ARBOR DAY ON SANDRIDGE.

Celebrated at Imbler by the Fairview and Imbler Schools.

EDITOR OREGON SCOUT :-

I beg a share of your valuable space to report the proceedings of the Arbor day exercises that occurred on the 10th inst, at the Imbler school, C. E. Cochran teacher, with the combined aid of the Fairview school, W. R. Hawlev teacher.

The teachers, Messrs. Hawley and Cochran are classmates of the class of 1890, Oregon State Normal school at Monmouth, and know just how to make a success of anything they undertake. We are very fortunate in securing the aid of such competent

According to previous arrangements the Faieview school adjourned at I1:30 last Friday, in response to an invitation to the Imbler school to join them in the exercises, and started for Imbler, some in a wagon, generously donated It is proposed that every enterprise, by Mr. Sam'l Cochran, and others on horseback. At about 1:30 they were all there and besides, the house was crowded with friends and patrons, all earnestly awaiting the appointed hour, 2.00 p. m., for the exercises to begin.

Promptly at the appointed time the audience was greeted with a song, and then followed the programme consisting of songs, recitations, quotations, historical and biographical sketches. essays and adresses.

Carl Roe, of Fairview, was historian, and acquitted himself in a creditable

Miss Florence Woodell, of Imbler, was orator and surpsised the audience by her oratory.

A brief essay was read by Prof. Hawley on the subject, "Our School Houses and our Homes; how to beautify them," which reflected credit upon the writer and which we would like to give in full but space forbids.

After the class tree song, which was an appropriate selection and well ren dered, the pupils and friends all marched to the school grounds and proceeded to plant the trees and shrubs. The first tree, a large Columbia poplar, was placed in position by the director and the pupils marched past, each one pausing long enough to place a shovel full of dirt around the tree. The pupils were then dismissed for a time, during which the more will- Opposite the Court House, Union, Oregon. ing hands planted the remaining trees, while the average pupil enjoyed a rousing game of "blackman." After the planting was finished the schools again assembled and proceeded to organize an association to be known as the Shade Tree Planting Association. Prof. Cochran had the chair and after commenced resulting in, president, B. Mitchell; secretary, George Cochran; treasurer, Carl Roe. The president then appointed two committees, one from each school, known as protective committees consisting of the following members: Imbler-Geo. Elmer, Roe Garnes, Lettie Hull, Jennie Woodel and Stella Steward. Fairview-Ada Roe, Hattie Oliver, John Ruckman, Carl Roe and Myrtle Cochran.

The trees planted were then named, beginning at the railroad. Ist tree, Imbler, in honor of the Imbler school; 2nd, Fairview, in honor of the Fairview school: 3d, Cochran, for the teacher of the Imbler school; 4th, Lone Star, in honor of the Lone Star school, which school was represented in the person of Miss Brooks the teacher; 5th, Hawley, for the teacher of the Fairview school, 6th, Stanley, in honor of an aged patron of the district. After a few appropriate remarks by patrons they all journeyed home feeling that the day had been one of the most remarkable in the history of the district. May these trees be protected and cared for and in future years let the practice started by these two estimable teachers be continued.

Yours, REGINA.
