WASHINGTON.

News of the Week as Noted by Our Regular Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, D. C. Dec. 23, 1890.

EDITOR OREGON SCOUT:—

Financial matters are nearing a crisis in the Senate, and if all the Senators who have privately talked free coinage are prepared to vote for it in the Senate, nothing can prevent the adoption of a free coinage amendment to the financial bill, which has just been reported to the Senate from the Finance committee by Mr. Sherman. This bill is a very different one from that which was first introduced, and the silver men are mad all through at the committee for its action in striking out the section providing for the replacing of national bank notes by treasury notes issued on purchases of silver bullion, and inserting in its place one authorizing the Secretary of the Treasury to issue $200,000,000 in 2 per cent. bonds, and they do not hesitate to say that they will combine outside of party lines and pass a free coinage amendment to the committee's bill. Senator Stewart has already introduced a free coinage amendment, which will certainly receive the support of all of the republican Senators who are favorable to silver, but great pressure is being brought to bear on Southern Senators by the opponents of silver to prevent their voting for it, and if they can trade votes against it for votes against the election bill, they will gladly do so.

Action on this question cannot possibly be staved off much longer, however much certain gentlemen would like to delay it, and it is expected that as soon as those senators who went home for Christmas return to their seats, the fight will be opened in dead earnest by the silver men who say they propose forcing the fighting when once it begins.

The democratic senators having absented themselves to break a quorum in order to prevent the adoption of a resolution offered by Mr. Hoar providing for a session to begin at 8 o'clock in the evening and be continued until the election bill was disposed of, and having declined to consent to naming a time to begin voting upon that measure Senator Aldrich has reported the much talked of cloture rule, authorized by a recent republican caucus; but reporting it and passing it are two things. The democrats will resort to any and all sorts of tactics to defeat it, and they are counting upon the passive support of a number of republicans; but I doubt very much whether they get it.

The long drawn out agony is over, and Michigan has captured the seat upon the bench of the supreme court left vacant by the death of the late Justice Miller, the fortunate man being Mr. Henry B. Brown, a gentleman who is not widely known in Washington, and whose name has never been publicly mentioned in connection with the position. Michiganders here say that he is an able lawyer, and that he will creditably fill the position.

That the desire for more money is not confined to the west and northwest, as has been intimated, was fully proven by a resolution offered in the House by Mr. Blanchard of Louisana, setting forth the present remarkable stringency in the money market, and stating that it has been impossible in many places in the south to obtain advances of even $10 a bale on cotton, and ordering that the committee on banking and currency be instructed to bring in a bill providing for such an increase of the legal tender currency of the country as, united with the present supply of money in circulation and that being coined under existing laws, will increase the volume of money to $50 per capita of our population.

Senator Vorhees in the course of a speech against the election bill, uttered a sentiment that will touch a responsive chord in the breast of every member of the Farmer's Alliance. He said: "When the twentieth century opens, it is my prayer and my belief that the farmers of the North and of the South and of all the sections of the country will have so united and fraternized in their councils and policy that they will be in control of the government for the establishment of justice and equality and for the overthrow of class supremacy and malignant sectionalism."

There is a rumor here, which is not generally credited, to the effect that Senators Ingalls and Farwell, who are now in their respective States seeking re-election, had been promised enough democratic votes to elect them in return for their votes against the election bill.

Chief Powderly, of the Knights of Labor, was here a few days ago, making arrangements for the national labor convention, which he proposes calling at an early day to meet in this city. He is also interested in the establishment here of the headquarters of the National Citizens' Alliance.

The motto of the House seems to be "assume a virtue if you have it not." It took a recess from Tuesday afternoon until today, when it knew that there were ninety-nine chances out of a possible hundred that it could do no business until after the first of the year, owing to absence of a quorum. The Senate is almost as bad. After announcing that it would sit right along, it was compelled to adjourn from Wednesday to Saturday.

Several of our young folks were intending to go to the ball on Goose creek but were detained by the snow storm.

Mr. Poppy met with quite a serious accident on December 30th. While driving cattle his horse slipped and fell on his left foot crushing it badly.

The surprise party on New Year's night at the residence of Hon. Dunham Wright was well attended, the best of order being observed as usual and all went merry as a marriage bell.

The Road to Wealth

[illegible] successfully traveled with [illegible]. To reach wealth or any [illegible] position in life requires the full [illegible] and operation of all the faculties [illegible] has endowed us with. These conditions cannot exist unless the physical being is in perfect working order, and this is impossible when the liver and spleen are torpid, thus obstructing the secretions, causing indigestion and dyspepsia, with all of their accompanying horrors.

DR. HENLEY'S
English Dandelion Tonic

exerts a specific influence over the liver, excites it to healthy action, resolves its chronic engorgements, and promotes the secretions; cures indigestion and constipation, sharpens the appetite, tones up the entire system, and makes life worth living.
