If some enterprising gentleman would start a general merchandise store in this valley he would do well, and by helping himself could help the farmers of this vicinity.

The Eagle Bonanza owners, Connell & Nolen, have their arastras running at last. They are hard-working sober young men, and deserve a rich reward for their perseverance.

Brief Bulletin.

The nights are getting cool. Several cases of diphtheria in Baker. Anything you want can be found at Levy's store.

Dr. Drake has been sick and confined to his bed most of the time for the past week. We have on exhibition some pictures of Charles Moore's Angora goats. Look at them.

A systematic horse stealing industry is supposed to be going on in the Walla Walla valley. Quite a number of our citizens have been attending the Portland Mechanics' Fair this week.

A. L. Saunders' store is still running in full blast, and better bargains are being offered than ever. The Union Dramatic company will give another entertainment during the December term of court.

It is said that the application of a lot of ice, or even cold water, to the face of the ear will stop hiccupping. Dr. Clements was indicted by the Baker county grand jury for manslaughter. Trial will come off next week.

Dr. Cromwell, Dr. Biggers and most of those who went from here to attend the Mechanics' Fair, have returned. A Percheron stallion and a Jersey bull was brought a few days ago from Southern Oregon, by Geo. Marshall, of Big Creek.

The deed for the Chief town was changed the name of the town of J. J. to "Cove". It is so much more romantic, you know. Married.—In this city, Sunday, October 17th, Mr. Rudolph's Pickin and Mrs. Courtwright, Rev. Irwin officiating.

You can get a good carving knife, fork and steel at J. Wright's for 50 cents. A large assortment of cutlery just received. The high mountains around the valley have been whitened with snow several times during the past week. Winter is near at hand.

The attention of our readers is called to certain advertisements for sealed bids by the county court, which appears in another column. Very few vacant houses in town, and there will hardly be accommodations for the many people who will want to winter in Union.

A nephew of Uncle George Atkinson arrived in this city a few days ago, from his trip to the coast. He thinks of locating here permanently. Frank Bell's Implement Co., at Island City, pay the highest market price for grain. They keep grain sacks to loan or sell to farmers.

Our serial, "Sandor's Revenge," written by Jules Verne is concluded in this issue. Those of our readers who failed to read it last week will find it a great deal. Why suffer with a lame back, when you can get one of those celebrated Mitchell Pain-Plasters, for 15 cents, at J. M. Wright's drug store? Try one.

A word to the wise, etc.—The party who took the log chain from my wagon is known, and had better return the same if he would avoid trouble. J. M. HAYNA. Mrs. Bidwell returned from her visit to relatives in Kansas, last Wednesday. She was accompanied by Mrs. Kittle who comes to visit her husband who has been here for some time past.

D. W. Sheldon, justice of the peace at Cornucopia, has resigned his position there and moved to Summerville, where he will engage in the practice of law. See his card in this issue. Quite a number of Pine valley people were in this city, this week. Among them Messrs. Stewart, Hunter, Hopkins, Fee and Leep. They report everything moving nicely in that section.

A new Democratic club has been started in Portland by Sidney Dell and J. B. Fehling. It is a bright and spicy sheet and we hope it will soon become the principal organ of the party in the state. Mrs. E. Wood, of Boise City, Idaho, has been in this city for several days past, visiting her brother, Mr. Wm. H. Key. They had not seen each other for several years and were unaware of each other's whereabouts till lately.

Mr. W. H. Davis, who has been running his sawmill on Pine creek, during the summer, returned to Union for a few days this week. He reports everything moving along nicely, but he will probably start down for the winter in a few weeks. The b. c. of the Sentinel alleges to the Scout as "the so-called newspaper." Isn't that refreshing, coming from such a source, and in view of all the facts? The health of our citizens is becoming more original every day. His brilliant trusts, we admit, dazzles us to a certain extent.

Fred Winkelman's trial was commenced in Baker this week. He withdrew his plea of not guilty of murder in the first degree. He was allowed to plead guilty of murder in the second degree. He will receive his sentence Monday, which cannot be less than imprisonment for life. The Havana Press-drill has been proven to be the best drill in the market. It does not clog in trash or soft ground, and it stands either drought or freezing better than when sown in any other way or by any other implement. It has been thoroughly tried in the valley the past season and is pronounced "the best."

An infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Kittle, while playing around the house last Friday, got hold of some "Rough on Rats," and eat some of it which made it extremely sick. Dr. Camps was sent for, who applied the proper remedies, and probably saved the child's life. Mothers should make a note of the fact that "Rough on Rats" is equally "rough" on babies.

Mr. J. N. Lockwood, who, it will be remembered, had his leg broken on the Sand ridge some time ago, is able to be around on crutches, and is canvassing for the "Pictorial History of the World," a most excellent work, and also for the "People's Farm and Stock Encyclopedia." He should be encouraged in his efforts and receive a liberal patronage from the people.

We were shown some apples, a few days ago, which were raised on the farm of John Wilkinson in High valley. They were of the Bull's Head variety and for size and quality it would be hard to surpass them, even in the orchards of the Willamette. Mr. L. C. Washburn, the insurance agent, was taking some of them down to show the relatives in what would be done in the fruit line in Union county. Letters. We are now offering a very large and attractive assortment of ladies' and children's cloaks, ladies' jackets, dress fabrics in the latest designs, dress trimmings, plushes, fancy velvets, dress silks in black and all the leading colors, and gloves in wool, silk and kid. I hereby certify that I have used the Oregon KIDNEY TEA and been greatly benefited by it. I heartily recommend it to the public. CRAIGIE SHARP, JR. Traveling Agent for Wheeler & Wilson Mfg Co., 30 Geary St., S. F. CHAS.

Cove Cullings.

October 21, 1888. Miss May Williams received the sad news of her mother's death in Missouri, last week. Jas. Payne and family, also Mrs. Seamans, are visiting the Walla Walla fair this week.

Allan Ellsworth has gone to Portland, and accepted a position as teacher in the Scott Grammar School. Wm. Makin and family have moved to the Wallowa and will devote their entire time to the sheep business.

Jas. Bloom has assumed proprietorship of Good Templars hall, which is a popular resort for billiard players. Miss Katie Thomas, of Island City, is spending the winter in the Cove, and attending an excellent public school.

Geo. Bloom has rented Wm. Makin's farm on the Sand ridge, and will till the soil for a livelihood during the next year. Mrs. John Magann and children have returned to Cove, and contemplate opening a hotel. Mr. Mazann is working in the Albion flouring mill.

Mr. Fleming and wife, also Miss May Williams, arrived this week from Iowa, Kansas. They will exchange the land of exiles and grasshoppers for a home in this county, where such occurrences are unknown. At the examination for teachers certificates before J. L. Hindman, last Saturday at this place, there were three applicants—Mrs. Henry, Miss Sashon and W. L. Forester. All obtained first grade certificates.

Some immense flocks of snow or white geese are reported on the bottom. It is said a party of sports from Union, last Sunday, pointed shot into their ranks all day without killing a goose. The Cove gunners got 18 geese and 30 ducks.

This county has received a substantial increase in population by an immigration of twelve persons from Dinwiddie, Pa. this week. W. C. Wilson and family, also Hendrickson Bros., are among the number. The latter are brothers of Mrs. H. A. Thomas. All purchased outfits in Cove and started for Paradise valley, with a view to hunting.

Yesterday our foreman hearing that a certain manipulator of the paint brush, in this city, had made derogatory remarks concerning him, painted his car with some colored ink we have, and sallied out to punish the offender. He met his man the first thing, whereupon he shooked himself in about the space of half a second and put in a Jo. Darter with his right, then he put in a brother to Jo with his left, and was following with other relations when the painter concluded he didn't want to get acquainted with the Darter family, and took to his heels followed by a few well directed but ineffectual kicks. The marshal interposed at this juncture and peace being restored, the attention of crowd was attracted by an old granger from Cricket Flat, who said: "Say, who air them fellers, any way?"

"Oh! Them? The one that run away is a painter, and the other one is foreman in the Scout printing office." "You don't say? Well I'll be darned if he ain't about as good a hand to edit as ever I see. What's their shop?" Ten minutes later he added his name to our subscription list, and we now have at least one reader who has very advanced ideas concerning the newspaper business.

N. B.—All is serene at this time, but if there is anybody in this vicinity who wants any truck with us they are invited to call at once. The rheumatism has a grip on our left knee which renders us unfit for vigorous editorial labor, but we presume our foreman is willing to "edit" a little for us at any time. Drop in.

Indian Valley Items.

October 18th, 1888. Mrs. D. Alexander is recovering slowly after a severe spell of sickness. Elgin seems very lonely since the removal of Sommers & Hamilton's store. The contractors are busy at work on the Fish Trap bridge.

W. H. Moore has recently purchased a circular saw, for the purpose of sawing wood for the farmers in this vicinity. Evan Jones, of Montana, has returned home after an absence of two years, to spend the winter. Albert Omes, Wm. Gibson, W. H. Moore and son are preparing to start for Powder river, mountains for a two or three weeks' hunt.

Moore & Galloway are furnishing some of the finest heavy fir timbers for the river bridge that has ever been sawed out in this vicinity. Married.—On Sunday evening at 4 p. m., Oct. 16th, at the home of the bride's parents, Annie E. the accomplished young daughter of J. E. Jones, and Jesse A. Jackson, formerly of Indiana, Rev. R. J. Johnson officiating. Among the invited guests were: Mr. Thomas Wade, wife and daughter; D. Alexander and wife, Jesse L. Hindman and lady, Mrs. R. J. Johnson, Louisa and Martha Jones, sisters of the bride, Maggie Galloway, Liza Ghent, Emma and Alta Darr, Charlie Moore, Charlie Darr, Andrew Christensen, Edward and Curtis Alexander and Evan Jones, brother of the bride. After tendering the bride and groom their best wishes, all were served with an excellent supper. Mr. and Mrs. Jackson will commence housekeeping in their new residence in a few days.

Tuck. The Kimball organs have no equal. Buy the celebrated Kimball pianos.

"Forest Dale Fibs."

PINE VALLEY, Oct. 17th. Weather cloudy but mild; more like spring than autumn. Farmers are doing considerable fixing up on their ranches preparatory for winter.

E. H. Clingan and Jesse Aiberson, of Cornucopia, are out on a hunting and prospecting trip. Oh, deers-meat and gold. Mrs. Scott, whose home was burned recently, took her departure for high on the 10th inst, where she will visit her people and remain until Mr. Scott gets his new home in good shape.

Miss Ray, a young lady artist of Baker City, recently of Cornucopia, is stopping in the valley for a short time, taking photos. She exhibits some fine pictures as specimens of her handiwork. Married.—By the Rev. Boyles, Oct. 17th, at his residence, Miss Katie Reed to Mr. K. Leep, all of this valley. These estimable young people have a host of friends who join in wishing them long life and health and happiness to enjoy it.

Services are now held alternately on Sundays at the Leep and Pancake school houses, by the Rev. Boyles, of the Christian denomination. This gentleman is a pleasant speaker and evinces in his sermons, much thought and an intimate acquaintance with the Bible and History.

Our late Sheriff, A. L. Saunders, and Mr. Mike Beard had many friends here who are pained to hear of their death. In the short space of three months have three good men of your town (if we include Mr. Skill among the dead, as no doubt all do) gone to that bourne from whence no traveler returns.

Quite a number of the citizens of Pine will visit La Grande and Union, the coming week, to prove up on their land and also to obtain supplies for winter, there being a growing tendency among the people to go where they can get the best bargains. Among those who go are Mr. Ed. Leep, Mr. Jas. Leep, Mr. Hopkins, Mrs. Leep and Mrs. Dawson. Ye Unionists treat them well or they will go to Island City and La Grande.

Two young men, well-known in this valley, left here between two days, viz. On the night of the 14th inst. On the same night a single tree belonging to Mr. Isaac Pancake, also a choice and single tree belonging to J. H. Thayer, were taken from their wagons. The parties crossed Snake river early on the morning of the 15th. Constable Potter and Mr. Ed. Gaylord are in pursuit of them. If caught, it may be somewhat interesting for them.

Mr. Ed. Your correspondents celebrate their leather wedding, to-day, by going barefoot. Yourself and family are invited over to spend the evening and be sure and bring some article of leather, such as shoes for the kids. By the way, one week from to-day is also your leather wedding. When we return the call, it strikes us that it will take just as many pairs of shoes for your cherubs as for ours. However, we wouldn't forget little Boudah.

We learn that there are about 100 scholars enrolled in the schools of the valley. In the school taught by Mr. Wise, 24; on roll of Mr. Sturgill, 40 on roll of Mrs. J. A. Denney, better known to teachers as Miss. Allie McComas, 35. Teachers here find it hard to combat the evils of party-going and dancing all night long—it being rather uphill work to instill knowledge into sleepy heads filled with the memory of "who I danced with last night," and "how many times," and "what he said," "when the next one is to be," etc. It would seem that parents would try to assist teachers in subduing such warfare against learning, but some of them appear to help it along by making dances for them. Where there is so little school and so many young people, to speak plainly, having plenty of good natural sense to make fine scholars, but growing up in such gross ignorance, it is truly surprising that the parents do not try to see that everything else gives place to school. Some send their children one week and keep them out two, and no doubt when the term is completed and such ones have learned but little, they blame it to "No count" teachers. Scholars are made by regular attendance and hard, earnest study, both at home and in school—no halfway work about it. The school law says: "Whenever the unexcused absence of a scholar amounts to seven days, he may be expelled." Wonder why our teachers don't try it on and see what effect it would have? If it isn't a good law, why do we have it in the school law? "DELL."

Bradford, wholesale paper dealer of Chattanooga, Tenn., writes that he was seriously afflicted with a severe cold that settled on his lungs; had tried many remedies without benefit; being induced to try Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, cold and was entirely cured by use of a few bottles. Since which time he has used it in his family for all coughs and colds, with the best results. This is the experience of thousands whose lives have been saved by this Wonderful Discovery. Eagle Cooper Shop. S. B. Ayres, manufacturer of butter barrels and kegs, has always on hand a good supply of the best quality, and will sell them at reasonable prices. Give him a call at his shop, south of the school house, Union.

Elgin Echoes.

October 18, 1888. Raining. Health of the community good. Our village is very quiet at present. Our blacksmiths are kept quite busy.

Mr. Griggs is creating a dwelling house. Mr. McWilliams has quite a nice grocery store. J. D. Guild is making some additions to his hotel.

Mr. Wesley Hamilton is preparing to move to his farm on Snake river. We are still in need of a general merchandise store. Who will come? Geese and ducks are quite plenty here, and the boys have fine times shooting.

We have an excellent district school, with Mr. J. D. Guild as teacher. Number of children on school register forty-six. Mr. Cowan, an old citizen of this valley, has returned after an absence of a year or so in the Rogue river country. He thinks this the best place to live.

The building committee for the First Baptist church of Elgin, will commence in a few days to erect a neat chapel, size 26x40 feet. Success to them. Our bridge is progressing finely, and is well under way. The stone abutments on west bank is of solid masonry, put up in lime mortar and cement. It is 82 feet and solid from top to bottom. The wooden pier in middle of the river is of heavy timbers, 12x15 inches, resting on solid rock foundation 30 feet long, 16 feet high, 10 feet wide, 7 feet in the water with an ice break 12 feet, all of which is filled solidly with rock. There is a pontoon bridge on each side of this pier for the accommodation of the workmen. The abutments and piers will stand until some great earthquake comes along and takes it. The whole length of the bridge is 258 feet, the approaches making 114 feet. All the timbers are on the ground and the finest lot of bridge timber I ever saw. Messrs. Galloway & Co. certainly deserve credit for their care in selecting and sawing the same. They are, evidently, expert millmen. Mr. W. R. Johnson, the contractor is the right man in the right place, and understands his business thoroughly. He has about fifteen hands employed.

High Valley Hash. The masons have commenced work on the foundation of Mr. Hathaway's new house. The shooting matches still go on. Sixty-two dollars' worth of beef and hogs changed hands at the last three matches.

Mr. T. J. Tolley, of Lebanon, is visiting relatives and friends at the residence of Mr. J. Davis. Mr. Sam Benson is not wedded to old methods. He goes through High valley from Union before breakfast, after a load of wood.

Quite a confab was held over skinning a beef on Sunday. This much we venture to assert, simply believing the truth of religion doesn't make you religious. You may appreciate right and yet not do right. I find from the Bible that we are free from the law, but all to find any place that says we are free from the law with the exception of the ten commandments. Christ says, "on this rock (Peter) I will build my church, and whatsoever thou shalt bind on earth shall be bound in heaven. If he told us to obey the commandments given to Moses or teach them to our children I fail to find it in the Bible. I could find it in church discipline, however. Neither are we commanded to remember the Sabbath day to keep it holy or sanctify it, and so far as the day being changed, I do not believe it ever was. The Jews kept the Sabbath because they were freed from Egyptian bondage on that day. We were never in bondage, except the bondage of sin, and when Jesus gave himself a sacrifice for our sins and burst the bonds of death, we were commanded to assemble ourselves together on the first day of the week, or the Lord's day, to commemorate his death and sufferings. The great atonement was made for the Gentile as well as the Jew. The Sabbath was only a Jewish day and the Gentiles were never instructed to observe it. The Sabbath was made for man and not man for the Sabbath. Every day of the week is kept by some nation for the Sabbath, so who is right? Homo.

An End to Bone Strapping. Edward Shepherd, of Harrisburg, Ill., says: "Having received so much benefit from Electric Bitters, I feel it my duty to let suffering humanity know it. Have had a run of 6 years on my leg for eight years; my doctors told me I would have to have the bone scraped or leg amputated. I used, instead, three bottles of Electric Bitters and seven boxes Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and my leg is now sound and well." Electric Bitters are sold at 50 cents a bottle, and Bucklen's Arnica Salve at 25c. per box by J. T. Wright, Union, Oregon.
