THE CAMPBELLS' FATE.

A Cruel Prediction of Old Times More Than Fulfilled Now.

Not many days ago in this country, the people were excited over witchcraft. Persons suspected were thrown into the water; if not witches they would drown; if they were witches, they would swim ashore and would be put to death! In any event, they were doomed!

Not many years ago if a person were taken sick with advanced disorder of the kidneys, the physician would pronounce the disease Bright's disease, and when so declared, he regarded his responsibility at an end, for medical authority admitted that the disease was incurable.

When the physician found a patient thus afflicted, he would say, "Oh, a slight attack of the kidneys, will be all right in a little while." He knew to the contrary. But if he could keep his patient on his hands for a few months, he knew he would derive a great revenue from his case, and then when the disease had progressed to a certain stage, he would state the facts and retire, exonerated from all blame.

But the error of supposing the disease incurable, has swayed the public mind, long after the fact had ceased to be. But public opinion has been educated to the true status of the case by those who have discounted the incurability theory, and the public recognizes and testifies to the fact that Warner's safe cure is a specific for this disease. This has been shown with thousands of testimonials.

Upon referring to them in our files we find that $5,000 reward will be given to any one who can prove that so far as the manufacturers know they are not genuine, and that hundreds of thousands similar in character could be published, if it were necessary.

This condition of things is very amusing to the journalist, who looks upon all sides of every question. Proof should be accepted by all, but prejudice fights proof for many years. It seems strange that when a proprietary medicine is doing the good that Warner's safe cure is that the physicians do not publicly endorse it. Many of them, we are told, privately prescribe it.

A few years ago, as stated, when a man had Bright's disease, the doctor boldly announced it, because he thought it relieved him of responsibility.

Today when prominent people are dying (and hundreds of thousands of common people die of the same disease), we are told that doctors disguise the fact that it is Bright's disease of the kidneys and say that they die of paralysis, of apoplexy, of pneumonia, of consumption, of general debility, of rheumatism, of heart disease, of blood poisoning, or some other of the names of the direct effects of kidney disease. They are not the real disease itself.

We sometimes wonder if they avoid stating the real cause of disease for fear they will drive the public into patronage of the only scientific proprietary specific for kidney diseases, and the thousand and one diseases that originate in inactive kidneys.

We do not believe every advertisement we read. Some people perhaps may regard this article as an advertisement and will not believe it, but we are candid enough to say that we believe the parties above mentioned have stated their case and proved it, and under such circumstances the public is unwise if it is longer influenced by adverse prejudice.

"THE CAMPBELLS ARE COMING"...
HAVE COME.

Arrival of Another Party from Muskegon.
New Orleans (La.) Piqueur, Jan. 29, 1887.

Among the recent arrivals at the St. Charles Hotel are Mr. and Mrs. John Campbell and little daughter, from Muskegon, Mich. This pleasant event is noted not because the name of Campbell is novel on the hotel registry, but on account of the circumstances which produced the autograph of the gentleman above named.

Mr. John Campbell is a worthy citizen of North Muskegon, Mich., and a member of the firm of Gow Major & Co., extensive dealers in lumber. Though a young man, he has, by energy and close application, assisted in building up a business, which five years ago was started on the most limited capital, and to-day takes a front rank in the city of Muskegon.

Knowing Mr. Charles J. Herrmann, who resides in Muskegon, and having heard of the good luck of that gentleman in the drawing of the Louisiana State Lottery, Oct. 12th, 1886, when Mr. Herrmann, on an investment of $1, won $15,000 of the capital prize of $75,000. Mr. Campbell, at the suggestion of his wife, wrote to the Company in the early part of January for one-tenth ticket in the grand drawing of the 11th inst., with $1 enclosed.

Ticket No. 91,960 was immediately forwarded and it proved to be the winner of the capital prize, $150,000. The pleasing intelligence of his good fortune was imparted to him by his friend, Charley Dun, a fellow-townsmen, through a dispatch from the Lottery Company, and Mr. Campbell immediately made arrangements to gratify a long-cherished desire, viz: to visit with his wife the ancient Crescent City.

It may be mentioned that before he knew of his success, his wife as with prophetic soul remarked: "My dear, if we should be fortunate and win a big prize, we will surprise father with a nice check, won't we?" to which John cordially assented.

On Thursday, Mr. Campbell presented himself at the Lottery Company's office, and received a check on the Louisiana National Bank for $15,000 in exchange for the one-tenth ticket he had held. This he converted into sight drafts, not forgetting one for father for $1,000.

Mr. and Mrs. Campbell will remain in the city a few days, enjoying the balmy climate and visiting places of interest in and around town.

A BOSTON CLERGYMAN'S STORY.

Curious Affinity Between a Trunk-Check and a Match-Box.

Psychological experiences have become decidedly the fashion at the Hub of late, writes a Boston correspondent of The New York World. Whether this is attributable to the vogue of the Theosophical society during Bishop's visit, or the influence of Rider Haggard's thrilling tales, or to both, it is not easy to say, but the fact remains. The most recent event of this kind that has set people wondering is a waking experience of Rev. Mr. Raymond, principal of St. Mark's academy, in the pretty suburb of Southborough. Mr. Raymond is a scholar and a clergyman of high reputation and an unimpeachable veracity. Here is his story:

"A few days ago I was returning home after spending the holidays in New York. As the train neared Boston I put my hand in a pocket to get the check for my trunk. It was not there. To an old traveler of good memory and precise habits this was alarming. I knew I had put the check in my left-hand trousers pocket, but I turned all my pockets inside out in search, only to find that the check had absolutely disappeared. A search of the seat, the floor of the car, my handbag and hat was like unavailing. On arriving at Boston I told the baggage-master the trouble and identified the trunk. He called in the superintendent, and I made another thorough search for the check in their presence. It could not be found. I was then required to describe the contents of the trunk, produce the keys, and have my description verified. Finally, after paying for the lost check and signing a receipt, I was allowed to take the trunk away.

"Getting into a cab, I drove straight to my house in Southborough. It had been left locked up and unoccupied in my absence. Finding the air decidedly chilly, as soon as I got inside I decided to light a fire in the front grate. The wood had been set in the grate already to kindle. Lifting the lid of the match-box on the mantel-piece, I was astonished to see the lost check lying on top of the matches. As I remembered the number, '1,559,' and it was one of those pickle-plated ones not commonly in use, I knew it at once. How it got there I am utterly unable to explain. All I know is that it was the identical check I got in New York and which disappeared before I reached Boston. I am positive that I did not put it there, and in fact, had not touched the match-box since entering the room until I found it as I have described. I filled the box with matches just before I left for New York two weeks before, and had no such check in my possession then. The baggage-master, to whom I took it next day, recognized it as the one that already paid for a duplicate. I prevailed on him to keep it as a material proof of this odd experience."

Mr. Raymond has no theory of the why and wherefore of this depraved conduct on the part of the check, and presents any idea of the supernatural significance in it with orthodox ardor.

Sam Jones's Aphorisms.

I despise these little two-wheeled Christians.

I'd rather be a noble, generous sinner than a stingy Methodist.

I do not know any human being who has any special claim on God.

God never made two men alike, and he did, one of them was of no account.

Jesus would put the angles on half nations before he would let a soldier in his army suffer.

This world has been keeping its eyes open for 6,000 years, and yet they have never seen a good man walk.

I left my feelings at home for I thought some fool in Boston might hurt them if I brought them along.

The power of the pulpit is in the pew. It is tough to put a preacher in an iron box, and then curse him because he will not sweat.

They have been after me about my grammar long enough to straighten me out, but I always try to adapt my style to my congregation.

David was a great sinner, but David was a magnificent repentant. He beat any man of his day's sinning, but he also beat them all repenting.

There may be a lot of people who can beat me in living right, but there shall not be any man who can beat me repenting of anything I do wrong.

There may appear in my remarks what seems to be levity, but I would rather have anything than that sober, solid, hump-backed stiffness some try to palm off as religion.

God is going through this world hunting for every hungry man, and when the hungry world hears God ringing his dinner bell the hungry men can take off their hats, walk in and eat and be hungry no more.

When a representative of the Methodist Church died on a ball-room floor—a young lady—the devil came in, picked her up bodily and ran off with her. I will say this to you, you dancer that goes to ball-rooms: If you die, you die on the devil's territory.

A boy gets $10,000 in the Louisiana State lottery, but I would rather be a boy who had ploughed a whole week for $1. I would slap that dollar into my pocket, push my breeches under my head at night and the eagle on that dollar would turn into a nightingale and sing me to sleep.

Many preachers say that a man is not religious because he has no morals. Nonsense! One man gets religion and as jumps up and shouts the praises to God. Another man gives $1,000 to a mission next Sunday, but never shouts. Now, which would you bet on, if you were a betting man?

Warmth in Paper.

It has been demonstrated that there is much warmth in paper. An old newspaper can be applied so as to keep out a great deal of cold. That reminds us that when we ran for office once and the opposition "warmed" us, we too discovered that there was much warmth in paper.—Texas Siftings.

A QUESTION ABOUT Brown's Iron Bitters ANSWERED.

The question has probably been asked thousands of times: "How can Brown's Iron Bitters cure everything?" Well, it doesn't. But it does cure any disease for which a reputable physician would prescribe IRON. Physicians recognize Iron as the best restorative agent known to the profession, and inquiry of any leading chemist from well substantiated analysis shows that there are no other preparations of iron than any other substance used in medicine. This shows conclusively that iron is acknowledged to be the most important factor in successful medical practice. It is, however, a remarkable fact that prior to the discovery of BROWN'S IRON BITTERS no perfect, satisfactory iron combination had ever been found.

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS (which cause headache, or produce constipation—all other iron medicines do), BROWN'S IRON BITTERS cures Indigestion, Biliousness, Weakness, Dyspepsia, Malaria, Chills and Fevers, Tired Feelings, General Debility, Pain in the Side, Back or Limbs, Headache and Neuralgia—for all these ailments Iron is prescribed daily.

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS however, does not cure in a minute. Like all other thorough medicines, it acts slowly. When taken by one the first symptom of health is renewed energy. The muscles become firmer, the digestion improves, the bowels are active. In women the effect is usually more rapid and marked. THE MEANEST DOG ON RECORD.

The other day I saw a dog trying to bury a live rabbit which he had caught. He held the rabbit in his mouth while he dug his grave with his paws. When the grave was prepared, he put its unwilling occupants into it, covered it up carefully, and after patting the dirt well with its paws retired to a little distance and lay down watching it. Presently bunnies, doubtless thinking that the moment of escape had arrived, arose from the tomb and started off on a run. The dog soon caught him and buried him again. Three times the little animal resurrected itself and each time the dog caught and buried it, but on the fourth trial concluded that the rabbit was a little too lively for a corpse, and killed it before proceeding with the obsequies.—(Romney (Me.)
