FISHERIES QUESTION IS SETTLED.
Alliance Representatives at Work—Opinion Concerning the Election of General Palmer.

WASHINGTON, March 13, 1891.
EDITOR OREGON SCOUT:—

Mr. Blaine is very much on top this week, and his followers are talking him up as the "biggest" man in the administration at a greater rate than ever, and the fact seems to be entirely forgotten that Mr. Blaine is a subordinate officer, and that he could not have accomplished the things for which he is being so highly praised without the consent of his superior officer, Mr. Harrison. It was a positive relief to many of Mr. Blaine's friends when the official proclamation of the president of Brazil opening the ports of that country on and after April 1, for the free entry of the articles mentioned in the reciprocity treaty with the United States reached here, and was made public, for there is no denying the fact that they had allowed themselves to be partially stampeded by the persistent circulation of rumors of the treaty having been rejected by the Brazilian government.

Probably one of the proudest moments of Mr. Blaine's life was when Sir Julian Poncefoote, the British minister, called on him and presented a copy of a dispatch from Lord Salisbury the British foreign minister, accepting his proposition made last December, to submit the disputed questions concerning the Behring Sea seal fisheries to peaceful arbitration, on the lines as laid down by Mr. Blaine. Nobody knows better than the secretary of state that had this dispute led to a war with Great Britain, he would have been held personally responsible for it by many people, who believed honestly that he intended when he accepted a position in the cabinet to bring about a war with that country to serve his own purposes, and the possession of that knowledge undoubtedly added largely to his satisfaction in knowing that he has brought about a peaceable settlement of this long continued dispute, and to a lesser degree this solution of the matter is a great satisfaction to a great many people who have been fearful that it would end in war.

Senator Puffer and a number of alliance representatives, including the irrepressible Jerry Simpson, have devoted a greater part of this week to alliance missionary work in the adjoining state of Maryland, and one of them informs me that there is every indication of the alliance being able to elect a majority of the next legislature this fall, and a successor to Senator Gorman, who in spite of his great popularity with the democratic party at large has many bitter enemies in the party ranks in his own state, who are standing ready and willing to join the alliance in defeating him.

An eminent member of the farmers' alliance in a conversation today expressed himself in very strong language against what he called the "sell out" of the farmers in the Illinois legislature, which resulted in the election of Gen. Palmer to the United States senate, when it was possible to have elected one of their own men. "I have nothing against Gen. Palmer," he said, "but I am in favor of electing a man who belongs to a farmers' organization every time the opportunity presents itself to do so, and I consider that in this case an opportunity was either deliberately thrown away or sold, I am not yet certain which, but I intend to be.

Morrison and Carlisle or Carlisle and Morrison is heard quite often among the anti-Cleveland democrats here. The trouble about either of these tickets is the doubt as to whether either of the gentlemen would accept the second place on the ticket. One of Mr. Morrison's close personal friends is responsible for the statement that he could have had the second place on the Cleveland ticket in '88 had he been disposed to take it.

There seems to be considerable uncertainty about when Mr. Harrison will appoint the nine judges of the United States circuit court, provided for in the new law. It was stated early this week upon what seemed good authority that he had decided not to appoint them until next December, but there is a disposition to believe that this statement was made to keep off the horde of persistent office seekers, including a number of ex-representatives. Mr. Harrison is now away, but he is expected to return tomorrow. If he proposes making these appointments soon he will probably do so before leaving on his proposed trip to the Pacific coast, upon which he will start within the next three or four weeks.

Senator Kyle took a prominent part in the religious revival meeting here the other night.

Henry George passed through Washington this week. He had just returned from the Bermudas, where he spent the winter in search of health. He said that his physician would not allow him to work and that he was not prepared to talk on current events further than to express his belief that from this time on political battles will be fought solely upon economic issues.

THE WORLD'S FAIR.
An Effort to be Made to Have Oregon Creditably Represented at Chicago.

The committee of the state board of agriculture, consisting of J. T. Apperson, Van B. DeLashmatt, D. S. K. Buck and W. F. Matlock, have issued the following call which is self-explanatory:

We, the undersigned, a special committee appointed by the state board of agriculture to prepare and issue a call, whereby at an early date we could secure, if possible, the co-operation of all the people in having Oregon's material interests properly represented at the World's Columbian Exposition, to be held at Chicago in 1893, and believing it to be important that Oregon should take some action wherein we could unite and secure necessary means to furnish and plan, whereby said exhibit could be made creditable to the state, we respectfully request the county courts of the respective counties of this state to designate and secure, if possible, the attendance of one or more delegates to represent said county at a meeting to be held at the Chamber of Commerce in the city of Portland, on June 16th at 11 a. m., no county being entitled to more than five delegates.

We would most earnestly urge upon the boards of trade in each county, and all good citizens, to co-operate with and act in conjunction with each other in securing the proper representation to attend the said meeting, so that each section of the state may assist in determining the best means to secure the object and purpose of this call. We are of the opinion that this is a matter of vast importance to all classes of our population and we feel assured that if we can secure a meeting of the representative men of each county in the state that they will be able to agree upon some method whereby upon the people of the state can unite for the accomplishment of the object and purpose of this call. It will remain for your representatives when assembled to determine the cost of, and manner of accomplishing the great object in view, and we confidently expect the co-operation and assistance of every citizen of the state, including the public press.

The people of Oregon must move in this matter if they wish to keep pace with the procession of other Pacific coast states. We respectfully request the press of the state to give publicity to the above call, so that we will not be under the necessity of writing personal letters to any one in this connection.

COVE SCHOOL ENTERTAINMENT.
The Park Sawmill Preparing for a Big Run
This Season—A Chinese Merchant in Trouble.

Cove, Oregon, March 25, 1891.
Cove seems entirely free from dangerous throat trouble of a diphtheritic nature.

Letters remaining uncalled for at the Cove postoffice, Mrs. Esther Bowers, Anstin Passmore, Clinn Steele, Jasper G. Stevens P. M.

Mr. Silas Koger met with a painful accident last Tuesday. By some means an ax fell from a post and striking his foot made a deep and ugly wound.

Prof. Vincent has purchased the resident property formerly occupied by William Martin. He will erect a barn and otherwise improve the premises.

Errors will creep into the most carefully regulated items. In place of Mr. J. F. Kelly taking a partner into his business as was stated last week, he has not done so nor even contemplated such a move.

Mr. J. C. Doney has a very neat collection of minerals etc., at the post office. It embraces specimens from a great many different mines besides curious stones from other places.

Rock from the celebrated piles erected by the Azetic mound builders, are among the list.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Lamme accompanied by Mrs. Mel. Campbell will start en route for Pomona California today. They have decided to make that pleasant town, situated among orange groves their future home. Mr. Campbell on account business matters in Cove will not join them till later.

The public school entertainment will be given at the hall Friday evening of this week. The teachers and pupils have prepared an excellent programme consisting of "Pocohontas" a drama in two acts and a farce entitled "mouse trap" besides there will be a fan drill, recitations, declamations, etc. No admission fee will be charged and everybody cordially invited to come. With the exercises the present term of school will close.

ALICEL NOTES.
ALICEL, Oregon, March 24, 1891.
Summerville has a poet.
Spring has come gentle Anna.
Charles E. Cochran is on the sick list this week.

The "Dago Central" run two trains a day each way last week.
The farmers on the Sandridge are all at work in their fields.

Died, at the residence of S. L. Brooks, Walter Tharp, aged 19 years.
The blacksmith shop is nearing completion and a workman will be at work in it in a few days.

Mrs. A. N. Hamilton, and her two daughters, of Union, are visiting with friends at Alicel this week.
Old King Winter is a thing of the past, and the song of the lark and the wild goose is heard in every direction.

A trainload of stock from the Wallowa valley went over the Elgin branch last Sunday, bound for the Portland market.
J. L. Roe is now visiting all the school voters in the district asking all kinds of questions about their property in the district.

School will begin in district No. 46 in a couple of weeks. A Mr. Hawley, of Gilliam county, will be the teacher. He comes well recommended and with a first grade state certificate, being a graduate of one of our state institutions and a classmate of Charles E. Cochran.

ing, with what result is hardly known yet.
Samuel Vanorder has gone to La Grande on business. Will and John have gone to the valley to scare the geese to death.

There is talk of a grand feast at the school house on Big creek on Easter Sunday after the 11 o'clock services. Everybody is invited to come and bring ad egg.

If any one wants to know how the sun gets across the line, or what the sun looks like, ask Duham Wright. He can explain it to you.
We have some tenderfeet in the Park. They think there is rather too much snow for this time of year, but we must remember they are tenderfeet.

I understand that E. South and Jo Van were over on Powder river recently, and scared some coyotes off of a deer or two and brought them (the deer) home. Hard on the coyotes.

Health is generally good. Some are troubled with coughs. Others feel bad like they always do in the spring when they want a mess of fresh bunch grass, but the writer feels bad because he will have to go to work soon.

There are two men cutting logs for the mill company. They intend to make a big run this season, if all goes well, and so with the Campbellites on Big creek. Brother Campbell is preaching for members or money, I can't tell which yet, for he called for both last Sunday night.

FROM SPARTA.
SPARTA, March, 20, 1891.
The snow has about all disappeared.
Work on the placer mines on Powder river slope has commenced.

A rich strike has been made in the Iron Gem, owned by Wm. Hawkins.
Our hotel seems to be having a good run of custom for this season of the year.

R. White and Louis Cook, of Baker City, were in our city a few days ago. They seem much pleased with the outlook.
Work is progressing on the Marrotte group. Mr. Dilworth is a good manager. He is a young man full of push and energy.

The last news received from Dr. Jay Guy Lewis states that he is in Gallatin, Maryland, on a visit to his sister at that place. It is to be hoped that he will soon return home as he is a valuable acquisition to our camp.

Attachment papers were served on our Chinese merchant, Wo On Lung, this week, by Ed Wilkinson for the sum of $250. The case came up before J. N. Henderson and the trial is set for the 31st inst. Papers were also served on Chinese Kitty by the same party for $100 borrowed money.

KNOW MORE.
Bad State of Affairs.
Our county at the present time, says the Shoshone Journal, is in a deplorably chaotic condition. We have now two sets of county officers, two boards of commissioners, two sheriffs, two probate judges, two assessors, two coroners, and to cap the climax, we have two county seats. One set of county officers is hibernating on the snow banks of Bellevue, and the other set is basking in the sunshine on the lava beds of Shoshone. If you have any business before the board of commissioners and the Shoshone board decides against you, then ignore that board and go before the Bellevue board. If you steal something and Sheriff Jack Campbell of Bellevue arrests you, then you can ask Sheriff Rube Robbins of Shoshone for protection. If you have a deed you want recorded and Wes George charges you too much, you can tell him to keep his little recorder's office in Bellevue, for you can record your deed cheaper before Fred Chamberlain at Shoshone. If Fred Hastings, the old assessor with headquarters in the snow banks, assessed your property too high tell him you won't stand it, for Billy Wells, who is in the same business on the lava beds, will do a better job for you. The fact is, "you pays your taxes and takes your choice" of the county officials.

Get a caricature photograph of yourself taken at Jones Brothers' gallery. These pictures are "too utterly funny for anything."

MINERVA ANN.
THE PARK.
Plenty of snow yet, but it is going off just right to soak into the ground.
There is yet plenty of feed in this section, yet some are thinking of turning their stock on the hills.

W. M. South has been stopping at the springs for the past ten days, bath-
