WORLD'S FAIR NOTES.

Artists and Manufacturers in Denmark Making Great Preparations for an Exhibit at Chicago.

A big whale-back steamer for use on the lakes during the World's Fair will be built.

The furniture manufacturers of Chicago have taken steps to make a collective exhibit in their line, and promise that it will open the the eyes of visitors. Mrs. Lucas, lady manager for Pennsylvania, has appointed Miss Florence Lewis, a young colored girl, upon her auxiliary committee. Miss Lewis is one of the press representatives of the Board of Lady Managers of Philadelphia.

It is announced in the Berlin newspapers that the entire organization of the Imperial Opera Company of Berlin, Germany, will come to Chicago in 1893 to give operatic performances in the music hall to be erected on the exposition grounds.

The government of Russia has decided to haul exhibits for the fair at half rates on all government railroads, and at the same time it has suggested to private companies that they make a like reduction. A similar arrangement has been effected in Germany.

Artists and manufacturers in Denmark are making great preparations for the fair. United States Minister Thayer, who has just returned from Copenhagen, told Director-General Davis that Danish exhibitors would eclipse their efforts at any previous exposition. "And that means a great deal," he added, " for the artists of Denmark have made a number of fine exhibits."

John McAdams & Co. of Brooklyn have applied for space to exhibit a device that cannot be shown in any of the buildings. They will have to go out in Lake Michigan to make their exhibit, and that is what they want to do. They have an invention to prevent boats coming in collision. It is a marine brake, powerful enough, they claim, to stop ionts running at a high rate of speed. The company wants to operate a steamboat or steam yacht in the lake, carrying passengers, and to give practical demonstrations of the efficiency of their brake.

Secretary Dickinson has sent notices to the Governors of the various States. asking them to chose two members of their World's Fair Boards to come to Chicago December 9 to attend a big World's Fair convention. This notice is sont out in accordance with a resolution adopted by the Board of Control at its last session. The object of the convention is to have the delegates meet the Board of Control, department chiefs and other officials and to devise uniform plans for State work. Mrs. Pulmer adds to the invitation a statement that also wants all women who are invisions of the various State boards to be present and hears about the plans for presenting the work wrants are desing.

Secretary Tracy is expected to advocate a change in our treaty with Great Britain, so that naval vessels may be built at yards on the lakes.

They are agitating the question of removing the capital of Minnesota from St. Paul. The western part of the State is ambitious for the honor.

The amount of silver now held on storage by the government would make a column one foot in diameter and six and one-half miles in height.

The drop-letter service on the electric road between St. Paul and Minneapolis is very popular. The boxes are placed within easy reach on the side of the car. Great opposition is manifested by admirers of the late Oliver P. Morton of statue in Indianapolis from Circle park to the State House grounds.

The government proposes to build another timber dock in the navy yard at Brooklyn, the accommodations of the other two docks being insufficient. It is to be about 600 feet in length.

Yale students are getting something of a drubbing just now because of a habit which they have of smoking their pipes on the streets. This unfortunately is a practice that is not confined to New Haven. The saunterer along the streets of classic Cambridge will meet with not a few crimson-shirted youth, whose most conspicuous adornment, apart from their flaring iersevs, are vellow pipes. Now, of course, it is no more of a crime for a Indiana to the proposed removal of his college student to smoke on the public streets than it is for one who does not happen to be in that period of tutelage. There are certain rules, however, which all well-bred men are expected to observe, and one whose time is largely given to scholarly pursuits should certainly be in finer touch with these. Secretary Tracy in an interview is quoted as saying: "We have set out to build two ships that will comply with the requirements of the future. Cruisers Nos. 12 and 13 will be ideal types of commerce destroyers. The Pirate of 7,000 tons burden will be able to steam to San Francisco on the coal in her bunkers with which she leaves New York. Not another war ship to-day afloat can do this. I am responsible for these two vessels. I have sacrificed their offensive and defensive powers to speed and coal endurance. No Captain worthy to command either of them would think of engaging a war ship on the high seas, but they will be strong enough to attack any steam vessel built for trading purposes that might be armed in time of war. The Pirate, for example, could be sent into the English Channel and stay there four weeks without recoaling. She could keep sway from the ironelad vessels sent in search of her, and could destroy every ship that put to sea or returned to friandly haven.
