Chief Hennessy had learned of a case in which notice of assasination had been given to an intended vietim who had refused to submit to a demand for blackmail. He could not trace the authors of the threat, but he determined to prevent the murder. The marked man was taken in a rowboat one night and rowed by Chief Itennessy himself to a yessel bound for Italy and put aboard. This did not save blue, for the New Orleans branch sent word to its Italian headquarters and he was killed shortly after his arrival, but it infuriated the Camorra. Hennessy's crusade against them became hotter and they determined to kill him. He was shot down at his own door by three men who were subsequently identified as the murderers. When the facts became known there was an outburst of public indignation that nearly rose to the lynching point then and there. THE BOOK OF THE CENTURY.

Cyclopaedia of Universal History by John Clark Ridpath, LL. D.

America's eminent historian is complete in four quarto volumes which contain thirty three hundred pages of brilliantly written matter, well authenticated. One thousand five hundred illustrations, many of them full page, thirty-two historical maps from latest surveys, thirty-three genealogical diagrams of Europe's noblest lines of royalty, and nice colored cironological chartsalone worth the price of set—are part of the attractively arranged matter.

Published by the largest house on the coast, the History Company, of San Francisco, and endorsed by President Harrison. Secretary of the Treasury Foster, Theodore L. Cuyler, D. D., Thomas Armitage, D. D. and many others of note it stands in the front rank of historical literature.

Prof. C. E. Wilbur, A. M., of Adrian college, who occupies the chair of history, says; "I consider the work one of great value and worthy of a place in every household and library."

"Dr. Ridpath's latest work places him in the front rank of historians. I carnestly commend it to the scholar, the literary man and the home circle."-J. B. Peaslee, Ph. D., Ex-Superintendent of Cincinnati

This valuable work in three styles of binding is now for sale by one of our town's people in four payments made monthly. He has also several other valuable and popular works and will be pleased to call and show samples of T. DeWitt Taimage's "Pathway of Life," Bancroft's "Literary Industries of the Pacific Coast," Gay's "Standard Encyclopaedia," and "Our Father's House," by the beautiful writer, Daniel Marsh, D. The First Step.

Perhaps you are run down, can't eat, can't sleep, can't thirk, can't do anything to your satisfaction, and you wonder what ails you. You should heed the warning you are taking the first step into nervous prostration. You need a nerve tonic and in Electric Bitters you will find the exact remedy for restoring your nervous system to its normal, healthy condition. Surprising results follow the use of this great nerve tonic and alterative. Your appetite returns, good digestion is restored, and the liver and kidneys resume healthy action. Try a bottle. Price 50c. at Brown's drug store.
