

TO ADVERTISERS.

The SCOUT has a much larger circulation than any paper in this section of the State, and is therefore the BEST ADVERTISING MEDIUM.

The Ohio prohibitionists have formally declared their utter hatred of anarchy. The dislike is more than reciprocal. If there is one form of law for which the anarchists have a more thorough abhorrence than all the others, it is that which would prevent them from filling themselves up with beer and whiskey while discussing their philanthropic scheme of killing everybody but themselves.

We find in an exchange the following cure for blackleg in cattle, which we advise the reader to cut out and paste in his hat for future reference: Take equal parts of sulphur, saltpeter, asafoetida, garlic and lard; pulverize well and make into a paste. Make an incision in the neck of the animal, loosen the skin from the incision toward the lower part of the neck, and insert a pill of the mixture about the size of a small marble. See that the medicine is inserted so that it will not drop out when the animal is released. One application is sufficient.

A. K. CUTTING who has been confined in a Mexican prison for violating Mexican laws, and about whom such a furor has been created here, was released on the 23rd. inst. Medina, the man who instituted the suit against Cutting for damages, having withdrawn his suit, the supreme court of the state of Chihuahua which had the appeal under consideration threw the case out of court. No doubt the Mexican authorities were justified in their treatment of Cutting, but in order to evade a collision with the United States with which they were too weak to cope, they hatched an excuse to release the culprit. Taking it all in all the affair is not very creditable to our government.

In speaking of the defalcation of county treasurer Hendryx, of Umatilla county, the Centennial says: "It seems very unjust that the school fund should be cut down to 95 cents per scholar on account of the shortage of the late County Treasurer. This will almost ruin every school in the entire county. The bondsmen of the late county treasurer should be required to pay up this deficit in the school fund at once. What is the object of the county commissioners in thus allowing this matter to go unsettled and the schools be robbed? Is it to give the defaulter a chance to settle up and have something left? We are not good at guessing conundrums, brother Satler, but if we had to account for this state of affairs, we should do so on the proposition that 'birds of a feather' etc. Watch 'em.

The papers of the country are wasting a great deal of space, and any amount of maudlin sympathy over 'poor Nellie Grant Sartoris,' whom they allege is treated real man by her hubby, who is described as a worthless, pot-bellied, English dude, dissipated to excess, living on the allowance made by his father, and with no ambition above a cock fight or a rat pit. As the dude has evidently went back on Nellie, thereby showing his contempt for the 'whole blasted country, you know,' it doubtless appears to some as a proper subject for the government to investigate and demand satisfaction. Probably it is, but to our dwarfed comprehension it seems that the dude is the same dude whose cunning dupish ways so captivated Nellie's heart and 'poor Nellie' is about on a par with other American girls who have made fools of themselves. However, we don't offer this as a positive opinion. It only seems that way to us. If the majority says the nation ought to weep, the Scout will wring its nose and weep also.

AFTER a trial of over fifty days duration, the anarchists of Chicago have been found guilty, a verdict which condemns seven of them to death and the others to a long term in the penitentiary. The action of the jury meets with the approval of every honest man in the nation. The Sun, commenting on the anarchists' conviction says: "The best intelligence that has been printed in many a day, and wholesome and cheering to all who respect law and order and love their country, is that which comes from Chicago. Seven murderers and frantic scoundrels, men venomous against all law, all reason, all decency, and the peace and welfare of a civilized people, are to be extirpated on the gallows for the murders of which they are guilty. The law they defied will be justified in their execution, and a prompt, strong and necessary warning will be afforded to a class of exotic criminals, for whom there is no room in this land. We have no such crimes imposed on us in New York as have been devolved on the authorities at Chicago, but we are quite equal to it should so deplorable a necessity arise. We have most and a few other reptiles in jail. We have dealt fairly well with our foreign boycotters, and we have a police force that is equal to any emergency. But all honor to Chicago for her example. She deserves the thanks and the gratitude of every community in the country, and she has them in the fullest measure." The same sentiments are voiced by the leading newspapers of the country. When these birds have paid the penalty of their crimes, their brother anarchists will probably conclude that America is not the country in which to put in practice their murderous schemes.

How the pension business is regarded by soldiers who were acquainted in their services to the union by patriotism, is shown by the Grand Army of the Republic in San Francisco, which contained has erred in the matter of pensions it has been on the side of excessive generosity. No one need ever expect to hear the vote-seeking political humbug or the fee-deceiving claim agent make any such admission as that, but it is the truth, nevertheless. The Union was not saved for a price, and no true patriot can endorse wasteful and corrupt expenditures under the name of pensions which find their noisiest advocates in demagogues and claim brokers. The nation is dealing generously with the real sufferers by the war, and will continue to do so. Pretenders and mercenary are not confounded with them, though demagogery and avarice never lose an opportunity to do so. -[Chicago Herald.

NEW TO-DAY. THE REASON WHY. A Profitable Conversation Between Father and Son. "Father, why does Drake's Cash Store sell so much cheaper than other stores?" "Good, my son, I am glad to know you feel an interest in the people." "I do, father, and I know one can save so much more by Drake's than I know how to do it." "Good again. Then you must know that it is merely a problem of finance, that even a child can understand. Mr. Drake buys for cash and sells for cash. In buying for cash he gets the lowest price. "What is discount, father?" "Part of the cost of the goods thrown off for cash in hand, at the time of purchase." "Why should he get this, father?" "Because money draws interest, and if they have the cash in hand they can afford to make a big deduction for the use of the money." "And is this one of the reasons why Mr. Drake sells so much cheaper than other merchants in Union?" "Yes, my son. They neither one is he sells for cash exclusively, and instead of having his goods and money too, as in the credit system, in the hands of his customers, he has it to use in buying more goods, and by turning his money quickly, he can thus make more profit at a smaller price and can handle the same money four or five times, while those who sell on credit are waiting for their customers to pay them, for in the credit system the customer has both the goods and the money of the merchant, and consequently the merchant can use neither one for the other." "Then, father, you don't like the credit system?" "No, my son, this is the curse of every country. People have to pay more for their goods, and more than this, have to pay the bad accounts." "Yes, I see, father. And Mr. Drake runs his store economically too, and keeps the best goods and saves the people money by his low prices, and I shall never buy any more on the credit system."
