Big Creek Alliance.

Big Creek, July 18, 1891.

DEAR SCOTT:—

We have been to the county alliance and had such a great time, and we must tell you once again how glad we are that we have an "alliance" and what a blessed privilege it is to belong to it. How dear to our hearts are each and all the members of the various sub-alliances, and with what pride we surveyed the crowd of great, honest men who came as delegates from all parts of the county. Truly the cream of the country is ours, and we are glad and thankful that it is so.

There was, however, a great oversight in not having more ladies present, but Big Creek was in the lead again and sent five ladies, four of whom were in attendance and voted just as hard as they could.

We (the ladies) are thankful to the gentlemen of our lodge for giving us their votes and thereby the privilege of attending the county alliance. We did all we could to assist them in discharging their various duties, and hope we will make as useful alliance workers as we are successful wives of farmers.

We have not had the honor of helping make the laws we are so proud to obey, but we have raised the men and implanted within them the principles, the integrity and nobility which makes them men, and thereby fulfilled one of God's commands, and our dearest and most sacred mission on this earth. Still it is within our power to give further assistance to them and be truly, as God intended, a helpmate and an equal.

We will be so much better entertained when we get into full working order. At present we are so young and so overgrown; we are weak and trembling, but soon we will walk straight and carry our parts with dignity and honor to ourselves. We will have a better, cleaner place to meet so we will not quite so much resemble a school meeting.

We were a jolly party coming home—Mr. and Mrs. R. M. South, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Emel, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Parker, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Sams and Dunham Wright—and many were the good resolutions we made for the benefit of our sub-alliance. We are going to urge the necessity of a large hall in the neighborhood, an entertainment to raise funds for regalia, lodge fixtures, etc., music books, an organist, a great painted banner which we will march under on gala days, and a pretty little gold or silver badge to wear by the next time we come to the county alliance. These are all within our grasp and when we do get hold we will stay by what we undertake. How pretty we will all look, with our Sunday clothes on, our officers in their proper places upon stand-made expressly for them, with some pretty little regalia, a neat little altar with the Bible ever in our midst, and—the picture is so glorious and bright we can hardly wait till the time comes. I do not wonder that everybody is coming to us, nor that they are so pleased and happy. Great and glorious are our principles, and our motto—"In things essential, unity, and in all things—charity"—we will always keep and guard with honest hearts and brave hands.

Mrs. Emma R. Parker.

The predictions so freely indulged in by the anti-reform press of the country that the alliance movement would abate some of its energy after the elections and fall into a speedy decline, have not been fulfilled. This failure of fulfillment has not, however, discouraged the prophets. They keep on telling us that the enthusiasm is dying out of the alliance. The organization of Iowa, West Virginia, Ohio, and New York within six weeks is pretty vigorous work for an institution that is said to be losing its enthusiasm. We think the alliance was never more vigorous than it is today. We think it never did better work than it is doing now. We urge our friends to push on the good work of educating the people. In this way, and in this way alone, we shall win all the objects we have in view.

Do you know what the farmers alliance means? It means the greatest revolution of ten centuries. The revolution to whose standard four-fifths of the farmers in the United States have come within the last three years. The revolution whose political principles far more than half the people of the United States have advocated in national points. It means the organization that has initiated more members, in an equal time, than any other order ever organized. The organization which has proposed changes and reform in trade and government more advanced than any century of time before has marked out in the minds of men. It means an emancipation whose grandeur Wilberforce and Beecher could never have conceived. It includes brains, perseverance, energy and members. It is the mighty uprising of right against wrong, and success already lies almost within her grasp.

The members of the alliance should constantly keep in mind that this is the year for them to study and acquaint themselves with the great issues that are being discussed. This is the educational year in that respect with us, and we must improve every opportunity to become familiar with our principles and demands, in order for them to avail us anything. We cannot afford to stand still. "Let us then be up and doing," and always employ our best efforts to further our cause.
