

AT HOME.

Paraphrastic Record of Recent Happenings in and Around this City.

Mrs. Rinehart leads in millinery goods. Furnished room to rent. Enquire at this office. Manager G. W. Hunt is expected home, daily. Our people are now feasting on strawberries. The entire democratic ticket was elected in Umatilla county. Small house for rent on Main street. Enquire of Mrs. L. B. Rinehart. Sam'l Miller is beautifying the front of his furniture store with a coat of paint. Our leading merchant, Mr. A. Levy, is having a large and commodious warehouse built. Numerous flags are floating on the breeze in this city and congratulations are the order of the day. The Pendleton Daily Tribune has suspended publication and the weekly, only, will be issued hereafter. The agony is over, the county seat question is settled. You can now find time to pay your love drug store account. Mrs. J. W. Idaho, was visited by a disastrous fire last Thursday night and about $1,000 worth of property was destroyed. Several of Bud McAllister's horses have been taken to Walla Walla and will compete in the races which commence on the 17th inst. Last Thursday, Mrs. Fred Nodine, while coming to town from the ranch, was thrown from the back and sustained a fracture of the collar bone. Ladies if you want to be delighted drop in at the millinery store of Mrs. Rinehart and look at the elegant display of new hats, gloves, ribbons, etc., just received. The Chieftain says: "Walla Walla county is safely republican by about 150 majority, yet the democrats elect their sheriff, one commissioner and probably the representative." Welser City, which was destroyed by fire a few days ago, will be rebuilt on a new site nearer the Oregon Short Line railroad depot, within a short distance of the Snake river. Lost.—A small key ring on which were two small steel keys and one brass key. The finder will be suitably rewarded by returning the same to this office or to Taylor Green. Mr. A. W. Ramsey came up from the Sound last Monday and is now in the city. We understand he will take Mr. W. T. Wright's Jersey cows back with him and dispose of them in that market. The La Grande Pilot has suspended publication, not being able to exist any longer. It lived fully as long as we thought it would. Mr. Glenn will, probably, learn a few things by the time he gets to be a hundred years old. If you want to buy stove or hardware of any kind, call on Summers & Layne. They lead in that line and their prices will suit you. A fine line of tinware on hand and made to order. Trade with Summers & Layne. Hunt's graders are camped at the Lone Star school house three miles south of town. Work is progressing nicely and about one more month at the present rate of grading will complete the contract for this year.—Summerville Annulet. It will be seen by the official count that L. Lang and W. D. Arnold received an equal number of votes for commissioner. How would it be to fix up an arena and let them fight it out, the rate money to go toward reducing the indebtedness of the county? A meeting of the Union Cemetery Society will be held at the residence of Mrs. E. S. McComas to-morrow evening at 7 o'clock, to make arrangements for the strawberry and ice cream festival. All persons interested are invited to be present, particularly the young ladies who are willing to assist in the work. The Annulet says: "News reached here Thursday evening of the sad and unexpected death of Wyatt Ezell, of Elgin. Mr. Ezell was a young man highly respected by all who knew him and his sudden death is a terrible blow to the community. It is supposed that heart disease caused his death." A team belonging to Robt. Eakin, which was being driven through town by Johnny Haines, last Tuesday, became frightened at something and ran away. The wagon collided with the sidewalk at the corner of Main and A streets, and was nearly demolished. The horses tore loose from the wagon and continued their flight and were not captured for some time afterward. Luckily no other damage was done. The New Walla Walla Herald says: "The county seat contest between La Grande and Union resulted in a victory for Union over the most shameful repeating at La Grande and refusal on part of her citizens to allow challengers to be present according to law. They added laurels to their reputation made at their municipal election last spring. The course pursued by leading citizens of La Grande did that city more real damage than any calamity it ever suffered—more than the securing of half a dozen county seats could replace." Anyone purchasing goods will invariably seek the establishment where a complete stock is to be found from which they may select. This is particularly applicable to the ladies when selecting millinery goods, and accounts for the great success of Mrs. Rinehart, and the numerous patrons that daily visit her store. She makes it a rule to keep none but the very latest styles of goods and the best quality. During the past week or so she has received several large shipments comprising such a varied assortment that it would be difficult for us to particularize and mention any of them at this time. The ladies should visit Mrs. Rinehart's establishment and judge for themselves.

Devine, editor of the Summerville Annulet, and Mr. Lee Wade, who were among those who came up to celebrate with us, called at our office, Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Boothe, of Lower Cove, visited Union last week. While here Mr. Boothe called and subscribed for THE SCOUT, to be sent to L. J. Boothe, Innaha, Walla Walla county. Mr. Lou Eaton is census agent for this section and is now busily at work. Lou is rather peaceably disposed and it is probable he will get through with the work without being killed. Mr. S. H. Foreman, representative of the New York Life Insurance Co., and Mr. Thos. Flynn, representative of the Seattle Building and Loan Association, were in town this week. They are rustlers from way back. Taylor Green, Jr., and wife took their departure, yesterday, for Malheur City where they will reside for some time. Mr. Green, before leaving, came in and subscribed for THE SCOUT to be sent to him there. Mr. Isaac W. Spears writes to us from Crook county and renews his subscription. He said: "Yesterday was election day. Democrats and republicans are about evenly divided here, but out of 37 votes polled in this (Ochoco) precinct, Penney received 131. That is the way we do it on the Ochoco." Mr. George Beard and wife, and Miss Emma Seamons, while out riding last Monday met with quite a mishap. While crossing Little creek the singletree broke and the horses becoming frightened turned the buggy over, precipitating the occupants into the water. All three came out "as wet as drowned rats," but were not otherwise injured. Serious Accident. Last Saturday Thos. Martin and Wm. Wilson, of Big creek, were coming to town in a buggy, and while coming down Pyle's canyon the buggy tongue broke and the horses ran away, overturning the buggy and throwing the occupants out. Mr. Martin received several slight bruises but was not seriously injured. The old gentleman, Mr. Wilson, was knocked insensible and it was thought for a time that he was badly hurt internally. He was brought to the Centennial hotel in this city where he is at present and is getting along nicely. It is probable that his injuries are not of a serious character. The First Step. Mr. and Mrs. Raymond, who were away from home during the evening, returned about 9 o'clock and found a man skulking around the back yard who gave a signal as they approached, evidently to some one on the inside. Mr. Raymond then rushed around to the side window just in time to see the burglar emerge therefrom, but being unarmed was unable to prevent his escape. The house was ransacked from top to bottom and several valuable articles were taken. The Fourth of July at Big Creek. Preparations are being made for a grand Fourth of July celebration at Big Creek and all are cordially invited to attend. An old fashioned picnic dinner will be served and a good time may be expected. A New Strike.

Word came in from the Dolly Varden mine yesterday to the effect that Thomas White had just made a new and rich discovery in Paddy's Paradise. While out hunting in the locality named, Mr. White found a ledge of fine gold quartz four feet thick which shows one streak of ore that carries a dollar to the pan. It has been uncovered to a depth of ten feet, and improves in quality as depth is obtained. Some wonderful rich placer ground has been worked in Paddy's Paradise in former years, and it is believed this ledge is what has fed the placers. Those who have seen the new strike estimate that the whole ledge will average $15 free gold to the ton, exclusive of the high grade streak.—Blade.

OUR CELEBRATION

Hundreds of Visitors Join in the Festivities.

SUPPER SERVED IN THE OPEN AIR.

An Impressive Parade and a Magnificent Display of Fire Works.

Last Saturday, the day set for the celebration of our county seat victory, was a gala day in Union. Friends from all parts of the county kept pouring in during the day and at five o'clock it is estimated that there were about one thousand visitors present. An immense table, probably a hundred yards long, had been built along the center of B street adjoining Nodine's grove, the umbrageous trees on either side making a most pleasant and inviting spot. Upon this table was spread in profusion everything in the way of edibles that could tempt the hungry or tickle the palate of the epicure. About 7 o'clock all were invited to the table, and soon two long lines of happy men, women and children were discussing the viands and enjoying the time with pleasant conversation, witty repartee and merry laughter. Truly it was a pleasant sight to see, and we think will be long remembered by the participants. After all had partaken of supper the programme commenced. The Union Silver Cornet Band, which had been discoursing sweet strains of music, now marched to the court house, followed by the vast throng. Here a procession was formed and marched down Main to A street, then down A to Second street, up Second to B street, then up B to the intersection of Main street. First came the cornet band followed by the most beautiful and attractive feature of the procession—about a dozen of the handsomest young ladies of Union, standing on Hall Bro's dais, which was beautifully decorated with the national colors. While the procession was moving along the young ladies sang several stirring songs. Then came a large number of old pioneers, marching in double file, and bearing aloft a banner upon which was inscribed, "We laid the foundation of Union in 1864." After these came a company of younger men, headed by the irrepressible George Newcomb, carrying a banner inscribed with the words, "We fought for you and cut the mustard in 1880." Following these came a company of boys with a banner upon which were the words, "We'll help you next time—Union forever." After these, marched a large number of citizens. When the procession stopped at the intersection of Main and B streets the young ladies in the dais—the center of attraction—sang a song of welcome, prepared for the occasion, which contained several hits which were enthusiastically received. The people were then addressed by Mr. A. E. Eaton in a neat and appropriate

The happy couple took their departure in the evening for Huntington where Mr. Deacon has charge of the railroad company's business. The Fire Crated Monopoly.

The Baker City Democrat says: "The fire in Baker City which occurred in 1885 destroyed a portion of the records of the county, which have never been replaced, and G. O. Holman and M. D. Wisdom own the only set of abstract books covering those portions of the records which were destroyed. These books were recognized and authenticated by the act of the legislature of the state of Oregon, approved November 24, 1885, and found in Hill's Code, page 1718. The present owners of the books have offered them for sale for the sum of $25,000, and the Baker City Abstract, Title, Guaranty and Trust company has recently been formed as a corporation for the purpose of acquiring the title to those books, and constructing a general abstract business at Baker City."
