Rev. Jones' Correction.

EDITOR SCOUT— In the Gazette of May 11th, the editor, Mr. Eckley, undertook to set forth a little talk that took place between Mrs. Malloy and myself, in which he did not represent the facts in the case. From what was said both in the Gazette and Journal the readers of those papers would naturally come to the conclusion that I introduced points of doctrine, without cause, that were of a disturbing nature. The cause of my saying anything at all was that Mrs. Malloy had Mr. Watson to call on me to lead in prayer. Not believing the proceedings to be in harmony with the teachings of Christ and his Apostles I asked to be excused, when Mrs. Malloy approached me and insisted that I should proceed, but I still declined. She then began to tantalize and abuse me in a very unkind and unchristian manner for pretending to be a Christian and not being willing to pray, and continued her talk until after Mr. Watson had concluded his prayer, for he led himself. Afterward I asked to speak a word, which was granted. I then proceeded to explain my reasons for declining. I gave some reasons, then read Acts 2: 37-38 to show what the Apostles taught. Just at this point a song was started, evidently to bring me to my seat, at the conclusion of which Mrs. Malloy proceeded to give me and my brethren another going over, and said we "were like fish, could not live six months out of water," to which I made no reply. So I wish it to be understood that I did not say or do anything for the purpose of disturbing the meeting, but only in defense of myself and what I believed to be the truth. I will now give you the article just as I gave it to Mr. Eckley. He said at the time he had no objection to it.

Last week the Gazette undertook to set forth a little talk (not controversy) that took place between Mrs. Malloy and myself. It says: "Mrs. Malloy called on one of the good brothers of the Christian church to pray and the aforesaid good brother took occasion to file his objections to the way things were being run and present what he considered the latest approved method of going to Heaven."

The Gazette was a little mistaken. I did not present any "late method of going to Heaven," either approved or disapproved, but simply read Acts 2: 37-38. Now I do not regard that as a "late approved method," but then it was under the last and final commission of our Lord and Saviour, Jesus Christ, which commission was carried out by his Apostles under the direct influence of the Holy Spirit. Other methods may lead people into a state of delusive happiness but will never take them to Heaven. If the people want to know what to do to be saved let them go to the word of the Lord, for the Father said "hear ye Him." Then I would request all who read this article to read the following Scriptures: Mark 16: 15-16; Luke 24: 45-50; John 3: 5; Acts 2: 37-38-41; Acts 8: 12; also 35 to 40th verse; please read all of the tenth chapter of Acts; Acts 16: 9-34; Acts 9: 6-18; 1st Peter 3: 21 and Rev. 22: 14. This is the Scripture quotations just as I gave them to Mr. Eckley, and the following is the perverted way that he gave them to the readers of the Gazette:

Mark 16: 15-16 Luke 24: 45-50 John 3: 2 Acts 2: 37-38-41-7 8-12 also 25-40, please read all the tenth chapter of Acts Acts 9: 6-18 1st Peter 3: 21 and Rev. 22: 14.

When I went to Mr. Eckley about it he said he did it on purpose, and for the purpose of rendering me ridiculous in the eyes of the people. After his treating me in this way, he then refused to let me make a statement, which to me seems both cowardly and ungentlemanly. I dislike to be compelled to speak so plainly but then I think the circumstances demand it.

Resignation.

EDITOR SCOUT— The battle is over, the smoke cleared away, and I am now content to humbly submit to the result, and say with Longfellow, that— "The mills of God grind slowly. Yet they grind exceeding small; Though with patience he stands waiting, With exactness grinds he all."

I find the political mills grind very slowly, and that they grind out some very small principles, and a great many disappointments.

I find now that a man's own estimation of himself is not universally accepted by the public mind as correct, and in most cases it is overrated. Still the people begin to flock around and shake hands, express their regret, and offer their sympathy, but sympathy is not a very satisfactory consolation under the circumstances—it requires something more substantial.

Many a fancy and anticipation have been playfully harassing my mind, and I have stretched my old rheumatic limbs in involuntary surprise at the brilliant speech I would make on the floor of the House, and of the wise legislation of the old farmer representative from Union county, and how my fame and name should "spin forever down the ringing grooves of change," like that of Caesar, Napoleon or Cleverland, but the people do not seem to have sufficient confidence in my legislative ability to materialize those delicate fancies—the natural offspring of flattered pride, and so, honest democrat that I am, I will quietly take a back seat, and resort to the quietude of "my mountain home" for consolation, and feast on the delicious odors of yellow roses and buttermilk, while the wide world goes on with its grand political transfigurations and progress!

Before closing, however, I wish to say to the unsuspecting few, who have been stung by maliciously inclined persons, that I have due respect for all religious denominations, whether it be Methodist, Catholic, Presbyterian or Episcopalian, and that the reports circulated by the shallow headed, ivory toothed, imported Catholic priest, and some of his adherents, are utterly false, and have no foundation, whatever, in regard to my infidelity to religions.

Any man that pretends to be a moral guide and instructor to man, and who endeavors to set an example for people to go by, that will resort to political calumny and falsehood, is no man, and is not worthy the respect of an American citizen, and only a tool actuated by the lowest influence in the world. Why my reverend friend, priest, how can you leave that exalted position of yours, as a guiding star and benefactor to mankind, and put your little fingers, with the Bible at their ends, into the vile pot of political slander and falsehood? Can old Pius XIII wash that spot out of existence when that cramped, selfish, biased, ignoble soul of yours is brought to him for inspection? Or will it have to remain another slur on the blood-stained history of Catholicism! Great Scott! If I could not hold the reins of the political chariot wheels and bear the detestable title of tar-bucket. And moreover, if I could hold the position of a Catholic priest, the next highest position to the devil. I would order genuine manna from headquarters to feast on, and not be dependent on Republican twenties for subsistence; I would have water from the bosom of Galilee to wash in, and not bathe my cramped rheumatic limbs in Republican praise; I would chant the Psalms of David and the teachings of Jesus in the old, old Syriac, and not corrupt my tongue with the intricate technicalities of Republicanism!

You certainly don't hold your position in very great reverence! And neither do I, for a man that will deceive people, morally, and follow it for a business; take the last hard-earned dollar from a tottering old man, and laugh to his back, at his ignorant zeal, for what he takes as true from your mouth, and what really is the grossest deceit, holds the lowest, detestable, corrupt, ignoble, infamous position that a thing bearing the title of "human" can possibly hold.

Now, my friend, if you intend to live on the chicken and charity of the people, and continue your profession, I would advise you to study the Ten Commandments, and commit to memory the 9th, which says, "Thou shalt not lie," and if it don't cover sufficient grounds to keep you in the bounds of right, I suggest an additional 11th to the effect that "thou shalt not indulge in political calumny," and if that won't do, you should deliver up your "honorable" Priesthood to the Pope, and of the delicate whiteness of your teeth, I would advise you to choose the profession of a dancing master. You would certainly succeed in that, for you would not have to use your weary brains any; just use your feet and show your exquisite teeth; perhaps they bear the delicious odor of spice and the fragrant perfumes of the groves of India yet, while the poor old elephant sleeps calmly beside the flowery banks of the Ganges.

Truly yours, W. H. HUFFMAN.

THE WEST SHORE (ESTABLISHED 1875) PORTLAND-OREGON

The West Shore is the only illustrated magazine published on the Pacific coast, and aside from its excellent literary features, its object is to convey information, by both pen and pencil, of the great resources of this region, and the progress of their development.

Special illustrated articles appear in each issue, also several pages of notes on the progress being made in every section, Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Montana, Alaska, Utah, California, British Columbia, and the Pacific Northwest in general, are being illustrated. The subscription price is only $2.50. It is not only the cheapest illustrated magazine in the United States, but contains articles and engravings of great interest to every resident of this region, which can not be found in any other publication.

Subscribers for 1888 receive a large supplement every month. The first one is a beautiful colored map of the "Entrance to the Columbia River," printed in nine colors, and each of the others represents some feature of our sublime scenery. The supplements are almost worth more than the price of the magazine. Try it for 1888, and after reading send it to your friends elsewhere. You will find it both entertaining and instructive.
