THE ALTA CALIFORNIA has discovered a solution to the Chinese question and gives it as follows: The signs are plentiful that the Chinese Government is about to end all controversy over the migration of its laboring people to the United States. It will be a doubt, supplement our refusal to let them come by forbidding their coming. The two governments will be found to be in complete accord, and California will have upon her hands only the problem raised by the presence of those already here. As for that it will logically follow that China will compel them to stay at home when they go back so that the return certificate business will cease. Then by their voluntary deportation and mortality they will soon disappear. It is obvious to all of our thinking people that this policy of China should be met by sternly repressing here all outrages on Chinamen. They are here now protected by an international treaty, and are entitled in their persons to the protection of our laws in their persons and property. Surely our people are wise enough to see the greater good at the very small cost of obedience to our own laws.

PRINTED appeals in favor of an American party have been sent to New York from San Francisco for distribution at the ferries, Brooklyn bridge, in horse railroads and at public resorts. A portion is as follows: "We demand the unconditional repeal of the naturalization laws. We demand that the soil of America shall belong to Americans, and that no aliens shall hold property in this country. Free common schools are the only bulwark of human liberty. Churches must not be higher than the State. Seventy-five per cent of the discharged European convicts come to America. We want no German-American, no Irish-American vote; no English dudes and no Italian-Americans." The sentiments expressed in these articles are fast spreading among American citizens, and the day is not far distant when the rabble of the world will find that this is not a healthy country for them to immigrate to. The day can not arrive too soon.

Plates are frequently broken by a sense of weight in the back bone and lower part of the abdomen, causing the patient to suppose he has some affection of the kidneys or neighboring organs. At times, symptoms of indigestion are present, flatulence, uneasiness of the stomach, etc. A moisture-like perspiration, producing a very disagreeable itching after getting warm, is a common attendant. Blind, Bleeding, and Boiling Piles yield at once to the application of Dr. Bosanko's Pill Remedy, which acts directly upon the parts effected, absorbing the Tumors, alaying the intense itching, and effecting a permanent cure.
