His Name is Apple.

A man by the name of Apple is justice of the peace of Hugard precinct, Union county. He may be sound, but how can he be square.—E. O.

Oh, let up on his shape; what we want to know is, does he ever get mellow? If he is green and sour, you can bet there are no flies on him.—Baker City Herald.

We will rise right here and suggest that if the unfortunate justice happens to be rotten, he'd be a bad one to sit down on some of the sleek-haired attorneys. But what a "soft" snap for a hard case.—Times-Mountaineer.

Now, this thing has gone far enough. If this Apple has stem sufficient to hang on to his branch of the legal profession, and isn't so seedy as to be a disgrace to the bench, what business have newspapers poking fun at him?—Milton Eagle.

This is getting too personal, and we understand Mrs. Apple is be-cider self with grief. Appie says he will not be squeezed too much, and has peeled himself, ready for a mill with his tormentors. Drop it.

Arrested for Assault.

Thomas Butler, of Cornucopia, was arrested last Monday morning, charged with making an assault on Mrs. Redman, a respectable lady of that place. It seems that Mrs. Redman's husband is away from home, and Sunday night about 9 o'clock Butler went to the house and made some improper advances to her, which were promptly repelled. He did not desist, and she got a revolver and discharged it, whether at him or not, is not known, whereupon he thought it best to light out without unnecessary delay. He was arrested next morning and taken before Justice Eaton.

He waived examination and was placed under $200 bonds to appear before the next grand jury. Failing to produce the necessary bonds he was committed to jail and was brought down Tuesday by T. C. Shea, and turned over to Sheriff Hamilton, who now has him behind the bars.

A Sad Experience.

For several years a Kanak or Sandwich Islander has lived with his wife near Salmon Falls in a dug-out. Captain Malipot, as he was called, is totally blind, and last week his wife died, and the blind man being all alone and distant from neighbors, was found trying to bury his dead companion. He speaks broken English, and offered $30, all the cash he had, to have his wife properly buried. Owing to his helpless condition the neighbors raised a purse and Mr. J. S. Hunt took the poor old man to the Methodist home in Portland this week. Captain Malipot was converted by missionaries many years ago and had not only been a preacher himself, but a captain of a boat. He was born about ten years after Capt. Cook was killed by the natives.—Shoshone Journal.

It Didn't Work.

In order to raise some money a Hillsboro church got Hon. Geo. H. Williams to go there and deliver a lecture. Here was the result as narrated by a local paper: "Hon. Geo. H. Williams' lecture at the Congregational church last Tuesday night was very poorly attended. The lecture was a very cool and logical argument and would rank high as a literary effort, but as a card to draw sheekles out of unwilling pockets it was a lamentable failure. If the church is still desirous of raising money to pay for an organ, we advise them to hire a minstrel troupe or give a series of match ball games—something that the average citizen will appreciate."

What's the Matter With You?

You are not "all right." You feel tired, your back aches, you feel shaky in the knees, you are subject to dull headaches, are nervous, cross, and all things don't seem to go just right. In short, you are full of malaria, and you will continue to feel worse until you get something to kill and expel the poison. We recommend Electric Bitters, because it will just fit your case. So confident are we that we guarantee it, which means that your money will be refunded if you are not benefited. No fairer offer can be made. You have a sure thing. Try it. Price 50c, and $1.00 at Brown's drug store, Union Oregon.

Peculiar Disease Among Horses.

The Prineville Review says: R. E. Darsey, of Newsum creek, informs us he has lost sixteen head of horses during the past winter from a peculiar disease, which has been hitherto unknown in this section. The horses are first afflicted with a swelling about the eyes, the limbs become stiff and in a few days they generally die. Very few animals afflicted with this disease ever recover, and medicine seems to have but little effect upon them. The disease seems to be confined to the immediate vicinity of Newsum creek, and is not thought to be contagious.

Dr. J. B. Pilkington.

Surgeon, oculist and medical specialist, of Portland, will be at the Centennial hotel Union from Tuesday noon, May 7th, to Wednesday 11 p. m. May 8th, 1889. All sufferers from any form of disease who have not been able to find a successful treatment are invited to come and get a free special examination and opinion. His specialties are eye, ear, lung, chronic, nervous, rectal, and uterine diseases, catarrh and rheumatic sufferers and old men, complaining women, are especially invited.

A Pointer.

We read in our exchanges of burglaries being committed in different parts of the country. We give these burglars a pointer right here: that before they ever get $21,000 out of this institution they'll walk over the phat man's dead body. We'll fight to the bitter end, and die, before we'll give up that amount of hard cash. Stay away, Mr. Burglar, for you're liable to get hurt if you come fooling round this first class print shop. A word to the wise is sufficient.—Wattsburg Times.

A permanent organization of the Union Theatrical Company was effected last Saturday evening and the following officers were elected: President, M. F. Davis; secretary, Ed. E. Gates; treasurer, Wm. Raley; business manager, B. Canancey; stage manager, J. C. Summers. Their first play will soon be put on the boards.

Quite a number from this city went over to La Grande last Friday to witness the game of base ball between the club of that place and a part of the Cove and Union clubs. It was a very interesting and closely contested game, although the score was rather large. Seven innings were played, the score standing 17 to 15, in favor of La Grande. Another game no doubt will be played between these two nines, as the Cove and Union boys are not satisfied with the above results.

Progress.

It is very important in this age of vast material progress that a remedy be pleasing to the taste and to the eye, easily taken acceptable to the stomach and healthy in its nature and its effects. Possessing these qualities, Syrup of Figs is the one perfect laxative and most diuretic known.

Plows! Plows! Plows! Latest improvements and lowest living prices. Simplest and most convenient method of adjusting beam and line of draft, making plow run lighter and do better work. Has never been equaled and cannot be excelled. The lightest draft sulky plow in the world is the Improved Wheel Land Side Sulky Plow, and there is no plow made that will do better work. These plows all manufactured by the Rock Island Plow Co., and are sold by Frank Bro's, Implement Co. or their agents.
