TALENTED TRAMPS.

Two Incidents Which Furnish Considerable Food for Thought.

A few days ago a party of some five or six school-boys, on their way home, stopped in front of the home of one of their number. The conversation went from one study to another until it reached the subject of algebra; here it stopped; one of the boys declared himself unable to perform a difficult problem in quadratics which had been assigned to him. His companions tried to help him, but after all hands had failed it was given up as a bad job.

An old and besotted-looking individual who was shoveling coal a few doors away had been watching the boys for some time with a look of amusement on his grimy face. After each one had tried and failed, he slowly laid down his shovel, picked up a piece of coal, and, walking quietly up to the boys, requested permission to look at the problem. After a good deal of laughing it was shown to him, and without saying a word he quietly set to work, and in a few moments had correctly completed the example, writing it out on the pavement with the bit of coal. The boys looked on in wonderment, and could hardly believe their eyes, but were not slow to take advantage of the state of affairs, and in a few moments the work on the sidewalk had been transferred to paper.

The coal heaver in the meantime had resumed his work, which was soon completed, and the last seen of him he was disappearing in the side door of a saloon.

On another occasion a party of four men and one woman were seated in the parlor of a hotel not far from this city. Adjoining the parlor was a bar-room. Leaning against the bar, leisurely drinking, were several countrymen. At one of the tables sat a tramp half asleep. His arm was curled up, forming a support for his shaggy head, which was covered with a tattered slouch hat of ancient manufacture. Suddenly, through the half open door, there came the sound of music; the loungers stopped drinking for a moment, but almost immediately resumed their occupation. Nobody noticed the tramp. At the first sound he had raised his head from the table, and his eyes seemed glued to the door through which the music came. As it proceeded he arose and tottered toward it, but just as he entered the room the music stopped. All eyes turned on the tramp, who was making straight for the piano, which he reached a moment later. Lightly running his dirty fingers over the keys, suddenly he began to play Mendelssohn's "Wedding March." For nearly half an hour the tramp sat thus, playing nothing but the choicest classical music, with a touch and execution that was itself a marvel. The listeners sat astonished and in silence that was not broken until the tramp, rising from the piano, took his hat, and, going through the bar-room to the door, disappeared down the muddy road.—N. VENTILATION IN WINTER.

The Icelandic Plan Used by Some American Housekeepers.

Some house-mothers complain of a large increase of headache as soon as the house is shut up and the fires lighted for winter. One reason is that they pursue the Icelandic plan of ventilation. A gentleman spending a night in an Icelandic house, slept in a room with a number of Icelanders. During the night he awoke up almost suffocated for a breath of air. He awakened his host and asked if some air could not be obtained. The man reluctantly arose, and going to a keyhole in the side of the house, pulled out a cork and held it in his hand a minute or two, then with a shiver, he put it back and pounded it down, saying they should "all freeze to death," and returned to his pillow.

A warm house is an excellent thing in winter. So are warm sleeping rooms, despite the old prejudice some still hold against them. There is nothing health giving in children shivering half the night in cold beds trying to get warm. Many a delicate little one has gone to its grave by such a hardening process. No doubt one great cause for the increased longevity of the race in our land, is because of the warmer houses in winter. My children have slept in well warmed rooms all their lives, and are never under the doctor's care; often for a half dozen years at a time never have to consult one, an uncommon thing among village children of my acquaintance. Depend upon it there is a fallacy in this theory of toughening children, and hardening their constitutions by exposure to cold. Dr. William Hall says he "would as soon think of improving a new hat by banking it around." The only way to harden the constitution is by taking good care of it.

Well-warmed sleeping rooms in winter are a blessing, indeed, and a stove in an upper hall can often secure this. But the rooms should also be well aired some time during the day, and all the blessed sunshine of the short winter day let in somewhere.—Parlor and Kitchen.

Curious Chinese Proclamation.

An official at Ningpo, China, has a curious proclamation to agriculturists in meter of six syllables in behalf of the frog and the sparrow. Of the first it is said: "Frogs are produced in the middle of your fields; although they are little things, they are little human beings in form. They cherish a life-long attachment to their natal soil, and at night they melodiously sing in concert with clear voices. Moreover, they protect your crops by eating locusts, thus deserving the gratitude of the people. Why go after dark with lanterns, scheming to capture the harmless and useless things? Although they may be nice flavoring for your rice, it is heartless to slay them. Henceforward it is forbidden to buy or sell them, and those who do so will be severely punished." Sparrows "sing at their seasons sweetly in the trees," and are "not like wolves, tigers or leopards," which do harm to man. Their capture is alike forbidden.

—In New Zealand, where rabbits are a great pest, they are poisoned with malt, sown in furrows, as turnip seed would be sown; they feed at dusk and in the early morning. In a fortnight 10,000 rabbits were destroyed with only eight bushels of poisoned malt, on the Glen Erin estate, near Kyneton.

—Doctor Macadam used to tell of a tipsy Scotchman making his way home on a bright Sabbath morning when the good folks were wending their way to the kirk. A little dog pulled the ribbon from the hand of a woman who was leading it, and, as it ran from her, she appealed to the first passer-by, who happened to be the inebriate asking him to whistle to her poodle. "Woman," he retorted, with that solemnity of visage which only a Scotchman can assume—"woman, this is no day for whustlin'!"

—The beautiful Earl crematory and chapel in Troy, N. Y., cemetery interests all travelers who visit it. The structure is of Westerly granite, and at the south end is a square tower ninety feet high. A low loggia connects this with the chapel, and in a room west of the chapel is the crematory proper, in which stands a retort constructed on the Venini system. The building was presented to the city by W. S. Earl, as a memento of his son.

—In Philadelphia, which has a colored population of about 35,000, the color line has almost entirely disappeared. There are six influential colored clubs in the city, three colored lawyers and five colored physicians. One of the colored lawyers has crossed swords with some of the most brilliant lights of the bar, and one of the physicians has a practice of $30,000 a year. Three colored dentists have a flourishing practice, and one landscape and one portrait artist are doing good work.

—Three of the new States—Montana and the two Dakotas—have given to women the right to vote at school elections. They have also provided that only one-third of the school lands can be sold at a time, and there must be an interval of five years between the offering of each portion, and none must be sold, unless after fifteen years, for less than ten dollars an acre. If these provisions are honorably carried out, the school systems of these States will have a splendid endowment.

Makeshow and Domuch.

Mrs. Makeshow—My dear Mrs. Domuch, I am collecting clothing for Mrs. Black, who is in great distress. She has four small children, and I am told is quite deserving.

Mrs. Domuch going to her drawer brings out several neatly laundered garments and presents them.

Mrs. Makeshow—Dear me, you do not mean to give such garments as those, do you? Why, they are real good and almost new. Haven't you something that is of no use?—Time.

It is a steel railroad cross-tie, which the illustrious inventor believes will revolutionize railroad construction.

Two years ago last summer, at a kirmess given in Keene, a bronze bust of Cæsar Augustus, loaned by Mrs. C. H. Faulkner, disappeared and was supposed to have been stolen. A few mornings ago the missing bust was found on Mrs. Faulkner's front steps, where it had evidently been left by some person during the night.—Concord People and Patriot.

Joseph Moore, Proprietor of the St. Charles Restaurant, Says They Are.

Editor Oregonian: For fifteen years prior to visiting Drs. Darrin I had been afflicted with a polypus in the nose, with catarrhal discharges; also sorely afflicted with rheumatism. About two years ago I consulted Dr. Darrin, and was cured by him in a short time by electricity and medicine. I have never had any return of my troubles, and consider myself permanently cured. Happy Recovery.

There is nothing I now enjoy that I do not owe to having used Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, of Roundout, N. Y., at a time when I was suffering all that a human being could endure. My troubles began in my kidneys, from which I never expected to recover. My physician said I had Bright's disease. Later I had a bad attack of gravel. Six years ago last June—how well I remember that day—I saw Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy advertised in our paper. After using three bottles I was well. I have never had a return of the disease, and though I am over sixty years of age I am vigorous and strong, as I was in my prime. What physicians and the many remedies I had taken could not do, Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy did; it stayed the disease and made me a well woman.—Mrs. Emiline P. Mizner, Burg Hill, O.

CATARRH,

HAY FEVER, CATARRHAL DEAFNESS. A NEW HOME TREATMENT.

Sufferers are not generally aware that these diseases are contagious, or that they are due to the presence of living parasites in the living membrane of the nose and eustachian tubes. Microscopic research, however, has proved this to be a fact, and the result is that a simple remedy has been formulated whereby these distressing diseases are rapidly and permanently cured in from one to three simple applications made at home by the patient once in two weeks. A pamphlet explaining this new treatment is sent free on application by A. H. Dixon & Son, 337 and 339 West King St., Toronto, Canada.—Scientific American.

Kissed Another Man's Wife.

"You scoundrel," yelled young Jacob Green,
At his good neighbor, Brown.
"You kissed my wife upon the street,—
I ought to knock you down."
"That's where you're wrong," good Brown replied,
In accents mild and meek;
"I kissed her, that I've not denied,
But kissed her on the cheek.
And I did it because she looked so handsome—the very picture of beauty and health. What is the secret of it?" "Well," replied Green, "since you ask it, I will tell you. She uses Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. I accept your apology.
Good night." "Favorite Prescription" is the

The Grave Gets Tired Yawning.

Seemingly, for certain wretched invalids who toddle feebly along, though always looking as if they were going to die, but omitting to do it. They dry up, wither, dwindle away finally, but in the mean time never having robust health, know nothing of the physical enjoyment, the zest of that existence to which they cling with such remarkable tenacity. They are always to be found trying to mend by tinkering at themselves with some trashy remedy, tonic or "pick me up" to give a fillip to digestion, or "help the liver." If such misguided folks would resort and adhere to Hostetter's Stomach Bitters it would be well with them. This superb invigorant supplies the stamina that the feeble require, by permanently reinforcing digestion and assimilation. It overcomes nervousness, insomnia, malaria, kidney complaints, biliousness, constipation, rheumatism and neuralgia.

CAPTAIN S. GREENWOOD,

Master of the Steamship Kanawha.

About a year ago he observed a strange change in his feelings. He felt tired instead of vigorous; nervous instead of strong. His appetite became poor and his sleep broken. He tried to overcome these feelings, but they would not go. He then noticed pains and irritation in the water channels, and that the fluids passed were often thick and with a scum on top or a brick-dust sediment at the bottom. All these were the sure symptoms of that fearful disease, Catarrh of the Bladder, which has always been considered incurable, and they continued until the Captain was in a terrible condition. But he is the picture of health and vigor to-day, and he owes it entirely to that wonderful medicine, Hunt's Remedy. Capt. Greenwood says: "I am so certain of the great value of Hunt's Remedy, that I always carry a supply on shipboard for the uses of my men, and I prescribe it whenever they are ailing. After curing me as it did, and restoring my wife, (whom the best physicians of New York said was dying of tumor,) to perfect health, I swear by it."

This Great Remedy absolutely cures all Kidney, Liver and Urinary Diseases.

THE SAILOR'S DARING.

"Man overboard! Stand by to lower away the boats!" With what alacrity every man on board springs to his post at the dread cry, knowing a fellow creature's life is at stake! Yet that life is in no more danger than that of the man or woman who trifles with what may seem "a simple blood disorder," but which in reality is fast sowing the seeds of a fatal disease, when the early use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery would cleanse the blood, restore impaired digestion, tone up the vital organs and ward off consumption. It should take the place in the family corresponding to that occupied by the life preserver on shipboard. If taken in time, and given a fair trial, "Golden Medical Discovery" is guaranteed to cure. This it will do if taken in the earlier stages of consumption, but after a large part of the lungs have broken down, no medicine can stay its fatal progress. How important then that the earliest premonitory symptoms be heeded! Short breath, spitting of blood, occasional chilly sensations creeping up the spinal column, hacking cough, variable or poor appetite, feeble digestion, with gradual loss of flesh, cold feet, lassitude or general debility, should admonish one that all is not right.

You can't afford to fool away precious time if suffering from any considerable number of the above significant symptoms of approaching danger! It's madness to trifle and experiment with uncertain means of relief and cure when thus afflicted! Don't forget, at such a critical time, that the only medicine possessed of such positive curative properties as to warrant its manufacturers in selling it, through druggists, under a positive guarantee of its benefiting or curing in every case, is the world-famed "Golden Medical Discovery." For all Bronchial, Throat and Lung Affections, Weak Lungs, and kindred ailments, it is an unequaled remedy.

For a Complete Treatise on Blood and Skin Diseases, or for one on Bronchial, Throat and Lung Diseases, enclose ten cents, in stamps, state which book you want and address, WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION, 663 Main St., Buffalo, N. Y.
