John Burns, of La Grande, is hav ing quite a time in getting out of jail and the prosecuting parties are havin; an equally hard task keeping him there. It seems there is considerabl spite work in the matter, and the end is not yet.

It is runnored that a certain Portland firm furnished blanks for the new registry law, and the "blanks" meetin. he approval of the members of th legi-lature, have had them copyrighted Business is business, and if the firm can compel the use of these blanks to he exclusion of all others, it will real a golden harvest.

Habeas-corpus cases, before Judge Craig, are of frequent occurrence. Th Judge will, if he can retain the amoun of legal lore blown into his ears o late, become an undisputed authority on that special subject, and we may expect to see a book on the subject soon, under the title of "What I know about freeing the body."

It is reported that the Northwestern railroad, building west. will tap the he case, but on the next day when Malheur country, pass over the Cacade range of mountains and mak Yaquina Bay the objective point on the Facific coast. This road will tay the great stock countries north of the Union Pacific, which is now without railroad facilities:

The exercises at Wright's hall, on, Christmas eve., we are sorry to say was without a management, or if there was a proper committee of arrangements, they sadly neglected to perform, at least a part of their duty. No one seemed to have charge of the evening exercices, or if they did, did not seem to understand their duty. one depending upon the other to take the lead, hence people became weary of waiting for the exercises to begin, having waited at least an hour after the time the opening should have begun. The hall was not properly seated and everything seemed in a state of confusion. So far as the arrangement was concerned, it was about the worst jum ded up affair we ever knew on such an occasion. However, after the exercises did begin, they were very good. The music by the String Band was good. The Christmas Chime was well rendeced, as was the singling by the little folks. The trees were well ladened with gifts, and mesented a very handsome appearance under the lighted lamps. We learn that quite a number of presents were iost, owing to their not having been property relabled. The little ones, of ourse, were delighted with their presents, and enjoyed that part of the programme much better than they did the numerossnay waiting. It would be setter if parties having charge of Caristmas frees, etc., hereafter, to ove a systematic plan, and carry it out promptly. The luuch basket sale, after the gifts were distaibuted, met with tolrably fair success, the baskets all being disposed of at fair prices, There -centred to be some misuraderstanding among the citizens as to just how the dfur was to be conducted, but we resume every objection was fairly met and explained. It was a some-what novel method in this place, but he people will understadd it better ext tinte,

There was a private Christmas tree at the residence of Mr. W. T. Wright. where a few invitations were issued. and the participants entertained in a most sgreeable manner.

Mal casance.

Justice Henry Dray of La Grands precinct was arrested and brought over to Union to be fried on a charge of multeasance in office. Several nonths ago a Chinaman was arrested for committing highway robbery on one of his countryment. The China-nan was lodged in juil in Union, bu was subsequently taken out on a wriof hibeas corpus, but was rearrested. This time he was discharged, as the leputy prosecuting attorney thought the complaint was not sufficient to iold him. He, however, was imnediately arrested for the third time and taken before Justice Dray : before whom he had been arraigned twice efore, who this time told his (La) Fou's) bondsmen that if they would settle the costs, he (Dray) would les tah Foo go; and asking on that day for the suif of $62.30; the costs in

A Reply.

EDITOR SCOUT :-- I ask space in your valuable paper once more for the parpose of referring your readers to roma misstatements of facts, made by Mr Outhouse, in his letter entitled "Replication," published in the Sentinel. He seems to have intended that article as a reply to my communication of two weeks ago, but instead of attempting to sustain the charges he makes against me in his report' he seizes the opportunity of putting in print what he has heretofore published orally concerning his application to me for a deputyship in the clerk's office,

Mr. Outhouse's sellish motives and political methods are so well known in this county, that it is unnecessary for me to refer to what seems to be his motives in his references to me. He says in his "Replication" that he has not always been the personal enemy of the Democratic encumbent of the lerk's office. I think the people of his county understand his relations with most of the clerks of Democratic proclivities, so I leave the people to judge as to the correctness of his statements in this respect. He says he seenred the nomination of Mr. Cates, This is an assumption that well befits the character of the expert.

He says I told him he secured my nomination. This is not true. I understood then as I understand now, that the great object sought to be accomt lished by the Democratic County Convention of 1884, was to harmonize he conflicting elements existing in the party. The ticket nominated was he result of the deliberations and concilatory efforts of the convention. Ho says that I promised him the deputyship, that I said he suited me as a leputy, that I said he deserved the place, that I would give him all the work I could not do myself. All of which assertions are absolutely and wholly untrue, and which he knew to be untrue when he penned them, just as he knew his charges respecting the legality of fees charged by me as clerk, were untrue.

After the election of 1884, Mr. Outs house told me that he expected to get a position under Mr. Saunders in the theriff's office, that such a position woull not require all his time, and asked me to give him work to do from the clerk's office. I told him that when there was extra work in the clerk's office to be done he should haye it.

In a few days afterwards he informed me that he could not get the position he expected finder Mr. Saunders, and again asked for work in the clerk' office. I stated to him that when I had extra work he could have it. Dus ring these conversations his being appointed deputy was not spoken of by either of us, nor thought of by men iouschold. Economy, the watchword for Neither was there unything said what compensation he should received After constant denials during the canis paign that there was an arrangement by which he was to be appointed deput ty in case of my election, I had no idea that he would ask or desire to be appointed deputy. It was generally understood that if the report that such an artangement had been made, gained credence, I would be beaten. Hence the denials, and the conclusion that he would not solicit the deputy-filp. I saw Mr. Outhouse next at his house at Union, be having left word in town that he desired to see me. At that time he informed me that he def -ired to be appointed deputy. 1 told him I had spoken to another person to act as my deputy, and did not think I could appoint him at that time; He insisted on my considering this matter and letting him know, which I did, at the same time telling him that when I had extra work to be done he should have it. He gave me no opportunity of fulfilling my promise! The foregoing statement of this trans action is true, and Mr. Outhouse can! not truthfully deny it. He further says that I am a small had egg. Why does he think so? Be cause I did not appoint him deputy! He has no other reason for saving this He asks me to produce the law and the decisions of the courts authorizin, the clerk to count each name with the figures opposite on an assessment fol or tax list, a folio. I refer your readers to the letter of Judge Balleray, pr Judge Craig, which was published in your last issue.

o Justice Dray, at La Grande, to sharge the Chinaman $20 more, before releasing him? Did he get a part of the extra $10 extorted?

Miss Barbara Neheimier, of Newark, N. J., arrived in this city last Monday, on a visit to Miss Lizzie Miller, who is an old schoolmate and friend of hers. She will probably remain here permanently.

John T. Wright received another lot of that "Head Light" coal oil, direct from Chicago, this week. It is the finest oil ever in the town. Try it, and be convinced that there is a difftrence between good and bad oil.

The "Weekly World," published at Portland, Or., by A. Noltner, made its appearance yesterday. It is an eightpage six-column paper, of the pure ype of democratic proclivitles, is neatly and clearly printed. We wish it Success.

The reason that our fellow townsman Alex Jones, left Baker City in such a hurry, is not that he had been doing anything bad. He only got a "small care" on him and concluded Baker City was no place for him just at present. That's right Alex.

Some of the boys who sent to T. N. Dunbar, of Portland, for costumes for the mask carnival, got badly bilked. He advertises costumes to rent, and upon receipt of an order, gathers up a lot of refuse rags and sends them but, C. O, D., charging $2 and $3, rent per stilt, judging from the bundle of lags he sent up here a few days ago.

Judge Ofnistead passed up the road ast Monday, on his way to Canyon Pity, in order to spend the holidays at nome. After holidays he will return to Pendleton to begin the first term of ourt under the new law. We understand the manner of his round has een changed, beginning at Pendleon, then Union, Baker, and finishing at Canvon City.

Two lawyers, one from La Grande, ne other a resident of Union, had some wrathy words the other day, when the oan from over the way intimated that would be an honor to shoot the deiple of Lycurgus of this town. The centleman from here intimated that he should feel it an honor to be shot by the gentleman from the "Hub" Neither party are dead yet, but we mell gun powser, and scent the batfle from afar off.

When Prof- Oliver, principal of our public school, extends his open arms, nd invites any pugifistic element to tome and be embraced, the said element respectfully declines. Why, blees you, gentlemen, that Prof. can encirele the whole of Union county with Congressman Herman, of this State will likely be appointed on the committee of Harbors and Rivers. He ha been determined to get on this com mittee, and although the Californi, deligation hold out for Markham. Her man has succeeded by his political hrewdness, of getting a probable with drawing of Markham, by the Califor nia delegation.

Gov. Moody has appointed Hon. W Lari Hill, of The Dalles, Wasco coun ty. Judge of the new judicial district comprising the counties of Crook. Gil hani, Morrow and Wasco. William R Ellis, of Morrow county, was appointed Prossecuting Attorney for the same district. These appointees will hold their respective offices tintil the du lected and qualified parties after the next general election.

At the raffle at McFarren's jewelry store, for the different articles, the fol lowing were the winners: John War ren, ladies, gold watch and chain Vince Reaves, pickle castor; C. W Lenhart, gents' gold ring; Dr. Deering Lidies' gold ring; F. S. Johnson, alarm clock; Wm. Warren, watch charm Frank Haynes, collar button and scarl pin; P. B. Wilson, napkin ring Lon Eaton, pair cuif buttons.

I. N. Hibbs, the defaulting postmaster. at Lewiston, I. T., is havin quite a time. He has been acquitted on four out of the eight charges against him, but others are ready, and if h gets away with the other four charges he will probably be held to answe others. If he goes sout free, we would advise those officials who contemplate licing the government, to get a good lice while they are at it. There is nothing in robbing the government.

The debate at the court house, on last Monday night, was not as good as it should have been. The question was a good one, and if it had been properly handled by the debators. would undoubtedly have been interesting. As it was, the subject was scarcely touched by either side. There is good material connected with the Literary Society, but the absence of preparation upon the subject was too noticeable. Debaters should take more time to inform themselves, and not trust to lifek, of making an argument upon the spur of the moment. Few men can do this, and they are nien who keep themselves informed upon every subject, and of course can readhis arms, cross them ever, and cover by draw upon their vast stock for supmatilla county with one hand and plies, almost at any time, and do reathe sun from Baker county with sonably w.R. Give more attention to the state when you Turn Oliver all your subjects and your debates will be the your your subjects and your debates will be they on your subjects and your debates will be they on your subjects and your debates will be more beneficial to your class.

ah Foo's boudsman went to settle he costs, the Justice asked him to pay $20 more, stating that a man from Utiton had written him (Dray) a note telling him to charge $20 more The matter, however, was compro-nised between the bond-men and the lustice, whereby the Justice should knock off $10 of the costs; and the Chinamen should pay $72.30, which they did, got some kind of a receipt und Lah Foo was discharged from sustody. What became of the charge under which he was held, if legally ield, or even held at all, we have to idea, but in cases where persons are charged with highway robbery. we always supposed that the Justice ield them to answer before the next erm of the circuit court. The charge, however, is mulfeasance in office, and that It was done knowingy and wilfully. It is said also that this sort of thing lias been done by this same man Dray, as Justice, a number of times, being perpetrated mon persons whom he knew could tot or would not retaljute. Certainy. the whole thing bears a unsavory mell of justice, both for Justice Dray and some of his court followers, and xpressions of that kind are freely inhilged in, and that certain other paries are somewhat tainted from the same travaction. It seems that Jusice Dray's court has been anything jut a court of fustice, and that any ierson who was so unfortunate as to e arraigned before it, was as likely to be held far nothing as gavway, essecially if his adviter noded his head. Larre scents to be a clique about that court, and there are some developments which will probably he brought to light that will reveal the true in-wordness of the "trio." Any perwardness of the "trio." Any perand especially one whose duty it is to administer fastice to both friend and for alike, becomes, so contemptible that language fails to express the vileness of the being.
