A CLAIM TO HUMAN GRATITUDE.

Charlotte Corday, the sad-faced. tender-hearted peasant girl of Normandy made great history by one desperate act!

Sickened by the saturnalia of the French revolution, and moved to desperation as Robbespierre and Marat were leading the flower of France to the guillotine, she determined that she would put an end to Marat's bloody reign.

Marat had demanded two hundred thousand victims for the guillotine! He proposed to kill off the enemies of the Revolution to make it per-

They are not the untried and imaginary remedies of some dabster chemist intent on making money, but the long sought principles of the healing art which for generations kept our ancestors in perfect health, put forth for the good of humanity by one who is known all over the world as a philanthropist-4 lover of his fellow man,-whose name is a guarantee of the highest standard of excellence. The preparations are of decided and known influence over disease, and as in the hands of our grandmothers they raised up the sick, cured the lame, and bound up the wounds of death, so in their new form but olden power as Log Cabin remedies, they are sure to prove the "healing of the nations,' Corday did the world an incalculable service in ridding France of the not know how many hours I have bigoted and murderous Marat, just as spent here working in their interest, this man is doing humanity a service by re-introducing to the, world the Let me make my letters round and simpler and better methods of our beautiful.' Unfortunate City Snobs.

It is not an uncommon thing to hear city-bred exquisites say they do not like the country. They can endure Nature for a week or so, but after that she is a bore. They find rural life so fearfully dull-no theater, no restaurants, no politics, no small talk, nobody the mind is of far more consequence to to admire the well-cultivated moustache nod latest novelty in talloring, no hotel porticoes to roview the pretty girls from, no soul to make a little private bet with, no cards, no billiards, no clubs, no chance for a "lark," no coquettes framed in windows over the way to make dumb love to, no any thing, in short, but woods and fields and waters, and other natural trumpery. Now, don't sneer at these people. They are really very much to be pitied. Just as much so as if they lacked the usual concement of limbs or senses. Indeed, they are more to be commiscrated than if thus physically afflicted, for it is better to go about the world with a crippled body than a half-paralyzed soul - N. Y. Ledger.
