The Oregon Scout.

ION, OREGON, SAT. MARCH 12 1887.

THE first issue of the East Portland cket, an eight-page journal, owned d edited by G. P. McColl, is at hand. is bright, sparkling and pure in tone, d no doubt will be appreciated by people at large. We wish it suc- ss.

THE Idaho World, one of our most lued exchanges, comes to us this ek greatly enlarged and improved every particular. It is now issued the auxiliary plan—a sensible depar re, as it is the only way in which a untry newspaper can succeed,

A good example has been set by the n Jose, Cal., board of trade. They bscribed for 500 copies per week of ch of the three papers in the city, ey have decided that this is the most fective way of advertising any local- , for the manner the papers are pat- nized shows the class of people who e in the city.

THE Oregon Legislature failed to s any law regulating the liquor ffic. Prior to the meeting of the gislature, the supreme court knocked e Keady law out of time, so that now s are sailing under the old flag, as it ere, with liquor license $100 a year d any petition is sufficient, no mat- r if it contains but one name, provi- d there is no remonstrance. The mes don't require to be published. he country will lose several hundred llars in revenue, but maybe the sa- ons can afford to furnish better whis- ey.

THERE was not a great many in at- ndance at the school election last onday, on account of the directors ill adhering to the primitive method f giving notice of the election by pos- ing written notices to that effect on me fence corner. Towns of this size ave slightly outgrown that style of usiness. We will say for the benefit f the directors that if it is on account f the extra expense, that they do not otify the people of matters of this ind in a proper manner, that we will ereafter publish such notices free of harge.

THE matter of an additional judge or the Sixth Judicial District has been ettled by the appointment of Mr. Walker, of Pendleton, by Governor Pennoyer. This is a very good selec- ion so far as we know. It will be re- membered that Mr. Walker was the ominee of the democratic party of this listrict a few years ago for the judge- hip against Olmstead, and although the district is largely democratic he was badly defeated. Some men, un- der these circumstances would not feel exactly like accepting the position, even if it were tendered them.

ANY man who desires to open a mer- cantile establishment, and has suffi- cient capital to carry on a large busi- ness, who is wide awake at all times, and who knows the value of advertis- ing, will find in this city a profitable opening, and can soon establish an im- mense trade. On the contrary a man of the contracted species, with just am- ple capital to not be able to accomplish anything, who don't think advertising pays, and who expects to do an im- mense business at a hundred per cent. profit, when the people ten miles away don't know that he is in existence, will find a very sorry opening here. The people will offer no encouragement to such, arguing very correctly that the presence of such men only tends to keep out men of enterprise who might locate here and be a benefit to the com- munity.

THE current number of the West Shore is a superb one, and fulfills the publisher's promise to improve upon even the splendid issue of last month. The magnificent scenery of the Colum- bia river and Puget sound is illustrated, and the engravings are accompanied by entertaining historical and descrip- tive articles. G. B. Kuykendall con- tributes an "Ode to the Columbia," which has much poetic merit. C. L. Henderson's entertaining description of Dunfermline is accompanied by sev- eral engravings of the historic ruins of that ancient seat of Scotch royalty. In a poem, "In Memory of the Pioneers," O. C. Applegate pays a tribute to the sterling qualities of those who laid the foundation of society in the West. The text is illustrated with a number of stri- king engravings. The first part of a deeply interesting story by O. W. Olney, entitled "Blue Dirt an' Bed-Rock a' Pitchin'," is given, and shows what a romantic charm hangs about those ear- ly days of gold excitement. "Santa Barbara," and "Snohomish, on Puget Sound" receive attention. In "The Golden Yuba," Henry Laurenz gives another of those entertaining sketches of early times in the Western El Dora- do. S. B. Bettingill supplies an inter- esting and valuable paper on "The Government of Oregon," and C. B. Car- lisle presents, in a most forcible man- ner, "Some Errors in Female Educa- tion." The West Shore is a magazine which should be found in every family in the West. Published by L. Samu- els, at Portland, Oregon, at $2.50 per year.
