Written for THE SCOUT.
MY QUEEN.

She has roses blooming on her face
This queenly queen of mine;
And the tale of love in her deep eyes traces
In every action, an angel's grace—
I hold her hand divine!

Oh! a wealth unknown has my beautiful queen,
Not a wealth of land nor gold—
But a wealth of love, and grace, and I mean
Than ever a man hath known or seen,
Or ever a woman told!

She will walk by my side when hope is low,
This fair and queenly queen;
When the tempests beat, and the wild winds blow,
With her hand in mine no fear she knows,
Though her love is in its tears!

When the ocean of life is fretted and tossed,
And stars are hid in the sky—
Where the dove with the olive branch was lost,
In the pathless waste, she loves me most,
And never is known to sigh!

And I like Antony, leave all care
To bath in the light of her eyes!
The world would not buy her form so fair,
Her soft sweet cheeks and her flowing hair,
No, the world nor Paradise!

ALICE NOTES.

The Farmers and the Railroad—A Painful Accident—Personals.

Snow, wind and sunshine all mixed together.

Steve Baldrige, of La Grande, was a visitor to Alice this week.

Miss Berline, of Wallowa, is visiting with friends at Alice this week.

Trains leave Alice for La Grande at 9 a. m., and for Elgin at 5 p. m.

John McCart, of Alice, is visiting his sister, Mrs. Webb, at Elgin this week.

There seems to be quite a lot of travel on the Elgin branch between Elgin and La Grande. The car is full every day both ways.

J. L. Roe sold 65 fat hogs to Palmer & Weller, of La Grande, last week, which averaged 295 pounds each. The price was 4 cents a pound.

Ada Roe, Pearl Connell and George Cochran boarded the train at Alice for their first car ride last Saturday evening and visited friends at Elgin. They stayed over Sunday and returned on Monday mornings train.

E. W. Imbler of the Cove was on the Sandridge this week on his way home from the Wallowa valley where he had been looking after his interests. He reports everything in the Wallowa in fine shape with about eight inches of snow on the ground.

R. D. Ruckman met with quite a severe accident last Monday night. While on his way home from Summerville his horse took fright and threw him out of the buggy, breaking his nose and knocking the skin off his forehead and fracturing his arm. His injuries are very painful.

P. E. Wade has notified the railroad company to put cattle guards between his fields or he would let himself at their expense and that he would not let a train pass till he had finished the work. Why should the grangers let the railroad company impose on them like they have done? If there is no law to protect them from the railroad monopoly, it is high time for Mr. Norville or our other representatives to do something for the relief of the people while they are in session.

MINERVA ANN.

THE COVE.

Items of Interest From Our Regular Correspondent.

Mrs. E. O. Henry and Mrs. Agnes Foster came over from Island City this week.

Born, to the wife of J. P. Vincent, Jan. 14th, a son, weight twelve pounds, Child and parents all doing well.

The Cove flouring mill is grinding again since the thaw. There is a lively demand for the products of the mill.

The school in the Big Lake district which has been very satisfactorily taught by Mr. W. W. Randall, closes this week.

Mrs. Mollie Gibson was called to North Powder Tuesday to be at the bedside of her father, Mr. Plummer who is very sick.

A dance was given at the Big Lake school house Tuesday night. The proceeds went towards purchasing an organ for the use of the district.

Last week twenty-five families in Cove had one or more cases of measles each. This week there are no dangerous cases and all are improving.

Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Robinson were called to Baker City last week on account of the dangerous illness of Mr. H. W. Weaver. His condition was somewhat improved.

Mr. John Wagner sold last week to Mr. Thos. Profit, a dairyman of Pine valley twenty-five milch cows at $25.00 per head. The purchaser will use them on his farm and increase his business.

Mr. Aaron Connor has lately caught in steel traps on the mountain east of town, two large lynx and a wild cat. He is now angling for a panther or mountain lion of immense size which has been seen in that locality.

Mr. and Mrs. Haggerty wish to tender their sincere thanks to the many friends who lent valuable assistance and displayed such untiring kindness in their late sickness. Their thoughtfulness and sympathies can never be forgotten.

The Cove debating and literary society meet at the Morrison church building Friday nights. The best talent of the town takes part in the discussions which are thus made both interesting and instructive. Rev. LeRoy of La Grande took part in the exercise of the last meeting.

Messrs. E. Imbler, J. Wagner, L. Corpe, J. M. Craven, Thos. Tolly, S. Koger, A. Robinson, A. Cochran, L. Haggerty, K. Morris, A. Harris, Lee Hendershott, J. Allen, Jno. Vanorder, S. Vanorder, M. Ross, Prof. Vincent, D. B. May and A. Crossman having been appointed a committee to look over the grounds and take soundings in the Bloom-French water right case, will complete their labors Wednesday. Their testimony will be taken this week and next, by the referee. It is to be hoped that this long drawn out case will soon be brought to a termination satisfactory to all interested.

Died, Jan. 15th, of pneumonia, Mildred Haggerty, aged 14 years, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Haggerty. The deceased had been suffering from an attack of the measles and was in a fair way to recovery when a relapse overtook her, which on account of her enfeebled state she was unable to survive. Till this time the family circle consisting of parents and twelve interesting children has remained unbroken. But the unwelcome summons came at last as if to show what a short distance the most favored of mortals are from trouble and how all earthly trials sink into insignificance when measured with the anguish of parting with a dear relative. The family is almost heartbroken over their loss and have the deep sympathy of the community. The funeral took place Friday and was attended by a large number of sympathetic friends.

THE QUESTION SETTLED.

This cut is a faithful picture of the well known establishment of Thomas Price & Son, at 524 Sacramento street, S. F. As the leading chemists of the west, they were asked to settle the question as to what sarsaparilla was in fact purely vegetable. We present their report.

"We have made careful chemical analyses of several well known brands of sarsaparilla, and have found them all with the single exception of the one made by Thomas Price & Son, to be entirely vegetable. As a result we are enabled to pronounce 'Joy's' to be the only pure vegetable sarsaparilla now on the market, which has come under our observation."

Modern medicine has proven that all ordinary eruptions are not caused by disease, but by indigestion and sluggish circulation, which call for vegetable alteratives, instead of mineral based purifiers like Iodide of Potassium. Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla being the latest, is the best to discard the old notions and proceed under the modern theory. It cures almost the commonness of the theory. It is the talk of the hour.

Medical Cases.

S. H. Clifford, New Cassel, Wis., was troubled with Neuralgia and Rheumatism, his stomach was disordered, his liver was affected to an alarming degree, appetite fell away, and he was terribly reduced in flesh and strength. Three bottles of Electric Bitters cured him.

Edward Shephard, Harrisburg, Ill., had a running sore on his leg of eight years' standing. Used three bottles of Electric Bitters and seven boxes of Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and his leg is sound and well. John Spunker, Catawba, O., had five large fever sores on his leg, doctors said he was incurable. One bottle Electric Bitters and one box Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured him entirely. Sold at Brown's drug store.

God's Blessing to Humanity—So Says an Oregon Pioneer, Ninety Years Old.

POMER GROVE, Or., March 10.—I have used the OREGON KIDNEY TEA and obtained immediate relief. It is God's blessing to humanity. I take pleasure in recommending it to the afflicted. I am now nearly ninety years old, came to Oregon in 1842 in the employ of the Hudson Bay Company, and since I began using the OREGON KIDNEY TEA I enjoy good health.

DAVID McENROE.

They had hardly time to pick us up before that whale was making for us, coming at railroad speed, with mouth wide open. By skillful maneuvering and working hard at the oars, backing and filling, we managed to avoid his rush and he swept on by, only to attack us again and again, until exhausted by his tremendous exertions. He laid a short distance off from us, resting and to recruit up before giving us another round. He was clear grit.

"There comes the old man," said Mr. Chadwick.

"I see him," answered Mr. Swain. "We will wait until he comes down."

Losing two men had unnerved Mr. Swain for the moment and he did not like to take the responsibility of ordering the boats on until Captain Coffin arrived.

Captain Coffin soon came up in one of the ship's spare boats. His orders were short and sharp:

"Mr. Chadwick, you and Mr. Hussey lay off at a safe distance and pick us up if we get stove. Mr. Swain, it is you and I for that whale. It will be long larts. Do not go too close."

"Aye, aye, sir," answered Mr. Swain, who had taken command of the fourth mate's boat, and the two crafts pulled up and we went for the fighting cyclone.

The maneuvers we went through before we succeeded in killing the whale are too numerous to mention here. Suffice it is to say that it was two or more hours before we found his life, and when we found him dead no cheer went up, for the loss of our shipmates saddened us all, and we hauled him alongside the ship in silence. However, our grief soon wore off, and in a few days, we were as happy and as reckless as ever, ready for more whales. For years after it was related to children, and the summer visitors at the island, with feelings of pride, how Charley Swain, of the "Clara Belle Lee," cut out a fighting whale from under the nose of the "Mogul's" boats. Six days later we were anchored in the beautiful harbor of Bermuda, with all hands on shore but the anchor watch and with plenty of money in our pockets, painting the town red, riding jacksasses on a dead lope through the streets of Georgetown and Hamilton, fighting with the negro police when they tried to stop us, and having what some people call "a jolly good time." And in the evening dancing with the Bermuda girls until daylight.

At sunrise we pulled slowly from the beach, the tune of "The Girl I left behind Me," floating sweetly over the waters of the harbor, played by a string band that we had hired for the night's amusement, the girls standing on the shore waving their handkerchiefs with one hand and with their other hand keeping tight hold of their dress pockets, to keep our money, that had by some strange transformation, all disappeared from our pockets into theirs. Ah, me! Those days when I shipped as a sailor boy, just forty years ago.

ESTRAY NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given that there was taken up by C. A. Gray, on Clover creek in the precinct of North Powder, Union county, Oregon, and posted before the undersigned a justice of the peace for the above precinct one dark iron gray horse, supposed to be 12 years old, 15 1/2 hands high, branded with a capital D (script) on the left shoulder. Appraised at $35 this January 3, 1891.

J. H. EDWARDS,
Justice of the Peace.

The Road to Wealth

Cannot be successfully traveled without good health. To reach wealth or any coveted position in life requires the full possession and operation of all the faculties that nature has endowed us with. These conditions cannot exist unless the physical being is in perfect working order, and this is impossible when the liver and spleen are torpid, thus obstructing the secretions, causing indigestion and dyspepsia, with all of their accompanying horrors.

DR. HENLEY'S English Dandelion Tonic exerts a specific influence over the liver, excites it to healthy action, resolves its chronic engorgements, and promotes the secretions; cures indigestion and constipation, sharpens the appetite, tones up the entire system, and makes life worth living.
