RAILROADS COMING.

Three the largest railroad companies in the United States are now pushing their lines westward with the intention of going to the coast. The Chicago & kind of animals to break, on Northwestern has its terminus this winter in central Wyoming, west of Fort Fetterman; the Missouri Pacific completed its road into Chevenne. Wyoming, last week; and the Manitoba road will be completed to Butte, Montana, this winter. As now headed these roads will all pass through Idaho. In their onward march to the coast the fertile fields and rich mines of Idaho are in sharp contrast with the sterile wastes of Wyoming. The Oregon Pacific coming from the west, the Idaho Central extension, and the prospective branch of the U. P. to the north through the Weizer country, together with the Eastern roads, make the outlook for Idaho exceedingly prosperous .- Caldwell Tribune.
