

THE OREGON SCOUT.

AMOS K. JONES, EDITOR.

The Oregon Scout has as large a circulation as any two papers in this section of the state, combined, and is correspondingly valuable as an advertising medium.

Thursday, Nov. 7th, 1889.

For a full description of Union County see inside pages.

Concerning the Land Office.

The following letter has been sent out by Mr. Rinehart, Register of the La Grande land office:

"No more filings or entries can be made here until some one has been appointed to fill the vacancy caused by the death of the late Receiver.

The office will be kept open for information, etc., and, unless differently instructed, when parties who have advertised to make final proof appeared at the time designated in notice, the testimony will be taken, but final action on the same will be deferred.

All applications by mail to file on or enter land, and the papers in final proof cases, will be filed as received, but final action on the same will not be taken.

County judges and clerks in the district may continue to take final proof as usual, and forward testimony to this office, where they will be filed in regular order as received.

Up to this time we are unable to learn who will be appointed to fill the place of the late Receiver, or when the regular business of the office can be again proceeded with, but if an appointment of an Oregon man is made, it will necessary take about a month before he can give his bonds and receive his commission, and in the mean time the business of the office will have accumulated to that extent, that without additional help, it will be some time next year before the office can catch up with the work."

That Building Association.

The Minneapolis Tribune has this to say of the American Building and Loan Association of that city, of which there are numerous members in this section of the state, and which is being generally exposed: "It is the business of reputable and honest organs of local opinion to see that establishments locating themselves here and thriving upon the good name of this community shall not go up and down the land pushing improper schemes without being called to explanation or account. It is the belief of many quarters of the East and West, that the American Building and Loan association is a scheme to defraud the poor and unwary. The least reputable part of the business of this American Building and Loan association, is its expense. This American association exists solely and purely because it can collect under guise of an expense fund an enormous sum of money that goes presumably, in the pockets of the managers. No other financial institutions ever organized on earth, not even the worst of the bogus assessment insurance companies, have ever as we believe made such exorbitant charges for expenses."

East Eagle Mines.

From parties in from Eagle valley we learn that there has been several valuable ledges discovered on the East Eagle, about six miles north of Sanger, in Union county, which have attracted considerable attention and numerous prospectors, mining men and speculators have gone in there, several parties from Sanger and Baker City taking in supplies for the winter. One ledge belonging to Cook & Younger, assays $124 to the ton of average rock. The ledge located by Frank Melroe, namely, the C. T. Bradley, Truitt Roy, and Maiden's Prayer, have been bonded by the Sanger company for $21,000. This portion of Union County will yet be heard from in a manner that will surprise many.

Fire at North Powder.

Last Friday evening about 8 o'clock a lurid glare in the direction of North Powder attracted the attention of our citizens, and many were the conjectures concerning the cause of it. We have since learned that it was caused by the burning of the planing mill at that place owned by the Oregon Lumber Co. The fire caught from the engine, after work had ceased that day, and when it was discovered, had gained such headway that nothing could be saved. The building, together with the machinery and a considerable amount of lumber was entirely destroyed. The loss to the company is estimated at about $3000.

Renews Her Youth.

Mrs. Phoebe Chesley, Peterson, Clay county, Iowa, tells the following remarkable story, the truth of which is vouched for by the residents of the town: "I am 73 years old, have been troubled with kidney complaint and lameness for many years; could not dress myself without help. Now I am free from all pain and soreness, and am able to do all my own housework. I owe my thanks to Electric Bitters for having renewed my youth, and removed completely all disease and pain." Try a bottle, only 50 cents at Brown's drug store, Union, Oregon.

Increased, Did It?

Baker City has increased about $200,000 in taxable property during the past year. Ex. Such items indicate nothing these days under our present miserable system of assessment. With property at the same value in a place like Baker City an assessment could be increased that amount with an ease that would be astonishing. A fluctuation in assessment is nothing with a change of assessors.—Albany Democrat.

Church Notice.

There will be preaching Sunday at 11 a. m. and 7 p. m., at the M. E. church. Evening theme, "The Existence of a God." This will be the beginning of a course of several sermons on the evidence of Christianity. A special invitation is extended to all who are in any way skeptical, to hear these sermons. We understand that the pews in the Presbyterian church will be removed soon, and replaced with chairs. This change will be appreciated by the church-going people.

Railroad officials state that more sheep have been transported over the Short Line this past summer for eastern points than at any previous time. The shipments were principally from different parts of Oregon.

A meeting of the voters of this school district will be held at the school house next Saturday at 2 p. m., for the purpose of voting a tax for the support of the school. All interested should not fail to attend.

It is now a settled fact that the Presbyterian college will be located in this city. The proceedings of the board and other matters concerning this new enterprise will be given hereafter. There is room for many more such enterprises in Union.

Mr. Shall of Starkey, is preparing to convert the Wario Springs, which can be made a perfect paradise for resorters, into a summer resort, and will have it ready next season for the rush of mountain-goers, with hotel, camping ground, swings, bath houses, etc. He has already ordered lumber for the purpose.

Union county has several superb marble quarries. They are situated on East Eagle creek a few miles north of Sanger, and only need the advent of a railroad to convert them into mines of unlimited wealth. A mountain of blue is also situated in that vicinity. The Hunt road will open up these to the markets of the world.

The East Oregonian and the Scout both complain of the recent action of the Grand Jury. In their respective counties, the system is entirely both expensive and, at times very unsatisfactory. Many states have long since abolished it, with great saving to the taxpayer and a loss to the administration of justice. We have outgrown the Grand Jury.—Wallowa Signal.

A "Real Estate and Mining Exchange" has been established at Baker City by Dr. J. M. Boyd, Chas. H. Duncan and E. S. McComas. The articles of co-partnership show that the object of the new firm is to deal in real estate and promote the real-estate and mining interests in Baker and Union counties, with Dr. Boyd to look after real estate, Duncan to "pass judgment" on mining properties, and Mac to lay these interests before the people of the east.

The Union Pacific and Chicago & Northwestern railways have gone into a combine for ten years. The combination is a Vanderbilt move, and means the running of solid freight and passenger trains from Lake Michigan to the Willamette; extension of the Union Pacific from Southern Utah to Los Angeles; suspension of further Northwestern extension in Wyoming and consequent abandonment of the famous connection "at Boise City" with the Oregon Pacific.

The attention of farmers and grain dealers is called to the superior facilities and advantages offered by Frank Bro's, Implement Co. for the purchase and hauling of all kinds of grain at their large warehouse and elevator at La Grande. They will furnish farmers sacks for the hauling of grain free, and having unlimited facilities for storing and making advances on wheat, can offer superior inducements to those who may desire to hold their wheat for better prices, or they will pay the highest market price in cash. 8-11

Last Sunday morning at La Grande an attempt was made by some unknown man to murder one of the women of the town. They were in a room together when he evidently became temporarily crazed, and making a thrust at the woman with a knife cut a gash in her throat, narrowly missing the jugular vein. After committing the dastardly deed he escaped, leaving his hat and shoes behind. Every effort is being made to capture him, but as yet without avail. That night some one broke into John Williamson's house and stole his hat and boots. No doubt it was the work of the same man, who, in order to make his escape, had to secure those articles. The woman will recover.

OUR RAILROAD.

Manager G. W. Hunt Meets the People of Union.

According to arrangements made, Mr. G. W. Hunt, president and manager of the O. & W. T. railroad, met the people of this city last Thursday for the purpose of discussing the railroad situation. The reception tendered to Mr. Hunt was a warm and enthusiastic one, the court house being packed to its utmost capacity and standing room at a premium. Many representative citizens of Cove, Island City, Summerville and Elgin were in attendance.

A CONFERENCE AT THE COVE.

The meeting was opened by Mr. W. T. Carroll, chairman of the Union committee. Mr. Hunt was invited to address the meeting, which he did in plain and sensible language. He expressed pleasure at the reception given him, and regretted that the work so auspiciously begun last spring should have been delayed, but this was not entirely his fault, the subsidy not being raised at the time specified and other work intervening, together with difficulties in finding a suitable pass over the mountains, had somewhat thrown him out of his calculations. He was, however, now pleased to say that all obstacles had been overcome, a practical route had been found through the mountains, and that he was ready and anxious to build the road, but while this was the case it would be impossible for him to complete it at the time specified in the contract which had been signed by the subscribers to the subsidy, and he would be compelled to ask for an extension of the time. In consideration of further time being given him he was willing to concede something to the people of this county and would commence the construction of the road at this end of the line. He, in behalf of the Oregon and Washington Territory railroad company, would agree to commence work in Grande Ronde valley on or before March 1, 1890, and build at least twenty miles of its railroad grade between Union and Indian valley on or before August 1, 1890, and further agree to complete said line from some point on the Oregon and Washington Territory railroad to Union, Oregon, on or before December 1, 1891, provided the time is changed to conform to this proposition, and right of way and depot grounds are secured from Union to the summit of the Blue mountains on the permanent location of the said line of the Oregon and Washington Territory railroad, and that he would further agree to have the line of this proposed extension of the Oregon and Washington Territory railroad permanently located between Union and Indian valley by way of Summerville sometime next month. He read an extension contract which had been prepared by the committee, embodying the above-mentioned changes, and invited all who were willing to extend him the time asked for, to come forward and sign the same. One hundred and thirty of the subscribers, representing the major portion of the subsidy in this part of the county, went forward and placed their names to the extension contract, among them all the heaviest subscribers. Not a dissenting voice was heard from the vast concourse of people present and the greatest enthusiasm prevailed. After remarks by several citizens and a speech by Mr. Hunt the meeting adjourned.

ENTHUSIASTIC RAILROAD MEETINGS AT SUMMERVILLE AND ELGIN.

Next morning Mr. Hunt and a party of our citizens, among whom were Mayor Kennedy, Hon. L. B. Rinehart, Hon. Dunham Wright, Hon. James Henderson, A. E. Eaton, S. O. Swackhammer, E. S. McComas, S. A. Pursel, A. J. Hackett and Frank Middleton, took their departure for Summerville via Cove. No public meeting was held at the Cove, but a conference was held with representative citizens and the best of feeling prevailed. The people there feel the importance of the road and, we are informed, will sign the extension contract, to a man.

Mr. H. H. French, with characteristic hospitality, had a most superb dinner prepared for the party, and beneath his roof they enjoyed a pleasant hour or two. From there the party proceeded on their way, arriving rather late in the afternoon. The people there gave Mr. Hunt a cordial reception and unanimously received his proposition with favor. The benefit of the road to Summerville can hardly be over estimated and as the people there are fully alive to the situation, no doubt is entertained that all will grant the extension of time asked for. Next day an enthusiastic meeting was held which was largely attended by the citizens of the town and surrounding country. Numerous speeches were made and a complete and satisfactory understanding arrived at. To show that the people there are in earnest and mean business it is only necessary for us to say that out of the $16,000 subscribed there the subscribers of $13,000 of it came forward and signed the extension contracts. The others will follow suit as soon as they can be seen.

All the committees, we understand, are now diligently at work having the contracts signed and there is no doubt that in a very few days their work will be successfully terminated. The permanent survey will be commenced inside of two weeks and will be speedily completed. Mr. Hunt will start east in a day or two and will be gone about fifteen days. When he returns it is his intention to personally superintend the survey through the valley. The committees should see to it that every contract is extended and ready for delivery to the proper custodian inside of the next week. A serious future awaits on Union county and the sooner the business in hand is concluded and the ball of progress set in motion the better it will be for all of us.

DAVIS' QUARTZ MILL.

A correspondent writing from Cornucopia to the Baker Democrat, says: "Mr. W. F. Davis, of Union, has completed the erection of a Huntington quartz mill of ten tons capacity. The mill is connected with Dr. Howard's portion of the Last Chance mine, and there is scarcely a doubt but that Mr. Davis will make a success when he commences to crush ore. Mr. Davis is a first-class mechanic in either wood or iron. He has built nearly the whole of the mill himself, and with a wonderful persistence and continuity of purpose, his success may be considered as certain."

Gratifying to All.

The high position attained and the universal acceptance and approval of the pleasant liquid fruit remedy, Syrup of Figs, as the most excellent laxative known, illustrate the value of the qualities on which its success is based and are abundantly gratifying to the Fig, Fig Syrup Company.

A Bad State of Affairs.

The Wallowa Signal says: "Judge Fee is our ideal of a judicial officer. Upon the bench he knows neither friend nor foe, but meets every question from the legal and judicial standpoint and disposes of it without making a political speech to the 'people' or the tax-payers." The only speech we ever heard him make was when the grand jury returned no indictment against Sutherland for having compelled his child to swear to a lie. He said: "The court finds a strange state of affairs in Wallowa county. When a man is indicted and remains in the county, the indictments are stolen. If he leaves the undertakings are stolen. A party will go before the grand jury and swear to a statement, then come into court and testify that the statement to the grand jury was false, compelled another through threats and duress. And now the grand jury returns 'not a true bill' against the man who used the threats and compelled the false swearing. The court is not responsible for this state of affairs, but if the people can stand it the court can." We regard this as a blow at the grand jury system, which is rapidly becoming a farce, and at the still stronger fact that county vaults and safes will not hold the county records."

Does it Pay?

"No man who is successful in business can get along without advertising," said a well-dressed gentleman the other day who has made his thousands in business. "We started," said he, "my partner and I, on $5,000 apiece in Wichita, Kansas. We advertised in the daily papers to the amount of $300 to $500 per month, and we did this in papers where it cost to advertise. My partner, the first month, thought I would bankrupt the firm, but it soon commenced to come back. Everybody said we could not run up our sales to over $35,000 or $30,000 a year. The first year our sales ran over $75,000 and we had strong opposition. You can easily count it for your self, from $300 to $1000 for advertising and our sales increased from $5,000 to $75,000. The great trouble with most business men is that they do not know how to use printer's ink. For," said he, "a man is a fool at this age of the world who does not advertise when he is in business." The man who made these remarks is today wearing diamonds, and if any man doubts the above he can ask the gentleman, for his name is John V. Moffitt.

TO THE MEMORY

OF J. T. Outhouse, who Passed on October 5th, 1889.

In the dirge we sing o'er him, let no murmur be heard; Unmolested, and free, let the tear-drop be shed— We'll remember his worth, and forget if he erred. While we tenderly gaze on the face of the dead.

From anguish and pain, through the dark night of sorrow— Through the shadows of death, and the valley of gloom He has passed—and the glorious sun of to-morrow, Beams bright o'er the path that ascends from his tomb.

Were thy visions or dreams that illumed the dark night, When I saw standing bright on a beautiful shore, A form like a peri's, in raiment of light. And heard a glad whisper—"All sorrow is o'er."

And I saw two young spirits, love lighting each eye, With outstretching arms, bright as beams from the sun— Heard their voices like silver-toned bells in the sky Crying—"Father, dear father, we welcome you home."

Gross Misrepresentations.

The papers over at the "key-hole" are extremely handy with figures. They recently consumed about a column of their valuable space in elucidating the statement that "During the year 1888 La Grande's shipments of lumber amounted to 2200 carloads." If lying will accomplish anything the "key-hole" will open up, sure enough. The truth of the matter is, that not a single carload of lumber was ever shipped from La Grande. There is no lumber there to ship. Probably that amount of lumber was shipped from the various stations through the Blue mountains, situated all the way from 12 to 50 miles from La Grande, but so far as any good shipments did La Grande they might as well have been made from the Calapooia mountains in Southern Oregon. As the cars could not avoid passing through the "key-hole" on their way out they are counted as "La Grande's enterprises" in the same way that all mail matter that passes over that line is counted as coming from La Grande. The above is only a sample of the misrepresentations originating from that place and we are sorry to see that some of our exchanges copy the articles and give them currency. This is not right and can only injure innocent parties who are seeking locations for themselves and have a right to expect the truth. Respectable newspapers should not, knowingly, lend themselves to such deception.
