RELIGIOUS AND EDUCATIONAL

-We dote upon this world as if it were never to have an end; and we neglect the next as if it were never to have a beginning .- Fenelon.

-The Japanese Government has instituted a college for women, with English professors, and put it under the control of a committee of English women for six years.

-The safest way to stay the progress of wrong is to advance the right. Every direct attack upon the wrong, by the right, imperils the right by inviting a counter-attack upon itself.

-No way has been found for making heroism easy, even for the scholar. Labor, iron labor is for him. The world was created as an audience; the atoms of which it is made, are opportunities. -Emerson.

-Doctrine serves to gather humanity into the various folds, according to their individual convictions; but the actual worship flows from each through but one channel, finding equal acceptance from a loving God.

-"I will give you an orange, Willie," said a famous English Freethinker to a little boy, "if you can tell me where God is." "And I will give you two," replied the boy at once, "if you can tell me where He is not."-Harper's Young People.

-The Ten Commandments were given to the people some thousand years ago for their moral advancement, and the Sermon on the Mount is nearly 2,000 years old; and still it is hard work for nearly more than half of the people of civilization to give them more than casual observance.

-One of the most important things that the Christian can do, says the N. Y. Independent, for the culture of his own piety is to acquire the habit of systematically and devoutly reading and studying the Bible. By this habit he will "grow in grace" by growing "in the knowledge of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ." The more he reads the Bible the more precious will it become in his experience.

-How lonely the mother feels when for the first time her boy shows that he feels too big to be kissed! As they begin to feel like little men, too many boys thing that any show of affection on their part is babyish; they are afraid of being caffed "girl-boys" or milksops. Just as if a man is ever more manly than when he loves and protects the mother who loved and protected him through so many helpless years. Such a boy is sure to grow into the man who takes such good care of his wife. - Rural New Yorker.

WIT AND WISDOM.

-"One man's conduct may lead a low man; the prudent man looketh well to his going."

-Why is it that, whenever you are looking for any thing, you always find it in the last place you look? The reason is because you always stop looking when you find it.

-Young man, don't break in two in the middle if the world goes against you. Brace up and go against the world awhile, and see how quick you can knock it out. - Washington Critic.

-The faults and weaknesses of others, instead of being woven into gossip, scandal and useless criticism, should be used as danger signals, to warn us away from the paths which have led to them.

-It is clearly an undeniable fact that mankind generally had rather remain actually ignorant of any certain thing not a ready known to them than to learn it in any way which will show and virtually acknowledge their ignorance. - Des Moines Leader.

If the right is not used as a weapon of offense, it is not so likely to need to spend itself in its own defense. And if the wrong is busy neither with its own the removal of the tribes from their defense nor with the direct offense against the right, it is more fairly open to see the right as exhibited in the right. It is better to draw one into the right than even to drive him out of the wrong. -S. S. Times.

-Hardly any one can step out of his own door without finding something that can be benefited by his good offices. If he sees it aright, and give his heart and hand to it, he will, then and there, be making a contribution to the world's improvement. The talk we hear sometimes about the want of a "field" is proof either of insincerity or poor judgment. - United Presbyterian.

-If the problems of the time are properly dealt with, it would be found, at least in our own favored land, that "Poverty and Progress" would not be used as correlative terms by any political economists. Thrift and economy among the laboring classes would go before him. Purdy was appointed far toward the reduction of waste improvidence and criminal carclessness in regard to provision for sickness and old age; and go far also toward solving the labor problem. - Mrs. M. J. Gorton.

HOW DICE ARE MADE.

What a Reporter Saw in the Shop of an Old French Turner.

In a dingy little shop on one of the upper floors of an old building in Ann street, an old Frenchman works day after day making dice. He uses old ivory cane heads, umbrella handles, Jamaged billiard balls and job lots of ivory that he buys for a song. The floor around his work-bench and lathes is littered with the dust, chips and fragments of ivory on which he is at a buffing or polishing machine and a number of sharp chisels and drills.

The Frenchman has been a turner and carver of ivory all of his life. He works from daylight until dark every day, and frequently uses a dilapidated lamp to light him at his work late at night. He cuts out the little squares placing the cube in the lathe he bores the requisite number of holes, and inserts small ebony plugs in them to make the black spots. The surface is ground smooth by a whirling among wheels, and is then polished with pumice stone. Several sizes of dice are made, but the smaller ones are most in demand. Sporting men prefer handevenly balanced. The machine made variety are often imperfect and have a tendency to throw one side up oftener than other sides. It is an easy matter to bore into one of the spots and put in a plug of lead, causing the opposite number to appear nearly every time. -N. Y. Mail and Express.
