An Eccentric Bermit.

The Jacksonville, Or., Times says: "An old man named Wm. Contner was found dead in his bed at this place near Central Point last Thursday. He had long resided there alone, living the life of a hermit, in an adobe house, and it was supposed he was in good circumstances. Search of the premises after his death revenied the most primitive arrangements for his domestic comfort. His water backet was hollowed from a white oak knot, as were also his the water in his well, some eighteen feet | Paper. deep, by a series of steps cut in the soil. .... An Explanation.

What is this "meryous trouble" with loss, 25, which so many seem now to be afflicted? If you will remember a few years ago the word Malaria was comparatively unknown. -to-day it is as common as any word in the English language, yet this word covers only the meaning of another word used by our forefathers in times past. So it is with nervous diseases, as they and Malaria are intended to cover what our grandfathers called Billiousness, and all are caused by troubles that arise from a diseased condition of the Liver which in performing its functions finding it cannot dispose of the bile through the ordinary channel is compelled to pass it off through the system, causing nervous trembles.
