THROAT AFFECTIONS.

A Few Words About the Permanent Renoval of the Causes Producing Them. As is the state of the stomach, so will be its index, the throat and the back part of the tongue. If the one is inflamed, has red and angry patches, the other will have similar looks, and, if much canker is present, we may look for the "strawberry tongue," cracked, spotted and angry, with a thin, white coating, or, in some cases, the coating removed, and the whole tongue red and angryraw. In this case, gargle the throat with alum-water, borax-water, as often as convenient, avoiding the use of the irritants, and improve the state of the stomach-the cause-by the use of plain and simple food, taken only at meal times. Great relief is obtained by conducting off the local heat by the wet cloths worn at night, and still more by producing an irritation on the surface-by adding mustard, or, still better and more thorough and comfortable, cayenne pepper, a thin coat sprinkled on, the whole well covered by dry flannels. But remember that the real difficulty is at the stomach, and that care of that will remove the disease. The same irritation at the "pit of the stomach" will be serviceable.

There is a more putrid form, a malignant sore throat, or putrid sore, in which ule ration of the tonsils may occur, which, after a few attacks, becomes more or less a habit; such persons having a return at almost every attack of colds; while in such an event there is danger that the inflammation will tend downwards, if not reach the lungs. This form is found among the scrofulous, or those who are not careful in the matter of diet, especially the users of pork, lard, too much grease of any kind, those not especially cleanly, or the children of such. Such will do well to be much in the air and sunlight, allowing the neck to be exposed to the sun. It is possible to remove the scrofulous taint in inheritance, though a persistant effort is absolutely needful, a "making over new." Let no one suppose that an inherited disease is incurable, since all diseases are more or less inherited.

With some it is the custom to remove the swollen part by the knife, or to clip the tonsils, which may and does afford a temporary relief; and yet it is claimed that no permanent g od results. It is far better to remove this temporary swelling by a care of the health-removing the cause-crowding out disease by promoting health .-Mothers' Magazine.

Bob Had Evidently Had a Few Nips of It. A few days ago Col. Bob Ingersoll sent an old friend a very old jug of rare whiskey. With it were the following lines in the colonel's well known chirography:

"I send you some of the most wonderful whiskey that ever drove the skeleton from a feast or painted landscapes in the brain of man. It is the mingled souls of wheat and corn. In it you will find the sunshine and the shadow that chased each other over the billowy fields, the breath of June, the carol of the lark, the dews of night, the wealth of summer and autumn's rich content, all golden with imprisoned light. Drink it and you will lear the voice of men and maidens singing the "Harvest Home," mingled with the laughter of children. Drink it and you will feel within your blood the star-led dawns, the dreamy, tawny dusks of many perfect days. For forty years this liquid joy has been within the happy staves of oak, longing to touch the lips of man."

There is great intensity of the physical condition sometimes, and there which we cannot go behind. In Lints illustra tion further of facts which settle the points of a prompt and permanent cure, the fol-lowing cases are cited: In 1884 Mrs, Mary K. Sheed suffered terribly with chronic reuralgia. She writes from 1110 Maryland Avenue, Washington, D. C. In the first in-stance she states; "I suffered terribly with neuralgia in the face; very severe attack extending to back and shoulders; suffered intensely. Tried St. Jacobs Oil; had parts well rabbed at night; in the morning all pain gone, nagically." June 40, 1887, she writes from 224 Eleventh Street, S. W., as follows: "Four years ago I sent you a vol-untary certificate setting forth the fact that tion further of facts which settle the points untary certificate setting forth the fact that I had been a great sufferer with neuralgia in I had been a great sufferer with neuralgia in my face, neck and shoulders. I obtained a bottle of St. Jacobs Oil, and after three ap-plications I was entirely releved from all pain, and from that time to the present I have rever had a return. The effect was miraculous." Again, Feb. 6, 1887, Mr. R. G. Troll, St. Louis, Mo., writes: "In March, 1881, I suffered terribly with neuralgia; had suffered nearly three years. Anolised St. suffered nearly three years. Applied St. Jacobs Oil at 8.15 A. M.; at 8.40 took the rag off; at 9 A. M. went to work. In less than five minutes after that the pein was than five minutes after that the pair was gone. The one application cured me. Have not had return of it since." Mr. E. N. Spangler, York, Pa., June 17, 1887, writes: "Years ago had neuralgia; am not subject to it now. LUCKY DAKOTIANS.

It will be remembered that Eugene Speck, Maillard Bird, Henry Lewin and William Duncan together drew the second capital prize in the Louisiana State Lottery on ticket 61,503, in the drawing on the 13th ult. An Argus-Leader reporter to-day called on Mr. Speck, who is a barber here, to see if he had secured his money and to find out how he was going to use it. Mr. Speck said : "Yes, we got a notification the other day to the effect that the money was at the Sioux Falls National Bank. We went there and received $5,000 in cash for the money we put in. That gave us $1,250 apiece. Yesterday I bought me a house in Western Sioux Falls for $850. That is something I have always wanted and now that I have got one I will keep it. I am going to start for my old home in Switzerland next week, taking along my family. Two others of the boys are going over to Scotland, besides putting their money into some excellent Sioux Falls real estate. We are willing to testify that the management of The Louisiana State Lottery is done entirely on the square and will heartily recommend it to any who want to risk a little for the sake of a chance of a big gain." Mr. Speck has lived here for a number of years and has many friends who are as pleased as he is at his good fortune. The other three gentlemen are paving cutters and are not known so well. The boys had first formed a scheme to invest their $5,000 in a bunch in real estate, but decided at last to divide and invest as each one saw fit.

All of the lucky fellows are working at their usual business and though well set up at their good luck are sticking right to their lasts as if nothing had happened. - Sioux Falls (Dak (Argus-Leader, Oct. 6.
