WHAT HE SAW WITH ONE EYE.

A Quarrelsome Dutchman-A Facetious come over 2000 miles." Sawbones-Life in a Flat.

EDITOR OREGON SCOUT :-

Having been frequently askel many questions since my return from the east, about what I heard, saw, and had done, during my visit, I will answer the propounded questions and relate briefly what I saw and heard in the shape of a published narrative.

Paying $84 for passage to Chicago, and $3.50 for tourist car berths to Omaha, entitled myself and wife to comfortable quarters on the U. P. R. R. We boarded the cars at Union, and soon the beautiful Grande Ronde valley with its wonderful and varied scenery and richness faded in the distance and we were whizzing away to the eastward toward the great city of the west. After passing the powder river valley, nothing of importance is seen until the great Payette nursery with its 120 acres of all kinds of fruits and trees grown in the Northwest, is seen. The trees from this celebrated nursrry are well known to Grande Ronders. Nothing of interest happened us till we reach Green river, when we were surprised to learn that we were to be transferred to another train or wait for the Portland train, which we concluded not to do. The second night, we left Cheyenne. Darkness reigned supreme and we were on the down grade, going with lightning speed, causing the train to sway from side to side like the roll of a ship at sea. This peculiar sensation, probably, brought back the recollection of my earlier days, for I dreamed I was following that exciting and somewhat enchanting life. "A life on the ocean wave;" that I was on a whaling voyage and had just sunk my harpoon deep into one of those monster spern whales, which, thus fastened, was towing the boat with fearful velocity, causing it to rock from side to side. I had almost got him under control when I was suddenly awakened by the porter shaking me vigorously

"What's up now?" says I.

"I want to see your ticket," says he "I think you are on the wrong train. "I don't, but here's my ticket."

"Oh, I thought you wanted to go to Denver."

"Where are we?" I enquired.

"Going down grade from Cheyenne, and running like the D-1." We reached Council Bluffs the next day and crossed the river, on that wonderful iron bridge, to Omaha, where we bid farewell to our tourist car and took a first-class car on the Rock Island road to Chicago.

One learns much of human nature, and sees the bitter and sweet of temper in traveling. For instance, we had one old German on board who was going from the Sound to visit the scenes of his childhood in the dear old Fadderland. This party quarreled with all whom he came in contactconductor, brakeman, porter, and even the cabman. He wanted to go to New York, but quarreled with the cabman about seeing his ticket. The cabman's business was to carry free to the Illinois Central depot any person who had a through ticket. The old fellow wanted free passage, but did not want to show his ticket, and spent much more time in wrangling than would have taken to have shown it. We were glad he left us.

Arriving at Chicago in two days and 21 hours from Union, we found we were only a block away from the North Pacific hotel. This cosy place is kept by a Mrs. Thompson, a lady of high culture and refinement, whose husband is an emminent lawyer, and who, with the State's attorney, has just succeeded in sending to the pen for eighteen months the notorious and wealthy Mollie Monroe, who has defied the law for the last ten years by buying witnesses, lawyers, judges and juries by the lavish outlay of her illgotten gains. Reaching the hotel we presented a letter of introduction given us by our friend W. H. Me-Comas before leaving Union, and were shown to handsomly furnished rooms where we enjoyed a good substantial rest. On the following day we called at the office of Dr. Holmes, who, to our great disappointment, we learned had gone to Europe. Dr. Holmes has

After diligent inquiry we concluded to call on Dr. Bettman, an emminent oculist, at his office in Central Musical Hall. After waiting my turn in the "Well," he said, "I suppose you want me to tell you the truth and the whole truth?"

"Yes sir," I said, "that is why I have

The left eye can be operated on in about six months after the right eye has been removed. I can perform the operation on the right eye this 5:30 p. m. if I can secure rooms at the hospital."

After considerable telephoning he secured me comfortable quarters at Michael Rees Hospital, whither later in the day we took the cable cars and arrived at the hospital as per agreement. While waiting for the doctor to arrive I heard the following Elijah, but the Buzzards are feeding conversation by telephone:

"Hello! Call Dr. Friend."

(Dr. F. comes.) "Helto, how's my patients?" "Fine."

This "fine" part of the business, I thought, was on the part of the patient somewhat like the frog said to the boys who were stoning him: "It may be fun for you, but death to me."

Dr. B. soon arrived and after summoning his assistants I, accompanied by Mrs. Coffin, stepped into an elevator and was taken up to the operating and well advanced. Call on R. "Dr., what are your charges?" "My regular price is $500" he replied, "but you have come so far and make a liberal reduction."

I forgot to say that on the first morning I was at the hospital I was presented a bill for $30. I learned the whether you were there two days or two weeks. However, if you do not remain two weeks, the money for the I was able to leave the hospital, and rented a room in a flat. A flat is an ordinary house with a flat roof, upon the right to wash and hang out their clothes to dry. My experience is that I would much rather live in one of one of Chicago's finest flats.
