WALLA WALLA WIND.

Contrast Between It and the Breeze from the Land of the Chinooks.

One of the most curious and interesting features of the report of Governor Semple of Washington Territory to the Secretary of the Interior is the bit of tradition and rhetoric which he weaves about a zephyr through the mountains.

"The east wind," he says, "the drying or chilling wind, according to the season, that blows down the Columbia river with great force sometimes, was called by them the Walla Walla wind, because it came to them from the direction of the Walla Walla country. In the winter this wind brings freezing weather, and sometimes will close the streams with ice. In the summer it is a parching wind, and its approach can be noted for long distances as it lifts the dust and debris high in the air. It is an odious wind, and no one wishes it to blow upon him. Fortunately its reign is always short. It rarely prevails for more than a few hours, but will sometimes continue for three or four days.

"Its enemy is the Chinook wind, so called by the Indians alluded to above, because it came to them from the direction of the country of the Chinooks. This is a balmy wind, coming from the Kuro Siwo, or Great Japanese current, of the Pacific ocean. In the summer it is a cool wind, and tempers the heat of summer so that nowhere in Washington Territory do people fall down with sunstrokes. In the winter it is a warm, moist wind, and is sometimes slightly odoriferous, as if spice-laden from the tropics. It is so gentle upon ordinary occasions that its presence could not be noted by its motion, and it is almost miraculous in its effects. Snow and ice disappear before it with rapidity, and it seems to be able to blow for long distances between walls of colder air without parting with its heat. Sometimes it constitutes an upper current, in which case the remarkable spectacle is witnessed of snow melting from the mountain tops while thermometers in the valleys register below the freezing point. At other times it is the surface current, and follows the valleys and gorges as a flood might follow them. It seems to bear healing upon its wings, like Sandalphon, the Angel of Prayer, and it is not difficult to conceive that the Indians would wish to personify it in order to fix upon it their devotions.

"This wind sometimes penetrates as far as the upper stretches of the Missouri, and even tempers the air on the plains of Dakota beyond the Rocky Mountains. Wherever it goes the chains of winter are unloosened and the ice-bound rivers are set free. The Chinook is the natural enemy of the odious east wind, and while, ordinarily, it wields its influence as gently as the zephyrs that waft the thistledowns in autumn, still there are times when the two winds engage in giant conflicts and fight for supremacy, now in the upper, then in the lower strata, on the mountains and in the valleys, alternately driving each other back and forth, swaying the trees, tossing the leaves, and swirling the rain drops or the crystals of snow as the one or the other advances. But the combat is never long, and the victory is always with the Chinook. The inhabitants east of the Cascade mountains, when winter has seized them and the east wind dashes snow in their faces, pray for the Chinook to come. They look by day for its moist front and listen by night for the noise of its combat with the east wind, and when it reaches them they rejoice.

"Such is the Chinook wind, the blessed wind of the far Northwest."—Washington Letter.

IN YEARS GONE BY.

The Status of Apprentices Now and in Former Times.

Apprentices of the present generation are ignorant of the hardships and misfortunes of the boys in by-gone days. The latter were members of the master's family, boarding and sleeping with them. Part of his business was to mind the children, if there were any, run all the errands for the house hold and shop from five o'clock in the morning until seven o'clock in the evening, and sometimes even later than that. Many of the boys of the present day do not believe this, but it is nevertheless true. The boy had to stay as long as the agreement called for, and if he ran away he was considered an outcast. If the parents of the boy could raise a certain sum, the term of the apprenticeship was shortened according to the amount of money paid. In time these boys became good mechanics, obtaining a thorough knowledge of their trade. The apprentice of to-day is considered equal in standing with the mechanic. He commences work at seven o'clock in the morning and quits at six in the evening, in some cases earlier, and is never kept over his regular time. The employer treats him the same as he does his workmen, some times better, and he is paid either by agreement or what he is worth. There are many who still would like to see the old apprenticeship system of fifty years ago in force again.—Carriage Monthly.

"During my long residence in Canada I suffered for years from severe pains in my back, across the region of the kidneys, and by the constant use of ALLCOCK'S PLASTERS invariably obtained great relief. Upon removing to St. Louis I was again troubled with the same complaint, and was advised to use Magnetic and other kinds of plasters, without being relieved of pain, so fell back to my old friend ALLCOCK, who gives me more relief than any other I have ever tried. I always recommend them to my friends and all who suffer from pains and aches of any kind."

THE DEVIL FISH DESCRIBED BY HUGO.

Is not a more tenacious monster than malaria, whether it takes the form of chills and fever, bilious remittant, ague cake or dumb ague. Like the octopus of the story it clasps the victim in its tentacular, and folds him closer and closer in a horrible embrace. Attacked with Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, however, it gradually relaxes its tremendous grip, finally abandons it, and the quondam sufferer, liberated at last, rejoices in the sense of new born freedom, engendered by the restoration of complete health. Dyspepsia, too, and constipation those old and remorseless enemies of the human family, give ground, and are finally driven from the field by this Napoleon of remedies, the greatest, the purest in the family pharmacopœia. Rheumatism succumbs to it, so do kidney troubles. The nerves, when overstrained, regain quietude and vigor by its aid, and the ability to rest tranquilly and eat with zest are increased by it. Resort to it in time and avoid unnecessary suffering.

HUMBUG.

Barnum said: "The American People like to be humbugged." This may be true in the line of entertainment, but not where life is at stake. A man with consumption, or any lingering disease, looking Death in the face and seeking to evade his awful grasp, does not like to be trifled with. So with confidence we place before our readers Nature's great remedy, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, a sure relief for that long train of diseases resulting from impure blood, such as Consumption, Chronic Nasal Catarrh, Liver Complaint, Kidney Disorder, Dyspepsia, Sick Headache, Scrofula and General Debility. Time-tried and thoroughly tested it stands without an equal! Any druggist.

"NOT BULK, BUT BUSINESS"!

So small and yet so effectual, they bid fair to supplant entirely the old-style pill. An ever-ready remedy for Sick and Bilious Headache, Biliousness, Constipation and all blood disorders. Mild in action, wonderful in effect! Put up in vials, convenient to carry. Their use attended with no discomfort! These sterling merits account for their great popularity.

From its marvelous power over this terribly fatal disease, when first offering this now celebrated remedy to the public, Dr. PIERCE thought seriously of calling it his "Consumption Cure," but abandoned that name as too limited for a medicine which, from its wonderful combination of tonic, or strengthening, alterative, or blood-cleansing, anti-bilious, pectoral, and nutritive properties, is unequaled, not only as a remedy for consumption, but for all Chronic Diseases of the Liver, Blood, and Lungs.

If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have sallow color of skin, or yellowish-brown spots on face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, internal heat or chills, alternating with hot flushes, low spirits and gloomy forebodings, irregular appetite, and coated tongue, you are suffering from Indigestion, Dyspepsia, and Torpid Liver, or "Biliousness." In many cases only part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is unsurpassed.
