes to Florida.
Chap. II. "Overworked," goes to Europe.
Chap. III. "Has Rheumatism," goes to EMS.
Chap. IV. Has a row with his Doctor!

The above chapters, Mr. Editor, I find to a book recently published by an anonymous author. I have read a deal of sarcasm in my day, but I never read anything equal to the sarcasm herein contained. I suspect the experience portrayed is a personal one; in short, the author indicates as much on page 31. Let me give you a synopsis.

"Malaria," as it states, "is a cloak with which superficial physicians cover up a multitude of ill feelings which they do not understand, and do not much care to investigate. It is also a cover for such diseases as they cannot cure. When they advise their patient to travel or that he has overworked and needs rest and is probably suffering from malaria, it is a confession of ignorance or of inability. The patient goes abroad. The change is a tonic and for a time he feels better. Comes home. Fickle appetite, frequent headaches, severe colds, cramps, sleeplessness, irritability, tired feelings, and general unfitness for business are succeeded in due time by alarming attacks of rheumatism which flits about the body regardless of all human feelings.

"Is muscular—in his back. Articulation—in his joints. Inflammatory, my! how he fears it will fly to his heart! Now off he goes to the springs. The doctor sends him there, of course, to get well; at the same time he does not really want him to die on his hands! That would hurt his business! Better for a few days. Returns. After a while neuralgia transfixes him. He bloats; cannot breathe; has pneumonia; cannot walk; cannot sleep on his left side; is fretful; very nervous and irritable; is pale and flabby; has frequent chills and fevers, everything about him seems to go wrong; becomes suspicious; musters up strength and demands to know what is killing him! 'Great heavens!' he cries, 'why have you kept me so long in ignorance!'"

"Because," said the doctor. "I read your fate five years ago. I thought best to keep you comfortable and ignorant of the facts."

He dismisses his doctor, but too late! His fortune has all gone to fees. But him, what becomes of him? The other day a well known Wall Street banker said to me, "it is really astonishing how general Bright's disease is becoming. Two of my personal friends are now dying of it. But it is not incurable I am certain, for my nephew was recently cured when his physicians said recovery was impossible. The case seems to me to be a wonderful one." This gentleman formerly represented his government in a foreign country. He knows, appreciates and declares the value of that preparation, because his nephew, who is a son of Danish Vice Consul Schmidt, was pronounced incurable when the remedy, Warner's safe cure, was begun. "Yes," said his father, "I was very skeptical but since taking that remedy the boy is well."

I regret to note that ex-President Arthur is said to be a victim of this terrible disease. He ought to live but the probabilities are that since authorized remedies can not cure him, his physicians will not advise him to save his life, as so many thousands have done, by the use of Warner's safe cure which Gen. Christiansen, at Drexel, Morgan & Co.'s, told me he regarded "as a wonderful remedy."

Well, I suspect the hero of the book cured himself by the same means. The internal evidence points very strongly to this conclusion.

I cannot close my notice of this book better than by quoting his advice to his readers:

"If, my friend, you have such an experience as I have portrayed, do not put your trust in physicians to the exclusion of other remedial agencies. They have no monopoly over disease. I personally know that many of them are so very 'conscientious' that they would far prefer that their patients should go to heaven direct from their powerless hands than that they should be saved to earth by the use of any 'unauthorized' means."

And the author's condemnation is too true, how many thousands duped, and yet rescued, as he was, can personally testify?

The Doctor's Advice.

T. G. met an old friend, who was formerly a prosperous young lumberman up North, but whose bad habits of drinking resulted as they often do, though he has since reformed and is trying to do better. "How are you?" said T. G. "Pretty well, thank you, but I have just been to a doctor to have him look at my throat." "What's the matter?" "Well, the doctor couldn't give me any encouragement. At least, he couldn't find what I wanted him to find." "What did you expect him to find?" "I asked him to look down my throat for the sawmill and farm that had gone down there." "And did he see anything of it?" "No, but he advised me, if ever I had another mill, to run it by water."

The distinguished U. S. Senator from Indiana, Hon. Daniel W. Voorhees, certifies that in a case of rheumatism in the back, he obtained instantaneous relief from St. Jacobs Oil. He says it is a remarkable remedy.

Contented with His Lot.
A Sunday-school teacher said to little Johnny:
"You must never envy those little children who are rich and wear fine clothes."
"I don't, not the first dog-gone bit."
"Why don't you envy those Johnny?"
"Because they have to wear clean clothes, and they can't waste about in the mud, and they have to say please to everybody, whoop!"—Gilbert Shaw.

A Japanese Festival.

The tide of progression has rapidly advanced in Japan, and its women are being emancipated, both socially and domestically. The Tokio Times thus describes a recent festival on the grounds of the Emperor's palace: "Many ladies were present, Japanese and foreign—the former, it was pleasant to note, as completely at their ease and as keen for enjoyment as if participating in a Thames picnic—as several of them had, doubtless, done. Some, indeed, were actually unattended by their husbands, and yet the earth did not heave with indignation nor Fuzuyama roar in eruptive protest. The sun shone and the trees nodded approvingly in the light breeze just as if no social marvel were manifesting itself in that antique stronghold of tradition and immovable routine."

Don't Skip This.

So many remedies are put before the public for the increase of newspaper circulation, which seem to be plausible and yet are fraudulent, that when a legitimate, honest effort is made to build up the circulation of a legitimate, honest paper, by legitimate, honest means, people who have so many times duped are very slow to respond to the genuine scheme. We are led to this train of thought by a notice in the advertising columns of THE AMERICAN RURAL HOME, of Rochester, N. Y., published in this issue of our paper, to which we call the attention of our readers. We are acquainted with both paper and publishers and take pleasure in recommending it as one of the very best farm and family journals in this country. FOR BILIOUS COMPLAINTS.
Bilious Complaints are caused by torpidity, congestion, or the secretion of the liver.

The symptoms are dark, greasy, yellow skin, a brown or whitish coat to the tongue, appetite irregular, often a dry cough at night.

The skin sometimes breaks out into pimples and sores, and the whole system is out of order. Wright's Indian Vegetable Pills are one of the very best remedies known for any form of these troubles, and will certainly relieve the sufferer. They are purely vegetable, made from the best drugs by competent hands, and give satisfaction. They are very gentle in their action, causing no gripping or unpleasant feeling in the bowels, and their use is not restricted to those troubled with biliousness that Wright's Indian Vegetable Pills is the medicine he needs.
