The Oregon Scout has as large a circulation as any two papers in this section of the State, combined, and is correspondingly valuable as an advertising medium.

Frank Bidwell took his departure, last Monday, for Portland, in company of a car load of hogs which will be disposed of at that place.

The city council of Enterprise, Wallowa county, is making war on the canines that infest that place. The general sentiment seems to be: "Durn a dog, anyway."

Pap Craig's terror is no more. Last Tuesday morning he got in the way of the west bound passenger train and had his head completely severed from his body.

While hunting on Lower Powder last Sunday, Mark Boyd, son of Dr. Boyd of Baker city, was accidentally shot through the knee, making quite a serious wound.

Ladies do not fail to call at Mrs. L. B. Rinehart's millinery store to take a look at those new lace-pattern hats and bonnets just received from fashionable headquarters.

Stult the murderer of Colin Campbell at Sturgill Bar on Snake river the first of July, was sentenced at Weiser on Saturday last to six years in the Idaho penitentiary.

Last Thursday night another fire occurred at Pendleton which destroyed the entire row of wooden buildings on Court street from the La Dow brick to Thompson street.

During the past year only ten members of the G. A. R. of Oregon have answered to the last roll-call, showing that the old veterans are composed of pretty substantial material.

Miss Mathieu, the expert dressmaker, can be found at Mrs. Rinehart's millinery store after the 10th, inst. Ladies wishing first class dressmaking will do well to give her a call.

There are eleven prisoners now in the county jail. Whenever a new arrival makes his appearance they hold a mock trial and the defendant is generally found guilty and "cinched the worst way."

Nels Schoonover took his departure, last Tuesday with a considerable force of men, for the purpose of grading the Wallowa hill. Nels will make short work of it, and do the work exactly as it should be done.

Last Saturday on complaint of Mr. Ames, Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Uim, of High valley, were arrested and charged with trespass on plaintiff's lands. The case will be tried next Saturday before Justice of the Peace, Burleigh.

It is only about two weeks till Decoration day. The day is usually observed in an appropriate manner in this city, and we presume it will be the same this year, although those who should have it in charge are very slow about moving in the matter.

J. M. Bentley recently made a trade with Mrs. Despain transferring his two-thirds interest in 400 head of stock now ranging on the reservation for 3400 sheep. The cattle will be driven to Hot Lake, Union county, and the sheep conveyed from there to ranges beyond Willow Springs belonging to Mr. Bentley.—E. O.

Somebody has figured out the following curious thing about the figures 8 and 9: "The figure 8, which came into use Jan. 1, will appear in every date thereafter for the next 111 years. The figure 9, which has been in service constantly for the last 99 years, will drop out in 1889 and only appear one year in ten thereafter for 299 years, or until the year 2800, when it will come into constant use for another century."

Drs. C. B. Dittbrandt, of Summerville, and M. M. Dittbrandt, of Elgin, were in the city yesterday, for the purpose of registering their names as practicing physicians. While here they called on us. They say they had a talk yesterday with Hunt's railroad surveyors, who are now camped at the mouth of the Looking Glass. The O. R. & N. Co's surveyors are camped at the same place.

Plows! Plows! Plows! Latest improvements and lowest living prices. Simplest and most convenient method of adjusting beam and line of draft, making plow run lighter and do better work. Has never been equaled and cannot be excelled. The lightest draft sulky plow in the world is the Improved Wheel Land Sled Sulky Plow, and there is no plow made that will do better work. These plows all manufactured by the Rock Island Plow Co., and are sold by Frank Bro's, Implement Co., or their agents.

Society note in OklaKoma Herald: "The accomplished Miss Lulu Gady, late of Wichita, is making a short stay with friends from St. Louis, in the red wagon in the hollow over north of the creek."

Mr. Walt Wade and family, of Wallowa county, were in the city the fore part of the week. They were on their way to the Okanogan country in Washington Territory, where they will probably locate. Mr. Jas. McAllister and family are going with them.

Mr. A. L. Ransom, who has been appointed station agent at the Union depot in place of Mr. Benedict, resigned, called on us, Saturday. Mr. Ransom comes here from Pendleton. We have no doubt he will prove a painstaking and trustworthy official.

Mr. Jesse Alberson and wife, of Cornucopia, were in Union a few days ago. They were on their return from Portland whither they had been to take Mr. Alberson's mother who is suffering with a cancer. It is thought that physicians there will soon effect a cure.

Mr. Phil Wilson took his departure for the Willamette last Sunday. He goes as a delegate from Union Lodge No. 39, I. O. O. F., to the Grand Lodge which convened at McMinnville this week. His wife accompanied him, and together they will visit the various places of interest in that section before they return.

Dr. A. L. Danforth, formerly of Wallowa county, called on us Tuesday. He is now located at North Powder and is building up quite a practice there. The doctor has had over 40 years experience and should be a thorough physician by this time. Attention is called to his professional card which appears elsewhere in this paper.

Mr. Chas. Miller, who moved from Telusset to Tacoma, recently, returned last Monday fully satisfied that Union county is the best place after all. He says the continuous rains on the Sound completely demoralized him, and that he feels much better since his feet are again upon his native heath. His wife is still there, but will follow in a week or two.

Prof. A. J. Hackett and ex-County Clerk Frank Wilson, two prominent young men of this city, attended the recent session of the Supreme Court at Pendleton and were admitted to the bar after passing creditable examinations. We are pleased to note their rapid advancement. Prof. Wm. Smith, of the Cove, and Mr. Bartlett, of La Grande, also attended the session and were admitted by certificate, to practice.

Miss Maggie Smith took her departure for Pendleton a few days ago, where she will remain a week or two and then go to her new home in Idaho. Last Wednesday evening a farewell dinner was given in her honor at the Centennial hotel by Mr. Harvey Moreland and E. B. Hill. A number of her friends were there and a most enjoyable evening was passed. The best wishes of all who are acquainted with the young lady go with her.

Mr. V. S. Daviner writes to us from Boston, Mass., that he will start in a few days to Fayal, Azore Islands, and requests the address of his Scout be changed to that place. Although Mr. Daviner seems to be getting nearly out of the world, his friends need not fear for his safety. The inhabitants of the Azore Islands are ignorant, but are temperate and clean in their dress. They are extremely fond of music. The three groups of islands comprise 112 square miles, and contain about 274,000 inhabitants. The chief exports are wine, brandy, grain and oranges. The Scout will keep him informed of matters in Oregon.

A smaller supply of Ladies' and Misses' hats just received at Mrs. Summers' millinery shop. All bright and new just from the manufacturer's hands. The best for summer wear. Call and see them.

Rinehart's Report.

Hon. L. B. Rinehart who was sent to interview the Tacoma Chamber of Commerce in regard to raising the Hunt railroad subsidy, returned yesterday. He says that nothing definite had been done when he left, although a committee was appointed to solicit subscriptions. They look on the proposition with great favor, but are desirous of having an interview with Mr. Hunt in order to settle several questions which they deem important to themselves. On his return Mr. Rinehart had an interview with Hunt at Walla Walla, who authorized him to say to the committee here that if they would communicate with Tacoma and arrange a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce on Friday the 24th inst., he would be there to furnish them all information possible. This will be done and probably a representative or two will go from here. Mr. Rinehart is very sanguine that a considerable amount will be raised in Tacoma.

Death of Frederick Simons.

NEW BRIDGE, May 7th, 1889. The sudden death of Mr. Frederick Simons, Sr., which occurred on May 6th at 3 o'clock p. m., 1889, at his home in Eagle valley, Oregon, has cast a gloom over a happy family and a large circle of friends. Mr. Simons was a man of splendid physique, and to all appearances in perfect health until only a short time before his untimely death. He was a man of energy, doing everything he attempted with his might. As a business man he was honest, seeking the advantage of none. As a friend he was faithful and obliging, frank and outspoken at all times. He held with tenacity to his conviction of right, but when convinced of his error, would gladly yield. As a husband he was thoughtful and true, as a father he was positive, but kind. Our loss is great, but his gain is greater. Mr. Simons leaves a wife and family whom we commend to the sympathy of friends and the comfort of the sad hearts of the deeply bereaved.

TACOMA.

Result of Our Request for Aid in Raising The Hunt Subsidy.

CENTRALIA, (W. T.) May 13, 1889.

EDITOR OREGON SCOUT:— The weather is lovely here. The building boom still lasts. The county assessor has completed his work in Centralia and now we know we have a population of over seventeen hundred people. Six months ago we had about eight hundred. Very good increase for this country.

I returned from Tacoma, Saturday, where I went on last Wednesday to meet L. B. Rinehart. We put in three days working with Tacoma parties trying to make them believe that it would be to their advantage to subscribe something to the Hunt subsidy for building the extension of the O. & W. T. railroad to Grande Ronde valley.

We met with some encouragement and considerable discouragement. There is no question about the business men wanting the road, but about the time the Grande Ronde valley proposition was made to them, Ellensburg came in with a similar proposition and I think they virtually rode our proposition to death with theirs. I think, however, something will be subscribed in Tacoma. The matter has been prosecuted to the appointment of a soliciting committee, but up to Friday evening 10th inst., nothing had been done. Committee reported progress to Chamber of Commerce and asked further time.

Mr. Rinehart stayed with them Saturday, and was to start for home Sunday morning. Lou is pretty hard to discourage and deserves a great deal of credit for what he has done, whether he accomplishes anything or not. I am very sure you would have had no better results from sending any other man. The facts are, as some of the business men said: "We are just rode to death with subscriptions. Not a manufacturing institution starts but wants a bonus for locating with us, and they get it too." Another drawback to our operations there was that about the time we got to Tacoma a telegram appeared in the OREGONIAN purporting to be from Walla Walla, to the effect that Walla Walla county would bond itself for $300,000, thus obviating the necessity of any subsidy for the Grande Ronde extension, or even the other roads that have their subsidies raised. Such liberality is without a parallel, when a county bonds herself to build railroads through an adjoining state. Verily somebody is at work to defeat the building of the O. & W. T. railroad into Grande Ronde valley, but the road will be built, over that line sooner or later. The O. R. & N. Co. left the bars down in order to enable them to kill all the towns in the valley except one, and build that up in their own interest at the expense of all others, and it is only a matter of time when another road goes there and carries away the trade. D. B. REES.

His Business Booming.

Probably no one thing has caused such a general revival of trade at Brown's drug store as his giving away to his customers of so many free trial bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. His trade is simply enormous in this very valuable article from the fact that it always cures and never disappoints. Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Croup and all throat and lung diseases quickly cured. You can test it before buying by getting a trial bottle free, large size $1. Every bottle warranted.
