THURSDAY, DEC. 3, 1891.

MINNEAPOLIS is the place where the sleekest of the high tariff steers will be chosen to be slaughtered by the people in 1892. In other words will be held there.

WE see in the court proceedings of News, has got judgement against M. S. Hellman for $20,000 damages. No times since then.

THE McKinley bill was made for the express purpose of keeping out foreign goods. In one of his late speeches McKinley states that the United States the last ten months than in any ten bill is a failure.

THE election for city officers will take place next Monday. There seems to be no interest whatever taken in the matter. While the issues that were prominent in some former elections are not present now, it behoves every citizen to take an interest and see that proper men are elected. An emergency may arise and those are the kind of men that would then be needed.

THE Dalls Chronicle says: Some of our exchanges are booming the Honorables W. R. Ellis, A. S. Bennet and Henry Blackman of Eastern Oregon, and C. W. Fulton of Astoria, for congressional honors from this district at the next June election. Whatever the opinion is by the politicians, Eastern Oregon must have either one or the other, senator or representative. The inland empire must and will be heard.

Upon reading the report of the Grand Jury last week Judge Fee made the remark in court that the jury had made some good and sensible recommendations, but that former grand juries had made and recommeded the same but the county court had seen fit to ignore them, and that if the sheriff was not provided with a good and sufficient jail in which to keep his prisoners, he should not be censured or held to account for escapes made therefrom. These are reasonable and sensible suggestions which the county court should take into serious consid-

STATE School Superintendent Mc-Elroy is in receipt of a letter from the department of liberal arts of the world's Columbian exposition, asking definite information relative to the work Oregon proposes to do for the world's fair in educational lines, and whether or not this state will make an exhibit, and if so, how much space it will require. Superintendent McElroy answered, making application for 4000 square feet in the building set apart for the liberal arts. This space will be filled by exhibits from the public and pr ivate schools of the state. An executive committee for the state will soon be appointed, also a committee in each county who will work in conjunction with the county superintendents in securing the best exhibit possible.

BYNUM, of Indiana, has withdrawn as a candidate for the speakership in favor of Mills of Texas. He says: "I never pressed my candidacy, and consented only to the use of my name until it became evident the contest was narrowed down between Mills and Crisp. I shall heartily support Mills. While all of the candidates are strong tariff reformers, none so prominently represents the position of the party on this question as Mills. He is known to the people as a prominent figure in the house on this question, and his defeat would, in a great measure, be accepted as an abandonment of the issue. Tariff is the issue upon which we must aim in 1892, and there should be no semblance of wavering or halting at this critical period. Unless the party west, who gave us such sweeping as these their occupation is gone. The victories in 1890, will become discour Australian ballot law which every aged and may abandon a hope of right minded Astorian favors, distinctour party."

A BRITISH VIEW,

The San Francisco Argonaut has had for several weeks past, the following article printed in large caps at the head of its editorial columns:

A British view of the American tariff.—"The promoters of the McKinley tariff mean it to push forward the policy of America for the Americans. One method of realizing it was to keep all work within their own dominions. The country was to be made self-supplying; what could be produced at home was not to be bought abroad. That was the key-note of the McKinley scheme, and it is working out the idea of its designers with the precision and effectiveness of a machine."—Sheffield Daily Telegraph.

Evidently The Argonaut thinks the above extract from an English paper a correct statement of the working of the American tariff and a clinching argument in favor of the republican it. idea.

We, also, believe the statements to be correct, in the main, but think the conclusions to be logically arrived at at it. Your particular line of goods the republican national convention are so unfavorable to the high tariff may not be wanted today; they will idea that none but those blinded by be sought tomorrow, or the day after. party prejudice can fail to see them.

"The promoters of the McKinley Grant county that D. I. Asbury, of the tariff meant it to push forward the ally. Don't get into a rut; have some policy of America for Americans." Correct, from a McKinley standpoint, doubt the defendant has pronounced for by "Americans" is meant Amerihis own name, vehemently, many can millionaires, not the bone and sinew of the land, the farmers, artisans, tradesman and those who labor for their bread. While placing an unnecessary burden upon these, for the support and further fattening of corporations and monopolists, no tariff is has purchased more foreign goods in placed upon the importation of serfs and slavish laborers from the overmonths before. A confession that his | crowded marts of foreign countries. "America for Americans!" How ludicrous the republican force would be if so much sorrow were not hid behind

> "One method of realizing it was to keep all work within their own dominions." Correct, every word of it. It means the importation of thousands of foreign laborers to compete with our countrymen, who are forced to work for home manufacturess and then to buy the goods thus manufactured at respectful. exorbitant prices. Most excellent idea -for the American monopolist!

"The country was to be made selfsupplying; what could be produced at home was not to be bought abroad." Correct, again. A chinese wall, so to speak, was to be built around the country, and the people put to work for their task masters and nothing was to be bought abroad, except foreign labor, and that was to come in free of duty. Great idea, that, and one that the American workingman will grasp at once and very eagerly!

"That was the key-note of the Mc-Kinley scheme, and it is working out the idea of its designers with the precision and effectiveness and effectiveness of a machine." Correct again, very correct. The machine is in full operation now, kept in order with the money of millionaires and lubricated with the sweat of the poor! How long it will be permitted to run, we are unable to say, but the signs of the times Heaven speed the day!

THE SCOUT, true to its principles, will put forth what little influence it has for the correction of this infamy-the tariff, and in doing so must, necessarily, side with the democracy, for that organization is the only one in which the hopes of the people can be centered for immediate relief. When that issue is settled we may take issue with some of the party's minor principles, but until then it seems to us that our work, and the work of every man who places patriotism above party, is plain.

Nothwithstanding the immense democratic victories last year on the tariff issue, and though the party in the next congress will be largely in the majority, it will be powerless to act, for the republican majority in the senate, backed by the veto power of the executive can defeat the attempts of the democratic majority in the house in any measures of relief they may undertake. The people, however, have only to speak in 1892 as they did in 1890 and all will be well.

A GOOD LAW.

The Astorian, speaking of the Australian ballot laws, has the following to peace clubs. No longer in Oregon can such clubs be organized, and the day of the political dictator is over. The sun has set forever on the political hopes of the man who thinks he is bigger than his party, and who is desirous to destroy that which he is unworthy to lead.

This alone would commend it to the esteem of honest men, no matter what their form of political belief.

WE notice by the Republican that the Giroux Amalgamator Co. vs. James & Parker "was tried here on a special venire." This is as much or more news to the court than any one else, as such a proceeding is not known to the law. If he had said that the case was tried upon a change of venue from Multnomah county, and that it was necessary point to its utter destruction in 1892, to call a special venire to complete the jury, he would have stated facts and We look upon the tariff question as not disclosed his utter and almost

A Possible Rival.

A single track railroad is to be built from Seattle to Tacoma, which it is said is ultimately to be extended to Portland. Many advantages are claimed for the road. There cannot possibly be any spreading of rails and the machinery to operate the road is comparatively light. The locomotive is kept from toppling over on either side by an overhead guiding beam. Among the advantages claimed for the system are speed and economy in transportation with reduced cost of construction and a great saving in the expence of grading and land damages; a large saving in friction in rounding curves, by the substitution of bicycle spindles for ordinary car wheel axles; greater safety and a greater saving in the cost of fuel. All these things and much more are claimed for the road.

This is not Col. Mahana's single track railroad, but one that may prove a rival.-Weston Eagle.

A Nightmare.

Have you ever been visited by that frisky and uncomfortable animal, called a nightmare? Have you ever had it climb upon the bed while you were asleep and go through a lively performance which would make a fortune for the proprietor of a circus? You never can tell just when this nocturnal steed will make its appearance, but you are absolutely safe from it if you happen to be reposing on one of S. C. Miller's new bedsteads, which are unsurpassed in
