

Notice to Debtors.

Several weeks ago we placed some accounts in the hands of Wilson & Hackett for collection.

AT HOME.

A Paragraphic Record of Recent Happenings in and Around the City.

The roads are in excellent condition. Young Smith was taken to the penitentiary last Friday by Sheriff Bolles.

Arnold is still at large, and the probabilities are that he will not be captured.

Mrs. Rinehart leads in millinery, a fact that the ladies will do well to keep in mind.

If you are needing $50 or more for a month or term of months, call on A. J. Hackett.

It is said that grouse and pheasants are to be found in large numbers on the head waters of Powder river.

Bicycling, which was such a favorite sport with our boys during last year, has about vanished from our midst.

Vincent has just replenished his stock by the addition of a varied assortment of rubber shoes for the fall and winter trade.

Another quartz mill is being taken into Sanger. It will be put up a short distance from the Sanger mill. Samson Roy is the owner.

The residence of J. W. Shelton is being painted from top to bottom, and is beginning to present a very creditable appearance.

The work of laying brick on Jos. Wright's new building was commenced last Monday. The structure will be rapidly pushed to completion.

Remember that the city board of equalization meets on the 17th inst. If you have a kick to make in regard to your assessment make it then.

I have for sale a lot of household furniture, consisting of wardrobe, bureaus, stoves, tables, chairs, etc. Will be sold next week cheap for cash.—J. R. CURTIS.

The Hutchinson Bros. finished threshing their immense crops in the Powder river country last week. It consisted of something over 22,000 bushels of grain.

All those indebted to me are requested to call and settle at once. If anyone has a bill against me they will please present it and it will be paid at once.—J. R. CURTIS.

The large new saw mill recently erected in Burns, Harney county, together with about 400,000 feet of lumber, was destroyed by fire last week. It was the work of an incendiary.

Fred Nodine & Son this week sold their entire crop, consisting of 800 tons of hay at $12 per ton on cars; 10,000 bushels of oats at $1.12 per cwt. and 12,000 bushels of barley at $1.10 per cwt.

An indication of the near approach of winter is the formation of ice on all the small bodies of water in and around the city. It makes a person think what he has done with his summer's wages.

Work was commenced last Tuesday, by County Clerk Oliver, and assistants, on the tax roll, and the copy of the assessment roll for the Secretary of State. It will take about ten days to complete the work.

The city marshal has been instructed to strictly follow the provisions of ordinance number 19 in relation to st. roots, alleys and water ditches.—Baker City Democrat.

What a pity it is that the Union street commissioner cannot get him far orders.

The Union merchants, by fair and honest dealing, are gradually securing the trade of the south east part of the county.

Mr. A. J. Nicholson, of Cornucopia, departed yesterday with a four horse load of goods for that no promising camp.

Hon. Dunham W. right of Medical Springs, had on exhibition at the fair recently held at Baker City, some fine specimens of fruit, consisting of apples of different winter varieties, peaches, pears, tomatoes, etc., and it elicited much praise as a choice collection of Eastern Oregon fruit.

Mr. W. has one of the best orchards in Union county and in a few years more will have a large crop of all kinds of fruit for market. The Scout is pleased to know that Union county productions make such favorable impression on Baker City people.

The people of Union have been afflicted this week with a combination calling themselves the Rena Marsells Dramatic Company.

Although their audiences have been exceedingly slim they have been enabled to get in their work for three nights owing to their economical living. They have a car at the depot where they retire to eat and sleep, only emerging therefrom to give their alleged entertainments. After each performance they hoof it to the depot, a distance of two miles, rather than patronize the hotel to a cent. Whatever they get out of the community is a clear gain to them. Our people should give them no encouragement whatever.

The ducks and geese are gradually becoming aware of the fact that shot comes pretty high in this country. It is also dawning upon their simple minds that it is fall time. Along the banks of the creeks and in the tules they are continually hearing reports, giving additional assurance of these facts, viz.: shot comes high and the fall of the leaf and feather has come. The first flocks of these welcome birds are in line condition and now is the time for the gallant sports of Union, Cove and other valley towns to arrange a fowling match, a duck supper and a dance. The ladies don't want to be tramping at home all this blessed autumn.

Board of Trade Meeting.

At the Board of Trade meeting Oct. 9th the special committee appointed to revise the constitution and by-laws so that they would conform to the constitution and by-laws adopted by the State Board, reported some important changes.

Honorary members will be received from each precinct in the county. L. J. Davis, E. S. McComas and Geo. F. Hall were appointed on a special committee to correspond with leading citizens of each precinct or town not having an organization, to lead their influence to the Board by naming a committee of three, from their respective precincts who will advise this Board of their needs etc.

The constitution and by-laws were adopted and revised. The secretary authorized to purchase the books necessary for use in his office and to properly transcribe the constitution and by-laws into his record book, also to wait upon the members, and get their names subscribed, and to collect $1.00 the first quarters dues from each member at the time of signing.

The dues for membership were fixed at one dollar a quarter payable in advance. E. S. McComas, A. Levy and J. W. Shelton were appointed as a committee to see what arrangements can be made towards securing a suitable room as a permanent place of meeting for the Board, to report at the next regular meeting. The meeting was well attended and all present were earnest and determined to make the Union Board of Trade a success.

The next meeting will be held at the court house the 1st Monday in November, at 7:30 o'clock p. m. It is to be hoped that every citizen of Union who feels an interest in the welfare of Union and Union county will be there and if they do not enroll themselves before that time will do so then. The cost of membership is light. There are many important things to be done throughout the State, and we must do our part or we will be left out in the cold.

Come out at the next meeting and bring your wives. The annual election will be held and that is an important part of the business.

THE ASSESSMENT ROLL.

An Increase Valuation of $275,605 Over That of Last Year.

The assessment roll for 1890 was turned over by Assessor Guild to Clerk Oliver yesterday. It shows a marked gain in valuation of all the taxable property in the county, aggregating in all the sum of $275,605. The revenue to be derived by the county will be correspondingly increased.

Notwithstanding the hard winter since the last assessment, a considerable gain in the number of all kinds of stock is noted. The summary taken from the roll of 1890 is as follows:

Table with 2 columns: Property type and Value. Includes Farming land, Houses and lots, Improvements on land, etc.

Total taxable property, $3,411,455. The total number of polls for the year is 1600 against 1492 last year, showing that Union county is growing in population as well as in wealth.

The Scout is pleased to note these indications of prosperity, and looks forward to no distant day when our inviting county will rank among the foremost in the State in the points of population and wealth.

Lively Times at Cornucopia.

Cornucopia is fast recovering from its dull state during the past few months and is on the eve of a prosperous era. A Scout reporter, in conversation with a recent arrival from that place, learned that the Oregon Gold Mining Company, under its new management, is pushing things in a manner that indicates that there is money behind that company, and that they intend to use it in developing that country of hidden treasures, and demonstrate to the mining world that Cornucopia is what her discoverers claim she is—a land of buried gold.

The company is employing miners as fast as they arrive in the town, and this heretofore somewhat dormant camp is taking on itself for the first time a form of permanent activity. The company's 20-stamp mill is now crushing ore from the Red Jacket mine and will be kept running for months to come.

George Baird, one of our genial tonsorial artists, visited Portland and the exposition this week. While leisurely standing on the corner of Second and Washington streets in that city, looking eastward, he observed the masts and spars of a large sea going vessel towering far above the massive buildings that obstructed the lower part of the craft from view. George mistook them for a dead and moss-covered remnant of a forest, and innocently remarked to a bystander that he thought building room was too valuable in that city to allow a part of a forest to remain unoccupied in the heart of town. The stranger, without cracking a smile, informed George of his mistake, and the latter immediately "set 'em up," took a sneak, and made a firm resolve not to make another break.

The Centennial Hotel.

Nearly three years ago the management of this now well known and popular caravansary was assumed by Mr. A. J. Goodbrod, a gentleman qualified in every respect to properly conduct an establishment of the kind. By the employment of competent and obliging help, and by his personal supervision of all the different departments of the house, the name of the Centennial was soon a household word with the traveling public, and especially with the commercial men, the latter class often spending several days in recreation and rest, enjoying the hospitalities of this favorite abode.

The dining room is a model of neatness and cleanliness and is presided over by three charming and attentive waitresses. The table is furnished with all the luxuries the market affords. Considerable patronage is given the hotel by our own citizens who take a pardonable pride in the institution and lend all in their power to keep the house up to the highest standard of excellence. May the Centennial, in the future as in the past, retain the name of the best hotel in Eastern Oregon.
