As soon as the summer's drought begins to shorten the pastures there should be plenty of corn or sorghum, to supply the lacking feed. Sorghum is an especially satisfactory crop for this purpose, as the cattle will eat it up clean. Dairymen can hardly regard this plant too highly.—

Miners' Workday In England.
In the recent discussion in England over the question of parliament making a legal workday in certain industries the following facts regarding the coal mining industry were brought out. Out of 450,000 miners in England, 125,000 now work only 8 hours, 50,000 from 9 to 94, and only 23,000, or a twentieth, work the 104 to 104 hours which obtain in many American mines. A change to eight hours would therefore only affect three miners out of four and reduce the hours of these to a very small arter.
