Outcast London.

Much excitement has been made by reports recently published on the vile condition of the slums of London. In one cellar was found a family consisting of a man sick with small pex, his dying wife, three half-naked and dirty children and one pig. In some paris there is one gin mill to every hundred persons. What defilement! Yet corresponding impurities often defile the human blood. They can be east out by Brown's Iron Bitters, the great strength-ener and purifier. Mr. B. J. Strange, of Stark Lake, Florida, says, "Brown's Iron Bitters is the best blood purifier I ever tried. It gives all the satisfaction a man can want."

One of the strongest proofs of the value of Kidney-Wort as a remedy for all diseases of the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels, is the fact that this used and prescribed by "regular" physicians. Philip C. Ballou, M.D., of Monkton, Vt., says: "Take it all in all, it is the most successful remedy I

A cable car having a succession of arge and small wheels inside the car over which the cable masses, thus dispensing with the gr p and much of the cable wear, has been invented by a San Franciscan.

A new method of dressing wounds, by which their healing is said to be hastened, and the pain made to disappear at once consists in the application of compresses wet with a decoction of thirty parts of valerian root in 1,000 parts water.

Jules Garnier has designed an elevated railway for the City of Paris, which is to be completed in time for the exposition of 1889. It will be about eighteen miles long and will cost $10,000,000. The structure will be composed of two tracks one above the other, on an iron frame. The trains will be composed of three American cars each,

Prof. Brewer, of New Haven, has reported the results of a number of experiments on the results of soaking green wood of various kinds in cold water, and thus removing the albuminoid matters. That green lumber contains something which greatly favors its decay, and which may be removed by long continued soaking in water, was well known many years, ago, and gave rise to the process of and kept immersed for six months to a year, when they were raised, piled in the air and thoroughly dried. Flooring lumber thus treated is little liable to decay, for the simple reason that it contains little or nothing that breakdown of nerve force. His case is fit for the food of the micro organisms that cause decay.

Minuis Haden, a worthy colored a like result. - The Sunday Herald. blacksmith of Montgomery, Va., has lately invented a piece of very simple machinery by which the striking hammer is easily and effectively worked by his foot, while he has both hands free to held his iron and use the small hammer, To a listener the blows come as naturally and as rapidly as if there were two men handling the hammers in the old-fashioned way, but there is a difference. The machine, by an easy motion of the foot on the treadle, strikes a harder blow than any man can strike, and can be made, at will, to strike as light a blow as may be needed. But the use of this simple and cheap device in the blacksmith's shop is not half. It can be just as easily used, and will find a large field of usefulness, in driving a drill for blasting rock.

The Windward Islands.

An effort, which has been only partially successful, has recently been made by the colonial office to improve Windward islands. These are five in number, consisting of Barbadoes, Granada, St. Lucia, St. Vincent, and Tobago, forming a fringe of settlements bordering the eastern end of the Carribean sea in the West Indies, The five islands have hitherto been under one governor, Sir William Robinson, who has resided at Barbadoes, but that island alone has enjoyed a representative legislation. It appears that the inhabitants of Barbadoes are are more advanced than those of the now been made quite separate. A scheme was also made by the colonial office for the federation of the other islands, with one legislature and government. The main object of the proposed union was an assimilation of the laws and tariffs of the four islands with a view to the promotion of freer commercial intercourse between them and for their educational and general advancement. The part of the scheme which has been carried out in the adm nistrative union of the islands under one governor, but the opposition to legislative confederation has in each case been so strong that this object has at present been abandoned. It is difficult to gather from the papers contained in the Blue Book just issued upon these questions the whole of the grounds upon which the plan of confederation has been thwarted. Generally they appear to be mutual jealousies between the people of the various islands, fears of increased taxation, the recent depression in the staple industry-that of sugar growing-and a desire for complete self government. The proceedings at the various meetings at which the scheme of the colonial office has been opposed do not in all cases afford much evidence of enlightenment and self-control, and certainly they show a want of appreciation of the advantages which it has been the desire of the colonial office to bestow upon the islanders. The entire group of the Windward islands has an area of about eight hundred miles -rather more than one-teuth of that of Wales

Home Study. The writer of a letter published in the London Times objects to home study in the evening for tired school children, and adds: "Whenever schools shall be worked upon true principles, and not the tongue and memory only receive nearly all the training, but hand, and eye, and ear, and judgment, and feeling, and nervous vigor all receive their due share, and the immeasurable distinction is imperatively made between those who are merely teachers and those who are born and bred educationists—then school will be the happiest place in the world, and there will be growing up a race attractive in form and feature, skillful in art, full of energy for work-day employment, true and sympathetic in judgment, well informed in necessary knowledge, and with almost unlimited capacity and will for receiving more, and with a taste, almost ideal in its purity, that shall extend from the lowest things of life to the highest. Overpressure then will never be spoken of.'

A Daily Defalcation.

The Hon. John Kelly, the head and front of Tammany Hail, a man of strict integrity, an indefatigable worker, early at his office, late to leave, so burdened with business that regular meals were seldom known by him, with mind in constant tension and energies steadily trained, finally broke down!

The wonder is that he did not sooner give way. An honest man in all things else, he acted unfairly with his physical resources. He was ever drawing upon this bank without ever despositing a collateral. The account overdrawn, the bank suspends and both are now in the hands of medical receivers.

It is not work that kills men. It is irregularity of habits and mental worry. No man in good health frets at his work. Bye and bye when the bank of vigor suspends, these men will wonder how it all happened, and they will keep wondering until their dying day unless, perchance, some candid physician or interested friend will point out to them how by irregularity, by excessive mental effort, by constant worry and fret, by plunging in deeper than they had a right to go, they have produced that loss of nervous energy which almost invariably expresses it self in a deranged condition of the kidnevs and liver, for it is a well-known fact that the poison which the kidney and liver should remove from the blood, if left therein, soon knocks the life out of the strongest and most vigorous man or woman. Daily building up of these vital organs by so wonderwater seasoning, in which the planks dul and highly reputed a specific were sunk in large bodies of water as Warner's safe cure, is the only guarantee that our business men can have that their strength will be equal to the labors daily put upon them. Mr. Kelly has nervous dyspepsia, we learn, indicating, as we have said, a should be a warning to others who, pursning a like course, will certainly reach

Puzzled Lambs.

It is said that so acute is the sheep's sense of hearing that she can distinguish the cry of her own lamb among a thousand others, all bleating at the same time; and the lamb is able to rec ognize its mother's voice, even though it be in the midst of a large flock. James Hogg, who was a shepherd as well as a poet, tells that it is very amusing to watch the sheep and lambs durcolonies, and their administration has | ing the shearing season. While the sheep were being shorn the lambs would be put into a fold by themselves, and the former be sent to join their little ones as soon as the operation of shearing was over. The moment a lamb would hear its mother's voice it would hasten from the crowd to meet her. Instead of finding the "rough, well-clad mamma" which it had left a short time before, it would meet a strange and most deplorable loaking creature. At the sight of this it would wheel about, uttering a most piteous ery of despair. Soon, however, the sheep's voice was heard again, the lamb would thereupon return, and sometimes repeat this conduct for ten or a dozen times before it fully understood that the shorn ewe was in reality its mother. - Northwestern Christian Advo-
