as life lasts. The last benediction of parental love and solicitude! with what tenacity it clings to the memory when almost all else is gone. How important, therefore, that the home be maintained intact as long as possible, a haven of loving counsel, of peace and joy, to the growing children. Death invades, the fire goes out on the hearthstone and the family is scattered. What the children lose by the death of a parent, only those realize who have grown up without that love and advice which a parent alone can bestow. Homo,
