

The Oregon Scout.

UNION, OREGON, SAT. JULY 24, 1889.

TO ADVERTISERS.

The SCOUT has a much larger circulation than any paper in this section of the State, and is, therefore, the BEST ADVERTISING MEDIUM.

New Jersey has a good law which is aimed at the deceptive nursery agent. Our legislators could examine with profit. It provides that "any person selling fruit trees or fruit briars, who shall misrepresent the name or nature of said fruit trees or fruit briars, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $100, or imprisonment in the county jail for a term not exceeding three months, or both, at the discretion of the court."

The day is fast coming when land claimants will have to more nearly comply with the laws. Those who are in earnest about securing a home will after awhile take advantage of tardy claimants and indulge in the process of "jumping" claims that are taken by parties whose chief aim has been to scare people off. Land is becoming, or will soon become, scarce in this country, and people who expect to take and hold complete title to land here, will have to go about it in a business-like manner.

The defaulting county treasurer of Umatilla county, Mr. Hendryx, was elected three times, by the people, to that office, which would seem to imply that he was a pretty square sort of man; but now, since he is behind in his accounts some $19,000, the papers of Umatilla county say that it was generally known, all the time, that the treasurer was monkeying with the people's money, but they "supposed" it would be all right. This being the case, it would be a pretty good thing if the people had to lose the entire amount. It would teach them to vote for none but honest men. In regard to the watch and ward supposed to be kept over the books of the county officials by the Grand Jury, the Weston Leader very pertinently remarks: "The Grand Jury always examines the books of the sheriff, clerk and treasurer, and 'finds them kept in a neat, orderly manner,' etc., etc. But the case of Mr. Hendryx shows what their report is worth. The grand jury is a humbug."

ATTORNEY GENERAL HURD, of Indiana, recently visited Utah where he devoted some attention to the Mormon question. He thinks the present anti-polygamy laws serve only to solidify Mormon sentiment. All who are convicted or under indictment for unlawful cohabitation are looked upon as martyrs. He says the Mormon women are sincere believers in the alleged revelations of Joseph Smith, and they enter into polygamous matrimony as a religious act. The only way, he thinks, that Mormonism can ever be reached is to enact a law enabling a woman, who has been "sealed" to a Mormon, to recover a proportionate share in his possessions, and to obtain a divorce whenever she becomes dissatisfied. Then encourage a few adventuresses to go to Utah, become sealed to wealthy Mormons, and in a few weeks, as a purely business transaction, become dissatisfied, and demand a division. Hurd thinks that the Mormons can be reached through their pockets and through their stomachs quicker than in any other way.

AND NOW, because President Cleveland has vetoed a few rascally pension bills, a howl of indignation from a certain class, is heard throughout the entire country. "What fools we mortals be," any way, and how easy it is to be governed by blind prejudice instead of reason. It is not very probable that Cleveland is vetoing these pension bills just for the fun of the thing, on the contrary, we believe it is a painful duty for him to perform, but knowing it to be his duty he does it without hesitation. In doing so, he should, and no doubt does, receive the commendation of all honest and fair minded men. We have faith enough in the president, to believe that he will never veto a pension to any worthy and deserving person, and that he has no compliments to waste on scheming rascals, is a matter of congratulation to the entire people. It is to be hoped he will keep on the even tenor of his way, and whenever a dose is needed by a fraud, that he will administer it to him judiciously, as heretofore. With such a man for president, and such a man as Sparks for land commissioner, the land grabbers, frauds and thieves, generally, are finding out that they have an extremely rocky road before them. May it become rockier as the years advance.

We are glad to again hear from Mr. V. Earl, our Idaho correspondent. A communication from him appears elsewhere in this issue. He informs us that he has just completed the work of writing a book on the "Resources of Idaho," which will be published in a few days, and promises us a copy of the same, which we shall be pleased to receive. Mr. Earl is a writer of extraordinary merit, and as a humorist, equal, in our opinion, to many who have acquired a national reputation. His article, published in the SCOUT a few months ago, entitled "A good man's trouble" wherein he relates his friend Jud's experience with boils, is as fine a piece of humor as we have ever seen. The article is now being extensively copied by the eastern papers, and is being sent on the rounds, as it should be.

HENRY WARD BEECHER writes from London to one of his parishioners that he is amazed at the great change that has taken place in English public sentiment since his visit there a few years ago. He thinks they are more democratic than we are in the United States, and that their progress toward republicanism is phenomenally swift. Nothing is more certain, he thinks, than that the church will be disestablished within the next decade, and that after that the house of lords will have to go. He says that as for the crown, as long as the queen lives, Englishmen will not listen to anything that threatens to make a breach in that direction, but after Victoria's "deluge," American influence is also visible in many ways not perceptible before.

THE Walla Walla Journal advocates the changing of the kind of wheat sown in this country. Farmers seem to cling to the old club wheat, but there are several other varieties which stand the drought better and bring higher prices in the market. The Australian wheat has filled out and done better this year than any other variety, and it sells at the mills for two to three cents better than the club.

It is a singular coincidence that the dullest paper in the United States is the best paying one—the Philadelphia Ledger. Mr. Childs' net profit on his paper is $2,000 a day, and his paper is so dull, flat and stale that it is rarely quoted in the columns of any contemporary. If success be the criterion of merit, the success of the Ledger furnishes some singular argument.

ROBERT INGERSOLL says: "I believe that in a few years public opinion will be so enlightened and humane that only those who give good wages for reasonable hours, will be considered honest men." We believe that Bobby is not very far out of the way in his conclusions, and the "theology" bringing about such a public sentiment, is about as good as any.
