Washington, Feb. 3rd, 1888, EDITOR OREGON SCOUT :---

Among the little things and big things that have been done in Congress this week I will mention that the bate, voted to substitute the 30th of April for the 4th of March as Inauguthe Fifticti, Congress shall continue untill the 20th day of April 1889, at neon; that the Senators whose existing term would expire on the 4th of March, 1889, (and thereafter) shall consucceeding such expiration, and that the 30th of April shall thereafter be substituted for the 4th of March as the commencement and termination of the official term of the President, Vice-President, Senators and Representatives in Congress.

In the House end of the Capitol stitutional amendment awaiting a vote. It fixes the day for the meeting of Congress on the first Monday in January. and the time of final adjournment at noon on the 31st of December. This, you see, would practically make a continuous session for the two years term interrupted only by such recesses as both Houses should agree to.

In presenting the Senatorial Post-Office Committee's adverse report upon the dainty measure, Chairman Sawyer stated that the Post-Office Department was not self-supporting yet, and therefore, not time to attempt any further reduction on letter postage, Senators Beck, Hoar, Platt and others each believed in penny postage. They argued that the people wanted and demanded better and cheaper mail service, that they had never asked that the Post-Office Department should be self-sustaining, nor had they ever complained of extravagance in that branch of the Government. Members of the House generally favor the reduction of postage, on drop letters at least, to one cent. There are W. D.
