

RELIGIOUS AND EDUCATIONAL

—What men want is not talent; it is purpose; not the power to achieve, but the will to labor.—Bulwer Lytton.

—Nature and revelation are alike God's books. Each may have mysteries, but in each there are plain, practical lessons for every-day duty.—Tryon Edwards.

—It is a most hopeful sign of the times, when, as we are assured, learned professors in German Universities urge young men to the utmost purity of life in order that they may have the highest possible amount of brain power.

—Faith without repentance is no faith, but presumption; like a ship all sail and no ballast, that tippeth over with every blast. And repentance without faith is no repentance, but despair, like a ship all ballast and no sail, which sinketh of her own weight.—Sanderson.

—We need to watch our tendencies. They may be leading us in right directions, but also in wrong ones, and we should therefore be careful to know whither we are moving. Are we drawing nearer God and dwelling in the love with which he surrounds us?—United Presbyterian.

—Prof. Seelye, of Amherst College, says: "If, therefore, we begin our attempts to improve men through the instruction of their intellect, we shall end where we begin, having blown a bubble which bursts as soon as blown. No amount of intelligence ever saves any people, and the most costly educational system is consistent with and sometimes actually found in the most corrupt social state."

—Opportunities for self-improvement, growth in various directions meet us at every turn in life. The perfectly developed character loses none of them, but is ever on the alert, and seizes upon and appropriates whatever will tend to one's advancement, and thus some of our most prominent men and women have attained to their present high position.—Christian at Work.

—The needle of a missionary's wife was the instrument God used to give access to Oriental Zenanas. A piece of embroidery wrought by her deft fingers found its way to the secluded inmates of a Zenana. If a woman could do such work as that, other women could learn under her instruction; and so, with the cordial consent of the husband, this Christian woman was welcomed to the inside of his home; and as she taught his wife the art of embroidery she was working the "scarlet dyed in the blood of the Lamb" into the more delicate fabric of their hearts and lives.—Missionary Review.

—"Thy heavens shall be brass." In two senses: Thy prayer goes not up through them; nor do the showers of blessing come down through them. Thy brazen disobedience mak's thy heaven brazen above thee. Be holy, be clean, be separate from sin and sinning, be reconciled to thy brother, be filled with the Spirit, be every thing God commands thee to be and suffer and do—and thy heavens will no longer be brass, but will bend with every blessing upon thy head and heart and home.—Christian Standard.

—Advice thrown away: Telling a person how to keep money who doesn't know how to get it.

—Sleep eight hours out of the twenty-four, eat three meals a day, and walk on the sunny side of the way.—Collyer.

—"The truth will out," they say. Yes; it gets so thoroughly out of some people that there is not a trace of it left in them.—Puck.

—"Who can govern a woman's will?" asks an old proverb. Well, unless a woman is smarter than most men in making a will, the lawyers can, every time.—Western Plowman.

—De fluctuation of de mem'ry am 'stonishin'. Ef yo' owe a dollah, amoddah man mus' put yo' in min' ob hit; wh'reas of a dollah am comin' toe yo', yo' min' nebber needs joggin.—Judge.

—Meet difficulties with unflinching perseverance, and they will disappear at last; though you should fall in the struggle, you will be honored; but shrink from the task, you will be despised.—Church Union.

—"The real work of the world is done by the mechanics and the farmers, who are also mechanics in their special sphere. Politicians and warriors are merely policemen, whose business it is to keep order while the mechanics and the farmers do the work.—American Machinist.

—"We are apt to think too much of our own troubles, forgetting that we are objects of affection to some heart at least, and that while we are brooding over our own misfortunes we are saddening the hearts and darkening the lives of those who depend upon us for comfort.—Ella Sellingham.

—"Beware of making your moral staple consist of the negative virtues. It is good to abstain, and teach others to abstain, from all that is sinful or hurtful. But making a business of it leads to emancipation of character, unless one feeds largely also on the more nutritious diet of active, sympathetic benevolence.—Oliver Wendell Holmes.

—"Don't be afraid to let your children see your love for them. Let a child feel that no matter where he goes or what he does, no matter whether friends forsake or foes slander him, his parents' love and trust will always follow him, and that child is not only safe for all time, but the thought of this love will shine out like a lamp in a dark place, cheering and strengthening against all odds.

Of all things which man can do or make here below, by far the most momentous, wonderful and worthy are the things we call books.

HELPING THE RIGHT SIDE.

To help the right side is not only commendable in a general point of view, but is judicious and prudent when that help is enlisted in behalf of the right side of the body, just over the lower ribs in the region of the liver. The most efficient help is afforded by Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, an anti-bilious medicine of incomparable efficacy. Inaction of the liver is accompanied by constipation, sick-headache, furred tongue, nausea, occasional vertigo, and unpleasant breath, yellowness of the skin and ball of the eye. The author of these symptoms, liver complaint, routed by the Bitters is accompanied by them in its flight. Fever and ague, which always involves the liver, dyspepsia, rheumatism, debility and kidney troubles are all maladies to the early relief and final cure of which this standard medicine is adapted. Don't use it by fits and starts, but systematically, that its full effects may result in a perfect restoration of health.

The injury of prodigality leads to this, that he who will not economize will have to agonize.

FROM FLORIDA.

FLEMING BROS.—Enclosed find one dollar for which send me the genuine Dr. C. McLANE'S CELEBRATED LIVER PILLS. The druggist here keeps the counterfeit, but I must have the genuine. We have been using your pills for thirty-three years and have found them better than any other. We use them in case of cholera and fever, dysentery, bad colds, fitfulness, headache and kindred troubles. We highly recommend them to all sufferers. Floral City, Fla., Oct. 28th, 1887. Mrs. F. D. HAMBRICK.

In case of sick headache, biliousness, torpid liver, dyspepsia, and costiveness, DR. C. McLANE'S CELEBRATED LIVER PILLS never fail to give relief for both sexes and all ages, they are compounded with regard to even the most delicate constitutions. Sold by all druggists. Price 25 cents. Prepared only by Fleming Bros., Pittsburgh, Pa., look out for an imitation made in St. Louis which is often palmed off on innocent purchasers as ours.

Industry has annexed thereto the fairest fruits and the richest rewards.

A PROMINENT MERCHANT IN TROUBLE.

Old moneybags mope in his office all day. As snappish and cross as a bear. The dealer knows the cause of his way. Least the merchant should grumble and swear. Even Tabby, the cat, is in fear of a cuff. Or a kick, if she ventures too near; They all know the master is apt to be tough. And his freaks unexpected and queer. What makes the old fellow so surly and grim. And behave so confoundedly mean? There's certainly something the matter with him. Is it stomach, or liver, or spleen? We've guessed it—his liver is sluggish and bad. As snappish and cross as a bear. It's enough to make any one hopelessly mad. And greet his best friend with a growl. The world-wide remedy, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, will correct the torpid liver and purify the blood, tone your system and build up your flesh and strength.

It is not true that love makes all things easy; it makes us choose what is difficult.

ALWAYS SAFE AND SURE.

It is safe to take BRANDRETT'S PILLS at any time, but to get the best results they should be taken on an empty stomach before going to bed. For Constipation or Dyspepsia one or two taken every night will, in a short time, perform an absolute cure. It is well to take a purgative at least once or twice a month as a preventive of disease. BRANDRETT'S PILLS are entirely vegetable, and the safest and most effective purgative ever introduced to the public. They have been used in this country for over fifty years.

Russia's cavalry equals that of Germany and Austria combined.

WHAT IT MEANS.

To the man or woman who has never been ill, the word "health" is meaningless. But to the one who has suffered and despaired, it appears as a precious boon. To the thousands of unfortunate women who are suffering from some of the many forms of weakness, irregularities peculiar to their sex, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription holds forth the promise of a speedy restoration of this "priceless boon."

"No ma'am," replied Tommye, after a careful inspection of the picture. "Not to be an angel, Tommye? Why not?" inquired the teacher in surprise. "Cause, ma'am, I'd have to give up my new pants."—Critic.

—Railroad Agent—"No, sir; under the Inter-State law I can't carry your company for less than four dollars and a half a piece; but I'll tell you what I'll do, seeing it's you. Let's see; how many people have you got?" Theatrical Agent—"Twenty-seven." Railroad Agent—"Well, I'll have to charge you the full four-fifty, but I'll send you over the line with a conductor who can't count more than twenty."—Puck.
