Scientific men tell of organisms so small that the highest powers of the microscope are requisite to determine anything about them, and whose powers of multiplication are so rapid that they would fill the earth in a brief time, if not checked by natural means.

It seems when they got the Quaker into the room they locked the deor, and the ringleader told the peaceful man to pull off his coat, vest, and shirt. He objected, but finally took them off. Last spring a fearful epidemic of as an incentive to every "printer's diphtheria prevailed in Ludington, Michigan, which is said to have destroyed nearly one-third of the child-ren attacked in the place, and most ren attacked in the place, and most of them were so taken. The more there are of these in the blood evidently the worse is the attack.

Inoculating animals (rabbits) with diphtheric poison from Ludingit resulted in a genuine attack on the spade;
And I knew by the gleam in his eloquent eye a few days. The disease was simply that his heart was instructing his lips to that of Ludington, except that it was of diphtheria, which proves fatal in that of Ludington, except that it was produced in the lower animals. Postnortem examination of the rabbits -howed that even the bone marrow was full of micrococci. So with ma-Which of us mortals shall dare to say was full of micrococci. So with material obtained from the diphteric rabbits he ineculated others, and so through several sets of rabbits, producing death in each instance from diph heria. Further experiments proved that these micrococci were either the direct cause of diphtheria, Therefore, good deeds we inscribe on these or that they carried the poison which was. In either alternative we can ouending p ok upon them as Now, as in ordinary sore-throat, in mild diphtheria, and in the malignant form, these micrococci show no constant differences of structure Add glass to glass, and what do you see, under high powers of the microscope, to what is the different grades of the disease they produce due? Simply to the reproductive capacity of the micrococci. Thus, those taken from mild forms of diphtheria would only reproduce up to the fifth generation; these from Ludington speedily ran brough ten generations.

Experiments have shown that there are certain conditions under which tnese organisms lose their reproductive capacity to a great degree, and hence with it their power of harm.

And is a POSITIVE Remedy for the following Troubles: hence with it their power of harm. Hence the great problems in the healing are: What will destroy this out of the body, and so prevent the disease from arising; or what will kill them or lessen their power of reproduction in the body when the disease is contracted, and at the same ime not injure the patient?

Signs of great hope may appear in this conn ction. It would hardly be putting the case too strongly to assert that there is a fair probability that by a process of inoculation, comparable to that against smallpox, medical men will be able to hold this and other like diseases in check, and that this triumph may be witnessed before the century goes out. If so, it will be the foundation on which the future historian will erect the LEUCORRHOEA; INFLAMATION OF soblest monument of our times .-Journal of Health.

SOLE RICHT FOR POLK & BENTON COUNTIES.

This Dryer is the latest improvement in Fruit Dryers, having been patented in August, 1881. It has the largest capacity of any Fruit Dryer sold at the price, and is the most easily and economically operated of any on the market. The fruit trays are raised by an elevator, operated by a lever at the bottom, and can be put in or taken out without loss of the heated air, and without exposing the fruit to a cold draft. It has also a feature not possessed by any other dryer, to-wit: It has reflectors at the bottom that throw the fresh air on to the furnace, thus heating the air before it goes to the fruit. This is a very important feature. These dryers will be built only on orders, and orders should be sent in early, in order to insure their being filled.

The dryer can be seen at Mr. Paul Hiltebrand's on Luckiamute, or at Robert McLaughlin's, 14 miles north of Buena Vista. We guarantee sat isfaction to any one who will purchase a dryer.
