

EDUCATED FOOLS.
A Class Which, Unfortunately, Is Numerous and Growing.
 The young lady who upon her first visit to the country asked which cow gave the buttermilk, was probably familiar with the philosophy of Kant, and could talk discursively of Browning, but to the matter-of-fact people who heard her she must have appeared silly in the extreme. The story serves as an illustration of a class that is numerous and growing.
 Americans have fallen into the habit of talking of common things in a far-off transcendental manner as if they had neither lot nor part in that ordinary earth which can grow potatoes and pansies cheek by jowl.
 Meanwhile the soul of the social system is a hireling, and children get their first lessons in life from a protegee of an open door society.
 "If I were to make a world," said Ingersoll, "I would make good health catching." Whereupon some one asks incredulously: "Why doesn't Mr. Ingersoll make a world, ha! ha!"—a brand new world with all modern conveniences in it—when he so well knows how. "There never were any miracles," cries the writer of "Robert Elsmere." No miracles, when the world is full of them! The air you breathe is a miracle. Thank Heaven that it is not owned by a corporation that would shut it off ten feet above your head until you had paid your titling. No miracles! The egg you eat is a miracle of miracles. Your own eye is a miracle. You can tell all the chemistry of its component parts, but can you put the light of life in it, dear educated fools?
 When Hercules tried to kill his enemy he dashed him on the ground and saw him instantly revive, for the common earth he touched gave him renewed strength.
 It has been said that the man who can make two blades of grass grow where only one grew before, is a benefactor of his kind.
 A pretty pastoral story is told of a father who sent out his son as a herder and gave him only these three words of instruction—"Remember your sheep." The boy was an "innocent" and could only do the one thing, and his mind only retain simple lessons. But he "remembered the sheep," and herded them so well and did his duty so faithfully, that he knew every sheep and lamb of his flock by just looking in its face. It is long since now, but "Robbie's sheep" were known for their excellence far and near.
 King George III. has been much laughed at for inquiring how the apple got into the dumpling. Yet the apple dumpling is more necessary to the comfort of a household than the discovery of a new comet. Who would prate of discovered stars to a starving man? Devout, or undevout, that astronomer would be mad.
 To be educated above the common things of life is not to be educated at all. Take the Latin words out of our language and we can still live, love, sleep, eat and do with the rest.—Detroit Free Press.

RELIGIOUS AND EDUCATIONAL.
 —We note upon this world as if they were never to have an end; and we neglect the next as if it were never to have a beginning.—Fenelon.
 —The Japanese Government has instituted a college for women, with English professors, and put it under the control of a committee of English women for six years.
 —The safest way to stay the progress of wrongs is to advance the right. Every direct attack upon the wrong, by the right, imperils the right by inviting a counter-attack upon itself.
 —No way has been found for making heroism easy, even for the scholar. Labor, iron labor is for him. The world was created as an audience; the atoms of which it is made, are opportunities.—Emerson.
 —Doctrine serves to gather humanity into the various folds, according to their individual convictions; but the actual worship flows from each through but one channel, finding equal acceptance from a loving God.
 —"I will give you an orange, Willie," said a famous English Freethinker to a little boy, "if you can tell me where God is." "And I will give you two," replied the boy at once, "if you can tell me where He is not."—Harper's Young People.
 —The Ten Commandments were given to the people some thousand years ago for their moral advancement, and the Sermon on the Mount is nearly 2,000 years old; and still it is hard work for nearly more than half of the people of civilization to give them more than casual observance.
 —One of the most important things that the Christian can do, says the N. Y. Independent, for the culture of his own piety is to acquire the habit of systematically and devoutly reading and studying the Bible. By this habit he will "grow in grace" by growing "in the knowledge of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ." The more he reads the Bible the more precious will it become in his experience.
 —How lonely the mother feels when for the first time her boy shows that he feels too big to be kissed! As they begin to feel like little men, too many boys think that any show of affection on their part is babyish; they are afraid of being called "girl-boys" or milksoops. Just as if a man is ever more manly than when he loves and protects the mother who loved and protected him through so many helpless years. Such a boy is sure to grow into the man who takes such good care of his wife.—Rural New Yorker.

WIT AND WISDOM.
 —"One man's conduct may lead a host into a snare; beware how you follow him; the prudent man looketh well to his going."
 —Why is it that, whenever you are looking for any thing, you always find it in the last place you look? The reason is because you always stop looking when you find it.
 —Young man, don't break in two in the middle if the world goes against you. Brace up and go against the world awhile, and see how quick you can knock it out.—Washington Critic.
 —The faults and weaknesses of others, instead of being woven into gossip, scandal and useless criticism, should be used as danger signals, to warn us away from the paths which have led to them.
 —The desire of more and more, by a natural gradation to most, and after that to all.—L. Leverage.
 We accidentally overheard the following dialogue on the street yesterday:
 Jones: Smith, why don't you stop that disgusting howling and snoring?
 Smith: How can I? You know I am a martyr to catarrh.
 J.: Do as I did. I had the disease in its worst form but I am well now.
 S.: What did you do for it?
 J.: I used Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. It cured me every form of skin and blood disease, from pimples to scrofula.
 S.: I've heard of it, and by Jove I'll try it.
 J.: Do so. You'll find it at all the drug stores in town.
 Only command persons, and you may be pretty sure that a good number will obey.—The Nervous.

HOTELS IN JAPAN.
 According to "Carp," They Are the Noisiest Places Outside of Bedlam.
 A Japanese hotel is one of the noisiest places outside of Bedlam. The walls are of paper, and you can hear all the talk of your next-room neighbor. Many of these walls are pushed back at times, and as you pass through the corridors you see the various occupations of the guests. The sleeping, dressing and eating goes on before your eyes. The guests eat in their own rooms, and their food is served to them on little tables about a foot high. Each man has his own table, and in the cases of families each member squats on his heels or knees before one of these little tables, which is not over two feet square. New chop-sticks are furnished to every guest. They come wrapped up in paper, and with these the guest can eat every thing from rice to fish. It is wonderful how well they separate the bones from the fish with them, and how they are able to pick up beans and peas between two sticks and eat them. The food is brought in little bowls, and there are no plates, knives, forks or spoons. The rice comes last, and this is brought to the room in a wooden box hooped with brass and looking very much like an American sugar box. The Japanese eat very fast, and a man is considered lazy if he eats slowly. It is rather a compliment than otherwise to make a noise in eating, and the smacking of the lips shows the host that you appreciate his food. If you grunt and regurgitate, it will not be out of the way, and when you close your dinner with rice you will do well if you will pour your rice-bowl half full of tea and eat this with the rice. As you get near the bottom it will be the approved Japanese fashion to lift the rice-bowl to your lips and shovel the contents in with your chopsticks. You may eat as much rice as you please, and you will be expected at the close of the meal to carefully wrap up the dainties remaining and to drop them into the long pocket of the sleeves of your gown. You will find no sign in these Japanese hotels indicating that "food taken from the table will be charged extra for," and if you are dining with Japanese you will probably have from two to six geishas to keep you company.—Frank G. Carpenter, in National Tribune.

—That was a gentlemanly thief who robbed the postmaster of Lyons Farm, a suburb of Newark. In consideration of a ribbed letter and stolen stamps, gold watch and $100 in cash, the postmaster found the following note and a $1 bill: Dear Sir—The fellow who robbed your house tonight is a born gentleman and no hog. I leave you this bill as capital upon which to begin life anew.

CONSUMPTION CURED.
 An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy for the speedy and permanent cure of Consumption, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Asthma, and all Throat and Lung Affections, also a positive and radical cure for Nervous Debility and all Nervous Complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, he has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellow-men. Actuated by this motive and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send free of charge, to all who desire it, a complete, full and full directions for preparing and using. Sent by mail by addressing with stamp, naming this paper, W. A. NOYES, 124 PEARL STREET, ROCHESTER, N. Y.
 Be cheerful, and seek no external help, nor the tranquility which others give. A man must stand erect, not be kept erect by others.—Marcus Aurelius.
Edwin Forrest's Secret.
 The great tragedian, Forrest, had a secret, which everybody ought to learn and profit by. Said he: "I owe all my success to the fact that I have never neglected trifles." That's the point—don't neglect trifles. Don't neglect that hacking cough, those night sweats, that feeble and trifling appetite, and the other symptoms, trifling in themselves, but awful in their significance. They herald the approach of consumption. You are in danger, but you can be saved. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will restore you to health and vigor, as it has done for thousands of others who, by neglecting coughs, and consumption is one of them, it is a sovereign remedy.
 He who tells a lie is not sensible how great a task he undertakes; for he must be forced to invent twenty more to maintain that one.
Many People refuse to take Cod Liver Oil on account of its unpleasant taste. This difficulty has been overcome by Scott's Emulsion of cod Liver Oil with Hypophosphites, being as palatable as milk, and the most valuable remedy known for the treatment of Consumption, Scrofula and Bronchitis, General Debility, Wasting Diseases of Children, Chronic Coughs and Colds, and other physical ailments in all parts of the world to use it. Physicians report our little patients take it with pleasure. Try Scott's Emulsion and be convinced.
 Gratitude becomes selfishness when it is too profuse, and is ever overthankful for one favor, is in effect paying the way for another.
Your Friend Committed Suicide.
 You never suspected it, none of your friends dreamed of it, he did it in a twinkling, but it is exactly what he did, nevertheless, do you remember his sallow complexion? Do you recall his being in company with headaches and constipation? "I'm getting quite bilious," he said to you one day, "but I guess it'll pass off. I haven't done anything for it, because I don't believe in 'doctors.'" Soon after that you heard of his death. It was very sudden, and every one was greatly surprised. If he had taken Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, he would be alive and well to-day. Don't follow his example. The "Pellets" are easy to take, mild in their action, and always sure.
 Better poor, young and wise than rich, old, and a fool.
Confident of Their Merit.
 Miss A. M. Peters, Moulton, Ala., writes under date of September 29, 1888: "Enclosed please find $1.00, for which send its value in BRANDIE'S PILLS. I would like to have them at as early a date as possible, as there is a considerable yellow fever scare in this part of the State. In Decatur, Ala. about twenty-five miles from this place fifteen cases are reported. I intend to try your pills on any case that may appear in my family. I have full confidence that if they are taken in time they will cure it, and almost any other disease."
 He who abuses others must not be particular about the witness he goes to.
If Success be the true test of merit, it is a settled fact that "Brown's Bronchial Troches" have no equal for the prompt relief of Coughs, Colds and Throat Troubles.
 Affection is a greater enemy to the face than small-pox.
 Injurious Life Essences are rich in nerve-producing elements, and promote secretion in glandular structures, and supplies nervous waste. Hundreds have been restored to health by "Life Essence," and it can only be improved by a trial. Price, $1.50 a bottle. All druggists.

Are We to Have Another War?
 Some political prophets aver that we shall see that as it may, the battle waged by medical science against disease will never cease until we arrive at that utopian epoch when the human family shall cease to be afflicted with bodily ailments. One of the most potent weapons which the armory of medicine furnishes, is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which is of special utility as a family remedy, as it is adapted to the immediate relief and ultimate cure of those disorders of the stomach, liver and bowels which are of commonest occurrence. Indigestion, biliousness and constipation are inseparable companions, and these ailments are completely eradicated by the Bitters. But the remedial scope of this superlatively wholesome and genial medicine takes in also nervous ailments, rheumatism and kidney troubles. Its action in these, as in the other complaints, being characterized by unequalled thoroughness.
 No accidents are so unlucky but that the prudent may draw some advantage from them.—Chicago Herald.

FOR THE BLOOD!
 Scott's Specific cured me of Cancer, which was hereditary, for my father died of Cancer. My case resisted all other treatment. In fact grew worse all the time. I left off all other remedies, and took S. S. S. which forced out the poison until my system was cleansed, when the Cancer healed, not even leaving a sign. My health since has been excellent.
