A Short and Tough Lot.

The lot of our criminal classes seems demonstrably to be a short one and a tough one. It has actually no ameliorations. "Out of 60,000 prisoners, more than one-half are between the ages of 17 and 20." It takes but three generations to use up a stock that runs to vice. The average 1.7s of vicious people is less than one-half the of people of virtue. A recent writer complains that science creates a code of morals that consists in health. Is that not precisely why we are so deeply indeled to science that it is enlarging and lengthening the span of life, and at the same time teaching us what valuable thing life can achieve?--Globe-Democrat.

"Discovery" strengthens Weak Lungs, and cures Spitting of Blood, Shortness of Breath, Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, and kindred affections. Don't be fooled into taking something else, said to be "just as good," that the dealer may make a larger profit. There's nothing at all like the "Discovery." It contains no alcohol to inebriate; no syrup or sugar to derange digestion. As peculiar in its curative effects as in its composition. Equally good for adults or children.

The largest income of any single man in England is said to be that of the Duke of Westminster, who has miles of tenement houses and many square miles of agricultural land. He is said to receive $50 a minute the year round, or $3,000 an hour, or $72,000 a day. Queen Victoria has also a nice income, and it is accumulated $10,000,000 of unentailed property during his life. Mr. Crassy, a railroad contractor, acknowledged to having $30,000,000 personalty, and Mr. Morrison, a dry goods man, $20,000,000. Lord Dudley, one of the large owners of England's coal mines, had for years an income of over $5,000,000 from this source alone, and the Duke of Buccleuch gets $1,130,000 a year from his lands.-The Argonaut.

Amateur Photography in England. Amateur photography is just as popular in England as it is in this country, and nearly everybody has the craze. At a little seaside resort last summer a number of Americans, for their own amusement, posed in their bathing costumes against and upon the black bulk of an old fishing boat. The photographer was the only member of the party who had been left out, and all the others were full of regret that he could not on this occasion have a place in the picture. Novelties in Dinner Giving.

Among accepted novelties in dinner giving in Paris must be mentioned the now general fashion of much silver briea-brac upon the tables. To each guest a tiny silver salt cellar of a different shape to each cover. This is the shape of a marmite, this of a saucepan, that of a shell. Also at small familiar dinners, to each guest a little butter dish, also of silver, in a fanciful shape, and a tiny knife thereto—an excellent addition to the table when ovsters are served, and pretty withal, also appetizing with the ice spangled pat of yellow butter in the silver shell. Still at the "dinner time," in front of the host the mustard pot, the pepper mill. Yonder a silver pickle jar. The table should resemble a children's feast. Lilliputian trifles everywhere. Candles are much used now, with tinted shades, in silver candlesticks.-Home

A "Cable Anchor" for Boats.

A "cable anchor" has been successfully tried in the Seine for stopping boats. The apparatus is a cable, having on it a series of canvas cones, which open out by the action of the water, and close again when drawn the usual way. A steamer running thirteen knots was stopped each time by the apparatus in thirteen seconds, and in a space of from twenty to thirty feet .- Public Opinion.
