J. H. Turner, of Pendleton, Grand Prelate, and Henry Blackman, of Heppner, Grand Vice Chancellor, On Monday last a post of the Woman's Relief Corps of the G. A. R. was organized in this city by Mrs. Mary H. Ellis, president of the State department of that organization, Mrs. Etta Olsen, direct from Portland, now has charge of the dressmaking parlors at Mrs. Summers' establishment. All those wishing first-class work will do well to call on her, 10-23-2w, Mr. Jas. Craig, of Ogden, Utah, sent in and subscribed for THE SCOUT this week and desires us to give him what information we can about the resources of Union, and Union county, G. W. Hunt, in a recent interview, denied the report that the Great Northern had secured control of the O. & W. T. road, and would get into Portland by building a line down the Columbia, A petition is being circulated in this county for the pardon of Henry Wright and James Allen, who were convicted of stealing wheat from John Smith on the Sandridge about a year ago, Mr. H. J. Rinehart, of Springer, Harney county, has been in the valley for several weeks past looking after his business interests. He will return home in a few days. While in Union, Monday, he called on us and subscribed for THE SCOUT.

Mrs. Simmons has just received an elegant line of hats of the very latest styles, direct from the eastern factory. Ladies call and see them before purchasing elsewhere, 10-23-41, Ray L. Royce is particularly popular as a comedian with the ladies. His specialties are always distinguished by that peculiar refinement of language and action so pleasing to them, Mrs. Jennie Thomson, the dressmaker, is now to be found at Mrs. Rinehart's millinery store, her services being necessary to keep up with the rush of work at that popular establishment, Bishop Morris will hold services in Ascension church, Cove, Sunday, Oct. 20th; in St. John's church, Union, Tuesday, Oct. 22nd, and in St. Peter's church, La Grande, Wednesday, Oct. 23rd, The Union postoffice is now doing a sufficient amount of business to be a salaried office and this it will no doubt be made in a very short time. This indicates, in a measure, the progress being made by Union, Mr. G. W. Moody and wife, of Eagle valley, took their departure a few days ago, for Springfield, Ill. This will be Mr. Moody's first visit to his old Springfield home in 27 years. He has two brothers living there, whom he has not seen in 25 years. Mr. Moody intends to advertise this part of Oregon and took with him numerous products which cannot fail to convince his eastern friends that for fertility our soil cannot be excelled. The gentleman has a beautiful gold nugget which he will exhibit as a production of the sparta district, weighing something over three ounces and valued at $25, To keep posted on the ever changing fashions requires considerable time and study and many ladies who desire to be tastefully dressed have not the time to give the subject much attention. These should call at Mrs. Rinehart's millinery establishment for anything they need in that line, as she keeps thoroughly posted on all the latest fashions and keeps none but the most skilled dressmakers and trimmers, there being two or three constantly employed. The large assortment of goods kept constantly on hand is complete in every department, and must be seen to be appreciated, 10-23-2w, Adjudged Insane, Insanity is certainly on the increase as evidenced by the fact that two more unfortunate victims were sent to the asylum this week from this county. Mrs. Emma C. Starr, wife of the hardware merchant of Elgin, was examined before Judge Sanders last Thursday and adjudged insane. Mrs. Starr is 35 years of age, and has three children. She worries over imaginary troubles, and talks rapidly and incoherently on all subjects, often times screaming at the top of her voice. She has had three former attacks, three years elapsing since the last one. It is sincerely hoped that under the skilled care of the state physicians that she will soon recover and return home, Mr. Earl M. Thrall, a resident of Cove, was examined on Saturday and ordered sent to the asylum. He is subject to epileptic fits and spasms, during the continuance of which he seems to crave a desire to appear in a nude condition, and invariably proceeds to disrobe himself. Mr. Thrall is a carpenter and is 30 years of age. He was 4 years of age at the first attack and has the spasms regularly about once a month, the same continuing from five to six days each, Resolutions of Condolence, Whereas, It has pleased our great Commander to remove from our midst by death Comrade Joshua Bradford, we, as his comrades, desire to express our estimation of our brother soldier, and to present the following resolutions: Resolved, That in Comrade Bradford we ever found a true patriot, one who loved his country even better than life, a brave soldier, daring to stand by the flag in the most trying circumstances, Resolved, That as a comrade he has ever been true in heart and hand to his fellow comrades, willing and sympathetic in every measure to perpetuate the fraternity of the patriotic soldiery, Resolved, That as a citizen, neighbor and friend, we have ever found him true and faithful, and that we will esteem him in our memory as a worthy comrade, Resolved, That as a Post we express our sympathies with the widow and family of our deceased comrade, L. N. SANDERS, Wm. Young, Committee, S. M. HAYNES, MERRIE WINS, We desire to say to our citizens, that for years we have been selling Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Dr. King's New Life Pills, Bucklen's Arnica Salve and Electric Bitters, and have never handled remedies that sell as well, or that have given such universal satisfaction. We do not hesitate to guarantee them every time, and we stand ready to refund the purchase price, if satisfactory results do not follow their use. These remedies have won their popularity purely on their merits.—B. H. Brown, druggist, Union, O. g. n., Take is Scott's Breakfast, The great appetizer, tonic and liver regulator. In use for more than 50 years in England. Positive specific for liver complaint. Bad taste in the mouth, or arising in the morning, dull pains in the head and back of the eyes, head aching, dizziness, languor—symptoms of liver complaint. Run—Dr. Hedy's English Dandelion Tonic. STOVES FOR EVERYBODY. An Invoice of Over Fifty Superior Heaters Received by Summers & Layne. Messrs. Summers & Layne, our enterprising dealers in hardware, stoves and tinware, have just received an invoice of over fifty heating stoves, of every imaginable style and pattern, to supply the fall and winter demand for these invaluable articles, so essential to render homes comfortable and pleasant during the winter months. They arrived direct from St. Louis and are of the celebrated Charter Oak manufacture. The prices range all the way from $4 to $25 each, thus enabling any person, no matter how he may be financially fixed, to procure a stove that will suit his taste, and still be within range of the purchasing power of his available capital. These celebrated stoves are manufactured by a firm with a world-wide reputation for fair and honest dealing, employing none but skilled laborers and mechanics, and paying good and liberal wages for their work. In other words these articles are not the product of penitentiary foundries, where incompetent apprentices are forced to do the work, taking no pride in the product of their labor, which is, as a consequence, full of flaws and imperfections. This firm also handles the celebrated Charter Oak Ranges, with patent wire gauze oven doors, and every one sold by them is accompanied by a guarantee to the effect that should a flaw be found therein the same will be replaced by a duplicate of the imperfect part or by a new stove. This latest shipment has been marked remarkably low, and THE SCOUT'S advice to intending purchasers is to make a personal examination of this stock and be convinced of the truthfulness of the facts above set forth, before going elsewhere. This firm is composed of energetic business men, who make a specialty of the stove, tin and hardware business, and is deserving of a goodly share of the public patronage, Return of the Favorites. Again we have the pleasure of announcing the appearance of the favorite Royce & Lansing Musical Comedy Co. This is one of the few amusement organizations which is an honest pleasure to commend to the public. They have kept faith with the public and have received in return the public's most hearty support and praise. A private letter from Mr. Ray L. Royce, says: "We remember with pleasure our former visit to your city, and the cordial welcome extended us at that time. We return to you with a larger and stronger company than ever before and a programme of exceptional excellence, one which will particularly commend itself to those theatergoers who delight in a performance at once artistic, laughable and refined." That Mr. Royce will fulfill the above to the letter, is undoubted by any who have had the pleasure of witnessing the previous entertainments given by this company, A Safe Investment. Is one which is guaranteed to bring you satisfactory results, or in case of failure a return of purchase price. On this safe plan you can buy from our advertised druggists a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. It is guaranteed to bring relief in every case, when used for any affection of Throat, Lungs or Chest, such as Consumption, Inflammation of Lungs, Bronchitis, Asthma, Whooping Cough, Croup, etc. It is pleasant and agreeable to taste, perfectly safe, and can always be depended upon. Trial bottles free at B. H. Brown's drug store, Union, Oregon, Dr. Jno. B. Pilkington, Surgeon-Oculist, Aurist and Medical Specialist of Portland, will be at the Centennial Hotel, Monday evening, Oct. 27th till Tuesday, 4:30 p. m. Oct. 28, 1890. Eye, Ear, Lung, Uterine, Recital, Nervous and Chronic cases will be given an experts examination and opinion free, Will be at Hilgard all day Wednesday Oct. 29th, SANGER SIFTINGS, Oct. 14, 1890, EDITOR OREGON SCOUT:—Sanger Roy, Sanger's most enterprising citizen is putting up a three-foot Huntington mill. The boiler and engine are in position and the completion of the mill is a matter of only a short time. It will, no doubt, create quite a boom in the district. Mr. Roy has one of the best mines in this part of Oregon. It is situated on a slope and easy of access. The ledge is from ten inches to three feet in thickness of rich free-milling ore, the lowest assay being $105 gold and 5/8 ounces silver, while some of better grade goes from $1,200 to $1,500 per ton. Mr. Roy being a mining man and an engineer we see no reason why he should fail. G. A. Nunn has a contract to furnish him 100 cords of wood. We shall soon be booming a town of our own on Goose creek of the free and independent order. Union trade solicited, MRS. ANON, CLEAR YOUR FACE. It has been heretofore shown in these columns that modern medicine has demonstrated that a pimply skin is not the result of blood disease, but is caused by impaired digestion, for which they now give vegetable correctives instead of poisons and mineral blood purifiers. Two short months ago here given to contrast the action of the potent Sarsaparilla and Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla. Mrs. C. D. Stuart of 1221 Mission street, S. F., writes that she took one of the leading Sarsaparillas for indigestion and dyspepsia. Its only effect was to cause pimples to appear on her face. Upon taking Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla the first effect was the disappearance of the pimples and she was subsequently relieved of her indigestion and dyspepsia. Robert Stewart also writes from Petaluma, Cal., that being troubled with boils he found that one of the leading Sarsaparillas actually increased the eruptions, which responded at once to Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla and disappeared almost immediately, Every annual fully warranted. Terms, 25c. per bottle. Dr. Valerius & Co., Watsonville, Wis.

IN THE SOUTH. Progress of the Negro Race Under the New Regime. RALEIGH, N. C., Oct. 15, 1890. EDITOR OREGON SCOUT:—Opposite the windows of my boarding house, which stands on an old street of a southern city, is an ancient two-story brick house with sloping roof and large, nearly square windows. Its whole appearance, as a building, speaks of the past. Of that ancient regime in which the elite of the city built their homes, and reared their families in the then aristocratic two-story substantial brick dwellings. But it is not of the past I now wish to write; but of the present. One-half of the first floor of this now unpretentious structure has been converted into a barber's shop. Its long row of barber chairs; its cases for toilet articles; its pigeon holes for shaving cups above these; its generous supply of bright towels; its good sized mirrors and clean floor; all speak of that neatness, smoothness and dispatch; that style, cut and finish, which make a barber shop a place approved by customers and profitable to the proprietors. The other half of the first floor of this remnant of the past is divided into two rooms. The front room is used for a neat store; well stocked with those most common articles of wear for both sexes which always finds a ready sale at fair profits. The store is clean; the goods neatly kept and well displayed. Instead of a partition in the rear of the store room there is a good and handsome portiere; concealing from us, all that lies behind. The whole second floor of the house is used as a dwelling. A wooden awning the whole length of the building reaches from the wall to the curbstone, covering the whole sidewalk. Against the whole wall of the house facing the sidewalk are shelves, cases and frames, to hold cakes, candy, nuts, fresh fruits and vegetables of all kinds. Always a large and satisfactory stock from which to select, if on a marketing tour. Close to the curbstone and facing away from the street is a long, high-backed, comfortable wooden seat on which customers, gossipers, or any persons so desiring may sit and rest. The whole place has an air of business; keen, active, shrewd, enterprising, successful business. There is an air of thrift over the whole, which belongs to a genuine New England Yankee town. And yet this is not a Yankee town. Nor are the owners of the building and business, ubiquitous and money getting Yankees. Only negroes; remnants of the old slave days, and nothing more. A negro man and a negro woman, his wife, are the occupants of this comfortable and pleasant home; and the proprietors and managers of the barber shop, store and fruit stand. They are doing business in business ways; and, all things considered, perhaps as profitable business as the larger and more pretentious establishments in this busy city. A short time since one of the large business houses, on the principal business street failed. Of course somebody lost by that transaction. There will be no failure with surely following losses, in the business of this prosperous negro pair. This little sketch may possible answer questions lying in some minds, concerning the negro race. The number of negroes who have become rich since the war, in the South, is large. The city of Atlanta Georgia, has upon her tax rolls a large number who pay taxes on ten thousand dollars; some who pay on two hundred thousand; one on more than that. In one section of South Carolina, the credit of the negroes is as good as the credit of the whites; and both races are prospering side by side, with no thought of a race contest. When everybody is not only chasing, but most everybody catching the almighty dollar, there will be no time to get up a race question for the benefit of partisan, party saving politicians. The industrious, law observing negroes of the South have the same opportunities for gaining wealth and prosperous home, that the whites enjoy. Enough of them enter the contests and win for themselves success, in its full meaning, to demonstrate the possibilities in the race. But whether, as a race they will avail themselves of the opportunities open to them, and be and become all that they may, is a question still waiting for an answer. J. T. PATRICK.
