UNION, OREGON, SAT. JULY 10, 1886.

TO ADVERTISERS.

The SCOUT has a much larger circulation than any paper published in this county, and is therefore the BEST ADVERTISING MEDIUM. This is a True Statement, and we shall not be at all questioned by our small number of advertisers. Advertisers will do well to make a note of this.

Local and General.

SHOOTING IN INDIAN VALLEY.—It will be remembered by our readers that we chronicled the particulars of a scene that occurred in Indian Valley, about a month ago, between Wm. Bennett, the district road supervisor and a man by the name of Legore, in which the former while lying on his back on the ground was assaulted and kicked in the face in a shocking manner by the latter. The difficulty between the two men culminated last Monday by the killing of Legore by Bennett. The particulars as near as we can learn are as follows: Legore and his wife, seated in a wagon, were driving home from his mother's, and when passing by Bennett's house, about 6 o'clock in the afternoon, Mr. Legore alighted and Bennett approached the wagon with a gun in his hands, and seeing that it was his intention to shoot, tried to get down, but she husband in the meantime attempting to drop into the wagon box, but before he succeeded in doing so Bennett fired the ball striking Legore in the upper portion of the right breast, causing blood to come out and coming out at the back. Legore fell in the wagon box, but after a while was carried to the house nearby, where he died four hours later, being conscious up to the time of his death. Bennett immediately notified the sheriff and taken before the justice at Summerville, and waiting examination, was committed without bond to appear before the grand jury, and was immediately brought to Union and lodged in the county jail. He talked freely on the subject of the shooting, and seems to take the matter rather coolly. The people of that section were terribly excited over the affair, and doubtless would have made short work of Bennett had they not held him. Evidently there may be two sides to the question. If so, they will develop themselves in time. At present the above is all the information we have been able to gather in regard to the matter.

A WOODEN LAKE.—Recently we visit the Hot Lake, which is situated about six miles north-west of this city, at the base of a high range of mountains. To say that the water is "hot" hardly does justice to it. It comes boiling from the earth, and forms a lake several hundred yards in circumference, highly impregnated with mineral of various kinds, and possessing medicinal and healing properties to a remarkable degree, as is you-just-for by many who have tested it. Mr. Nechard and wife, proprietors of the place, keep a small but neat and comfortable hotel where those who desire to stay while enjoying the curative properties of the water, can be accommodated. Hot, cold and mud baths are furnished on application, and no pains are spared to make the guests comfortable; but all this however, is on a small scale. We venture to predict that before many years, magnificent hotels will be erected at this place, surrounded by tastefully arranged pleasure grounds and hundreds of invalids from other states, lured by judicious advertisements, will flock thither in search of health and strength, and will not be disappointed in their search. This spring is certainly a wonderful freak of nature, and in time will acquire an almost national reputation.

A NATURAL OBSCURER.—Dr. Biggers, as everyone knows, has very decided opinions on political matters, and does not hesitate occasionally, when his verbal arguments fail to convince, to put them in straight from the shoulder. One day this week he got into a controversy with a grand army man on the origin of the rebellion, which resulted in several chairs and articles of furniture being demolished. "Ready work" stored, however, and a few hours later Billy Wilson, who was very busy at the time, got the grand army man to go down to his residence and get a gun that he wanted. The doctor, at the time was seated in front of the General Hotel, telling one of his best stories to a lot of friends, when he discovered the grand army man coming up the street with a gun in his hands. He wasn't slow in drawing his own conclusions and cutting the story short, he lit out of that in a hurry, and was immediately followed by the doctor, in a necessarily hurried manner up of the matter, was probably not enough, but the boys have lots of fun at his expense, all the same.

THE SALVATION ARMY.—This "army" struck Union on the 3rd inst. It consisted of Major General Boyles, Colonel Boyles, and one female, high private. After reconnoitering and skirishing around considerably, the "army" took up its quarters at the hotel of Rev. Booth, and proceeded to lay on its arms preparatory to the morning's fight. Each member of the "army" wore placard in separate rooms by the hotel, and accompanied him, and everything was quiet along the Potomac till about in the early hours of the morning, when the reveille was sounded, and the landlord was rousing everybody from their slumbers in partake of their morning refreshments. He then discovered that the "army" had consolidated during the night and were all resting in the same bed. It is needless to say that the late landlord makes a blank movement on the "army" and that it evacuated its position suddenly. Shortly afterwards it withdrew from the city, and we escaped a most annoying siege. May its march be unimpeded till it gets entirely out of the country.

NEW STAGE LINE.—A stage line of four-horse coaches is to be put on between this city and Cornucopia, by Jack Vincent, commencing next Monday. Stages will leave here every Monday, Wednesday, and Friday, and return every Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday. Several changes of horses will be made, and the trip across plied in one day. This will be a great convenience to travelers, and doubtless nearly all the travel to and from the Pine Creek mines will pass over this route. It is a cool and pleasant road to travel, instead of hot and barren plains and hills. The traveler is delighted with cool and refreshing streams, waving forests and magnificent landscapes, the entire distance. During the winter months it will be the only practicable route, as it will be fully demonstrated. Should the travel demand it, trips will be made daily. See advertisement next week.

LIABLE TO BE MISUNDERSTOOD.—The Wallowa Chief advises the citizens of Joseph as follows: "Those people in town who have poles leaning against their houses, are drying for firewood should remove the same, as it is hard to convince the visitors to this place but that those poles are leaning up there to prevent the houses from being blown over by tornadoes and cyclones. You know that is how they have to do in the East, and it is hard to convince persons in this country when they have been raised that way."

BASE BALL CONTENT.—Following is the score in the match game played by the Baker City and La Grande clubs. In this city on the 5th: La Grande, Vanderar, 3; Shaw, 0; Slater, 2; Williams, 3; Candlish, 3; Deacon, 1; McManus, 1; Stevens, 2; Gilkinson, 1; total, 16. Baker City, Beas, 4; Marlen, 5; Fairburn, 5; W. Bowers, 3; Tichenor, 5; Smith, 3; Knighten, 2; H. Bowers, 4; total, 53.

Brief Bulletins.

Buy your goods at Levy's. New goods just received at Saunders'. News items very scarce since the celebration.

Take your girl out riding in one of Elliotts elegant turnouts. The Chief train man got a very good "scoop" on his paper last week.

One quart fruit cans $1.25 per dozen, at L. Wright's tin shop.

Henry Ward Beecher is now stirring up the old fossils in London.

The Idaho M. E. Conference convenes in this city on the 25th inst.

Stockmen of the Wallowa have sold a great many cattle this year.

Wm. Barnes, the young man who recently shot himself, will recover.

The cheapest place to get Mason's fruit jars is at Jos. Wright's tin shop.

The trail leading from Joseph to Cornucopia will be completed in a few days.

County clerk Nell has appointed Tanner Oliver, deputy. A good appointment.

The Pine Creek road will be the favorite route for pleasure excursions hereafter.

The Jolly Partisans will probably visit Union again, sometime in next month.

Soda water, champagne, cider, etc., etc., at Kentucky Liquor Store, wholesale or retail.

Eighteen thousand dollars will be paid to sheep shearers in Union county this year.

During several days of this week the thermometer indicated one hundred in the shade.

The Baker City Revue came to us last week, colored and greatly improved in appearance.

We acknowledge a pleasant call yesterday, from Geo. B. Small and Harry Bowen, of Baker City.

The man with the doll racket, snipped in the shingles at a lively rate in this city during the celebration.

Preserve yourself from the inevitable gun reminder, by paying your Cove drug store account at once.

The Baker City Baseball Club claims to be champion of the northwest, and is open to challenge from any club.

Any deficiencies in this issue of the Scout may be attributed to undue industry indulged in on the glorious 5th.

Mr. S. Washburn, of this city, has been allowed a patent on his new boot faster. He thinks there is "millions in it."

Bell & Gilman have opened an extensive paint shop on the corner of Main and A streets. They are excellent painters.

The Idaho insane patients who have been kept at Salem were moved to the new Territorial asylum in Idaho a few days ago.

The base ball fever has abated somewhat, and now the average young man puts in his time playing croquet with the girls.

The ladies on the Fourth-of-July dinner committee deserve great credit for the manner in which the same was gotten up and served.

We hear nothing more of the "contest," and as the new officers are in possession we presume the whole business has been dropped.

E. L. Bristol, of Salem, has been appointed State agent for the Indian war veterans, and he will receive the reports of the various camps.

Several parties who were rather too demonstrative on the occasion of the celebration last Monday, were quietly gathered in by the marshall.

P. H. Murray, of La Grande, has paid $500.75 for the privilege of running a saloon on the Union County Agricultural Society's grounds during fair week.

Saunders has just received, from the East, a large assortment of men and boys' shoes, which will sell at the extremely low price of from $1 to $2 a pair.

Haying will soon commence, and farmers will be in need of oil for their mowers. John Wright, the druggist, of this city, carries a fine line of interesting oils.

Farmers should look to their own interest and buy their farm machinery of Frank Bell, Employment Co., Island City. They keep every machine used by the farmer.

Summerville has a most excellent "corner band." The music of this band was highly appreciated by the vast concourse of people that were assembled here at the celebration.

Any person within the state of Oregon may now "hunt, pursue, take, kill or destroy any male deer or buck" without being liable to any penalty. The grouse, pheasant, quail and partridge season will begin on the 15th inst.

The cash in the county treasury, at the present time, amounts up to $30,000, which will materially lessen the indebtedness. Warrants to the amount of several thousand dollars have been advertised for, but as yet, very few of them have been presented for payment.

Prof. Pearson showed us a piece of almost solid gold quartz, on Monday, which he found near the head of the lake. This was a piece of float, but he has since found the main ledge, and if it comes up one-tenth as good as the piece of float, the Prof. has a "million in a mine."—Chickland.

During the last few days marriage licenses have been issued to the following named parties, and we presume they have all been made happy ere this: G. E. Smith and Minnie H. Slack; J. M. Folly and Theresa Gauszoff; M. M. Sayre and Belle Waud; A. L. McAdams and Laura B. Davis; F. C. Shevlin and Minnie Scott.

"The Union Scout is now a three-year-old, and looks stout as a mule."—Baker Sage Brush. Blamed if we know whether to take the above as a compliment or not. Don't like the style of animal brother "Sheep" mentions to convey an idea of our strength. Would have been better pleased if he had likened us to an elephant.

Upon the streets of Chney the other day was seen a woman with three children, who had walked all the way from Okanagan to that place, a child three months old in her arms, and a little boy carrying a bundle of blankets. The other child was a girl five or six years old. She was on her way to Portland, she said. Money was offered her but she would not accept it.

A number of mercantile firms and representative men of Walla Walla, state that the grain crops of Eastern Washington will not exceed one-half of last year's yield, and that unless the rates of freight to Portland, or the price of sacks be speedily reduced, much of the wheat crops will not be harvested this year, as it will not pay the producer and they fear financial distress in consequence.

Billiard table for sale cheap. Enquire at this office.

Extremely warm weather.

Farmers busy, and times rather dull. Caldwell, Idaho, has a live stock menagerie.

Yug can get Pat. Ice Cream Freezers at Jos. Wright's tin shop.

Get your bedroom sets, lounges, mattresses, etc., at Howard & Lloyd's.

A surprise party was given Mr. Frank Wilson, by the young people of this city, on Thursday evening last.

Hall Bros. have placed a large sign in front of their place of business, which adds greatly to its appearance.

Joe Reeves who has been working for the state at Salem, for several years past, returned to this city a few days ago.

Our nine are enthusiastic in their praise of the Unionites and the kind treatment received from them.—Sage Brush.

Most of our correspondents failed to put in an appearance this week. Too much 5th of July, we presume. We miss them greatly.

The festive drummer seems to be getting more numerous every day. It is a lamented fact that some of them ever get stuck.

The Baker Sage Brush covers exultantly an account of the victory achieved by the football club of this city, over the La Grande nine, in this city, on the 4th.

A herd of 5,000 nose sheep were driven into the valley this week. The past three years' experience has proven that the Wallowa is a excellent sheep range, and in the next three years will feed 100,000 sheep at the Wallowa range.—Chickland.

W. W. Saunders, the murderer of Camp Bell in Albany, was found guilty of murder in the first degree on Monday last. That night he made his escape from the jail, and great excitement prevails in consequence. One thousand dollars is offered for his arrest.

The new county officers assigned their official duties last Wednesday. Most of them take to it as naturally as ducks take to water. We believe the people of the county may congratulate themselves upon having a good and competent set of officers for the next two years.

Boys.—In this city, July 10th, to the wife of L. A. Roskowitz, a daughter.

For Sale.—1000 acres of land, all in one block. Also a block in Union, by Bell & Tuttle.

Notice.—The general committee on celebration will meet Monday night at 8 o'clock at the court house. All parties having bills against the same are requested to bring them to A. Levy or Frank Hall. By order of A. L. Saunders, President.

Advertiser.—This office is indebted to Miss Chandler, of the Continental hotel, for the present of several slices of delicious cake from the ball supper. Tokens of friendship of this character are highly appreciated by us, and the donor will please accept our sincere thanks.

Enlightenment.—Last Monday, while the family of Uncle Miles Beard was attending the celebration, their dwelling house in North Union was broken into and some money, a watch, a revolver and several other articles of value taken therefrom. No clue to the robber has as yet been obtained. Everybody should keep a sharp lookout on their premises, as the country is infested with tramps who would not hesitate at robbery if they had a chance.

The Pine Creek Mines.

The Denver Republican of June 23rd, contains the following letter:

CORNUCOPIA, Oregon, June 18.

Being a citizen and resident of Denver and a constant reader of the Tribune-Republican since the consolidation of the two papers, I beg you to grant me a short space in your valuable paper to enable me to introduce to the notice of some of your mining subscribers the location and richness of the newly discovered mining district out here in Oregon.

The place in question is known as the Pine Creek country, the town is Cornucopia, in Union county, and is situated about fifty miles north-east of Baker City, and the district stretches out to Snake river on the western boundary of Idaho territory, the nearest railroad point is the town of Union, on the O. R. & N. railroad.

The rich deposits of gold and silver ore were only discovered last summer, but even that length of time should have given us some notice from the outside world, especially when it is taken into consideration the quality and quantity of the minerals; but for some unexplained reason there seems to be rather a skeptical opinion of this new district, in the minds of most of Oregon's alleged capitalists.

And now I wish to solicit, through the medium of your paper, the attention of some of Colorado's solid men to this unworked region, and I trust from the fact that I am pretty well known to the mining fraternity in Colorado and the Southern territories that my statements will be taken as bona fide, being well aware that any exaggeration would only tend to injure instead of benefit our camp.

I feel perfectly justified in asserting that with the exception of the Leadville excitement, (I might state that I have been to not a few mining booms), there is more real encouragement for capital to invest on a safe basis than any place I have ever been to. The ore is of a quartz character and generally found between granite and a kind of black or lime slate rock; the quartz in places shows up considerably decomposed and carries black sulphurite, galena, native silver and considerable free gold; the principal drawback is that none of the ledges have developed yet to a true testing depth, and some of the best properties are owned by poor men and principally by men that don't seem to have had much experience in mining. One visit from a competent and practical mining man, will demonstrate that this camp is almost wholly ignored by capital.

I am not attempting to get up a boom, as I assure you we don't want one, and I am not employed to write this by business men or a railroad; and I wish to say, for the benefit of the laboring class, that it would be madness for anyone to come here with the hope of getting employment, at least until some of the prospects here change hands, as there is an influx of labor now; also a plenty of business houses for the present. I am only writing this for the benefit of men who wish to invest in mining property. I am, respectfully,

J. E. JOHNSON.

Cornucopia, Union county, Oregon.

Cove Cullings.

Eddie Holmbs has forsaken the mill life, at Island city, and become an honest granger in Cove.

Miss Madeline Brooks, of Denver, a highly accomplished musician, has accepted the position of instructor of music in the Ascension school.

Haying has commenced on all sides, and the yield will be much better than was expected a month ago. Many fields will turn off the usual supply.

A. R. Robinson has purchased two lots in the grove near the mill, and will build a fine dwelling. A more beautiful site for a residence can not be found in the valley.

Mr. Stierhofer is building the first place and chimneys at Mitchell's new residence. Mr. S. warrants all work in this line, which he performs, to have perfect draught, or to pay, and is open for engagements in any part of the county.

The balloon ascension, Saturday, was witnessed by a large crowd. It was a success in every particular, excepting the proposed ascent by Prof. Hackett. When the time came for bidding his girl farewell, his heart failed him and he concluded to remain faithful to old mother earth.

A local nine, whose excellent work and progress to work, render them unfit for more useful avocations, in training and will challenge the La Grande Base-ball club for a contest. The biggest bruiser in the Cove nine is practicing the maul art and will be prepared for "Jack" if he strikes the water with the ball—a Baker.

A well known citizen was shot and seriously injured, by a stranger, Wednesday afternoon. On being arrested the criminal showed no resistance, and when brought before a magistrate it was shown that the citizen had said to the prisoner, "Is this hot enough or you?" or words of similar import. The release of the would-be assassin was at once ordered.

McL. Campbell, of Atlanta, Idaho has made extensive purchases in Cove, securing a one-half interest in the flouring mill, and the entire farm of A. R. Robinson. Price paid for latter about $6,500. Mr. Campbell expects to become a resident of Cove, this fall and will be a very desirable addition to the solid men of the county. He also contemplates the opening of a general merchandise store in this town.

An unruly cart and a poor driver was the cause of my slight accident—Jo. My new rig is the finest in the county, and will be dedicated to the pleasure of handsome young ladies.

S. Where is the girl, comparable with—E. It is a mistake. Two glasses of lemonade was my sole liquid refreshment in Union, Monday.—M. Experienced a jolly time celebrating in Portland, but the best part of it was the comamulibistic repose on eaching home.—B. If Cove and La Grande had pitched into it, Queensry rules, wonder who would have carried the broom.—A. Did you see me and my best girl, at Union, on the 5th.—S. If to the brave is awarded the fair, R will get a darkey.—C.

Park Pickings.

July 7, 1886.

Mr. Wm. Martin purchased, last week, a very fine organ of the "Earl" manufacture.

All getting married but me. Park to be front with an elopement! May success and happiness attend them.

The great American eagle that was cased on Big Creek, after closer examination proved to be a buzzard.

A large delegation of the Park people attended the celebration at Union, on the 5th, and all returned feeling that they had been well repaid for their 5th.

The Park Pickings will be somewhat dim this week owing to the fact that the writer attended the celebration at Union and had a ten-cent spree. Very dissipation and fast living will act with telling effect on the best of us.

Wild Cherry and Tar.

Everybody knows the virtues of Wild Cherry and Tar as a relief and cure for any affections of the Throat and Lungs, combined with these two ingredients are a few simple, healing remedies in the composition of Dr. Bosanck's Cough and Lung Syrup making it just the article you should always have in the house for 10 cents. Colds, Croup and Bronchitis. Price 50 cents and $1. Samples free. Sold by J. T. Wright, Union, Oregon.

HANDSHING, Oregon.

Some three months ago I was attacked with a severe pain in my back. I bought a package of the OREGON KIDNEY TEA, and by the time I had used one-half of it was entirely relieved and have not been troubled since. I cheerfully recommend it to all who may be suffering from a lame or weak back, as a pleasant, safe and good remedy.

R. J. GIGGSBY.

The Fourth of July.

Notwithstanding the extremely unpleasant weather, a larger crowd than was ever before collected in Union county, assembled in this city, on Monday last, to celebrate the 10th anniversary of our independence. It was estimated that at least five thousand persons were present. The programme was carried out in a very creditable manner. At sunrise, a salute of thirteen guns was fired, and at 10 o'clock the procession formed at the court house and took up the line of march, headed by the Summerville and Union Cornet Bands, followed by the liberty car, which was tastefully arranged and presented a very beautiful appearance. Miss Vada Swacklamer represented the Goddess of Liberty, and Miss Ida Davis the Angel of Peace, and a levy of little girls represented the devoted Spies of the Union. Next followed a company of juvenile soldiers—boys from six to ten years of age, all dressed in bright uniforms, and carrying wooden guns. They kept good time, and showed the careful training to which they had been subjected by Mr. Al. Goodbrod. They were quite a prominent feature in the procession, and attracted much attention as they went along. These were followed by a long line of citizens seated in carriages and wagons. After parading the principal streets, the procession arrived at the grove adjoining own, which Mr. Fred Nodine had kindly permitted them to use for the occasion, and the forenoon was spent in listening to excellent music by the two bands, singing, by the choir, a splendid oration by Rev. Irwin, of La Grande, reading of the Declaration of Independence, by Mrs. Watson, and various exercises, after which the immense crowd gathered around the long lines of tables, and partook of a good and substantial dinner. Numerous refreshment stands, and two circular wings were on the grounds, and were liberally patronized by the young people, who seemed to enjoy themselves immensely. After dinner, the crowd repaired to the main street of own and witnessed the tournament, and feats of horsemanship, the prize or which, was contested for by several experienced and skillful young men. Then the base-ball contest, between the Baker City and La Grande clubs, took place, on the grounds adjoining own, and was witnessed by a large crowd of interested spectators. Contrary to the expectations of many, the La Grande club was badly defeated. At 5 o'clock the Plug Uglies made their appearance, and for an hour or so, kept everybody in an uproar. The harangues of the speaker and reader were full of wit and telling points. One feature of the Plug Uglies we must not forget to mention—the old nigger farmer and his wife and children who arrived in a cart drawn by two diminutive mules. They created lots of fun, and were "alone worth the money." At 8 o'clock, the display of fireworks was made, from the bridge crossing Catherine creek, lasting about an hour. It was beautiful, and was highly enjoyed by all. After the fireworks, the dance, at Wright's hall, commenced. This ball was one of the biggest and most enjoyable affair of the kind, that has ever taken place in this city. One hundred and sixty numbers were sold, and the immense hall was crowded with merry dancers and as jolly and sociable a crowd as could well be gotten together. Taking it all in all, the celebration was a grand success, and despite the very disagreeable weather during the fore part of the day, was, we believe, appreciated by all. If the people of Union failed in acts of courtesy and hospitality to any who were here that day, it was unintentional, and should be kindly overlooked, as it was their desire to make all visitors comfortable, and they hope, some day, to return the visit, when any of the neighboring towns see fit to celebrate. Hurrah for the Fourth of July.

There were 98 numbers sold at Elgin, July 3rd.

J. H. Rinehart will return from the East, about July 9th.

Born.—To the wife of S. L. McKenzie, July 1st, an eight pound boy.

John White and A. Terwilliger served as marshals at Elgin, the 3rd.

There was a social hop at the hotel in Summerville, Monday evening, July 5th.

Many of our citizens spent the 5th, at Union. All report having a pleasant time.

There is a very large mail coming in from La Grande to Summerville, on Monday. The accumulation of two days at La Grande.

At the race grounds at Elgin, July 3rd, the Shelton horse beat the Chaffin Bros horse a 100 yard dash for $75. Another horse belonging to the Shelton boys, succeeded in defeating the Weaver mare, for about $25.

The dead soldier at Elgin, on the night of July 3rd, was appropriately draped by his attending comrades, Harry P. says he don't object to serving as a "flag rack" or a "bouquet vase" but has decided objections to being completely "cocked."

The town was thrown into a furore of excitement, on Monday, by the report that Mr. Legore had been shot by William Bennett. The report proved only too true. The terrible crime has cast a deep shadow over our entire community, both men being well known and old residents of the county.

Mr. Rora McKenzie, our popular livery man, while returning from La Grande, last Monday evening, accompanied by his daughter, were thrown from their buggy, and somewhat injured, by their team becoming frightened and running away. The team was finally stopped, by Mr. Lee, about two miles from the spot where the buggy was overturned. The buggy sustained but little injury, one single tire being broken.

The Summerville Base-ball club played their first match game at Elgin, July 3rd, their opposing contestants being the Elk Flat club. The game was closely contested, the tally at the end of the eighth inning standing 12 to 12. On the last inning the Summerville club succeeded in making 11 tallies, which somewhat discouraged the Elk
