"ONLY AFTER DEATH."

WHAT WONDERS THE MICROSCOPE HAS DONE FOR US.

No Longer Obliged to Die, to Find Out "What's Killing Us."

One of the leading scientific publications states that many people are now using the microscope to discover the real cause of disease in the system, and to detect adulterations of food and medicines.

This wonderful instrument has saved many a life. A microsopical test shows, for instance, the presence of albumen, or the life of the blood, in certain derangements of the kidneys, but medicine does not tell us how far advanced the derangement is, or whether it shall prove fatal, The microscope, however, gives us this

Bright's disease, which so many people dread, was not fully known until the microscope revealed its characteristics. It greatly aids the physician, skilled in its use, in determining how far disease has advanced, and gives a fuller idea of the true structure of the kidney.

A noted German scholar recently discovered that by the aid of the microscope, the physician can tell if there is a tumor forming in the system, and if certain appearances are seen in the fluids passed it is proof positive that the tumor is to be a malignant one.

If any derangement of the kidneys is detected by the microscope, the physician looks for the development of almost any disease the system is heir to, and any indication of Bright's disease, which has no symptoms of its own and cannot be fully recognized except by the microscope, he looks upon with alarm.

This disease has existed for more than 2,000 years. It is only until recently that the microscope has revealed to us its universal prevalence and fatal character. Persons who formerly died of what was called general debility, nervous break-down, dropsy, paralysis, heart disease, rheumatism, apoplexy, etc., are now known to have really died of kidney disease, because, had there been no disorder of the kidneys. the chances are that the effects from which they died would never have existed.

As the world becomes better acquainted with the importance of the kidneys in the human economy by the aid of the microscope, there is greater alarm spread through the communities concerning it, and this accounts for the erroneous belief that it is on the increase.

As yet neither homeopathist nor allopathist is prepared with a cure for deranged kidneys, but the world has long since recognized, and many medical gentlemen also recognize and prescribe Warner's safe cure for these derangements, and admit that it is the only specific for the common and advanced forms of kidney

Formerly the true cause of death was discovered only after death. To-day the microscope shows us, in the water we pass, the dangerous condition of any organ in the body, thus enabling us to treat it promptly and escape premature death.

As the microscope in the hands of lay men has revealed many diseases that the medical men were not aware of, so that preparation, like many other discoveries in medicine and science, was found out by laymen, outside the medical code; conse quently it comes very hard for medical men to indorse and prescribe it. Nevertheless. Warner's safe cure continues to grow in popularity and the evidences of its effectiveness are seen on every hand.

Some persons claim that the proprietors should give the medical profession the formula of this remedy, if it is such a "Godsend to humanity," and let the physicians and public judge whether or not it be so recognized.

We, however, do not blame them for not publishing the formula, even to get the recognition of the medical profession. The standing of the men who manufacture this great remedy is equal to that of the majority of physicians, and the reason that some doctors give for not adopting and prescribing it-viz.: that they do not know what its ingredients are—is absurd.

Mr. Warner's statement-that many of the ingredients are expensive, and that the desire of the unscrupulous dealer or precriber to realize a large profit from its manufacture by using cheap or injurious substances for those ingredients would copardize its quality and reputation; and hat Warner's safe cure cannot be made n small quantities on account of the expensive apparatus necessary in comoounding these ingredients-seems to us to be a reasonable and sufficient one.

The universal testimony of our friends and neighbors, and the indisputable evidence that it, and it alone, has complete nastery over all diseases of the kidneys, is sufficient explanation of its extraordinary reputation, and conclusive proof that it is, perhaps, the most beneficient discovery known to scientific medicine since the microscope revealed to us the all-important nature of the organs it is designed to reach and benefit.

A farmer living at Castelnaudary, in the department of the Aude, has had, owing to the prompt fidelity of his dog, a narrow escape from being murdered. The farmer had just returned with his dog from the fields as night was beginning to fall. His wife told him, on his entering the house, that she had given a glass of wine to a strange man who had come to her pleading thirst, and that the person had then gone away. The dog, however, began sniffing about the place, and suddenly barking aloud with savage fury it flew under its master's bed and seized the strange man, who was hiding there, by the throat. The fellow tried in vain to throw the animal, but it tore out his windpipe and killed him.

The gendarmes were then sent for, and they found a dagger, a revolver, and a thiel's whistle in the pockets of the de-

Bidding everybody to go quietly into a room and to remain quiet, one of the gendarmes blew the whistle with all his might at an open window. The device succeeded admirably, for in less than ten minutes four ruffians appeared on the scene and entered the house. They were arrested, and did not offer the slightest resistance.-[London Telegraph.

What Burdette Heard in an Asylum. "What makes the locomotive tender?" asked Agamemnon, willing to show his hatred toward all mankind. "Because," replied Eudosia, "it is in soak all the time. Water makes anything tender save a ben." "And what," inquired her instructor, "will soften the hen?" "Early death," said the pupil; "death in the shell from suffocation." "Has this premature death ever been known to occur?" continued the professor, turning to the Poor Boarder. "Never!" exclaimed the Poor Boarder, bursting into tears. "No, indeed," said Agamennon, who used to run a restaurant himself, "it never did."

A Disgusted Citizen ..

"A burglar broke into my house last night," said an indignant citizen to an officer, "and carried off a lot of clothing, and if it happens again I'll sue the town for damages. It's an outrage sir, an outrage for a total stranger to come into my house and carry off my best clothes."

"We can't help it," said the officer. "Can't help it! I don't want you to help it; I want you to prevent it."

"All right; the next time the burglars come around drop us a postal card the day before, and we'll trap 'em."

Citizen walks off disgusted.

Illness of Geo. Bancroft.

The news of the dangerous illness of Geo. Bancroft, the historian, wilf be received with genuine regret by everybody, and although the great recorder of events has reached an age-nearly 87 years-at which man's vital forces cannot be expected to stand violent shocks of disease, hope will be everywhere fostered that he will yet be enabled to repel the attacks that now threatens to cause death. Mr. Bancroft is a remarkable example of the conserving and preserving effects of methodin habit of life and in the prosecution of a great work. He has been an indefatigable toiler even in his later years; but regularity of habit and avoidance of even the minor forms of dissipation have enabled him to accomplish a task seemingly beyond the ability of strong men in their prime. Mr. Bancroft's exam ple will be of value to mankind; and his personal history will be hardly less enduring than the events he has faithfully re cordtd in regard to his conutry's growth and progress.

By its innumerable cures, made under all possible conditions, Dr. Bull's Cough Syruq has secured for itself a most enviable reputation for great usefulness. Price, 25c.
