

LOCAL AND GENERAL

You must work if you would succeed at anything.

Mason, dentist, over the bank, Main street, Dallas.

Cooper and Bauer own the ferry at Independence.

Mr. McFerrer, of Gervais, expects to locate at Monmouth as a jeweler.

Industry and economy of time and money can accomplish great things.

J. W. Briedwell and family and the Misses Jack of Amity, have been coasting.

Krause's Headache Capsules—Warranted. For sale by J. D. Belt, sole agent.

The personal life of a minister often has more influence one way or another than his preaching.

J. W. Hanville, near Whiteoak, has an artesian well that rolls out a large volume of clear water.

Dr. Crowley and family, of Monmouth, have been gathering pebbles and sea moss along the ocean shore.

Every boy and girl in the county should manage to earn something for themselves during the grain and hop harvest.

Newt Jones, who lives in the river town next above Eola, had a runaway that overhauled his buggy into fragments.

Mrs. Sarah Helmick, of Albany, has been visiting her sons, Louis and James, at the old home on the Lockman.

Mrs. Bertha Powell, of Linn county, is visiting her sister, Mrs. J. M. Murphy, and her brother, Prof. J. M. Powell, of Monmouth.

A. A. Bentley and D. M. Hewitt, of the normal school, town, have been seeing what they could find to eat over in the coast range.

Karl's Clover Root, the new blood purifier, gives a freshness and clearness to the complexion and cures constipation. 25c, 50c and $1.

Captain Swensen, U. S. A., San Diego, Cal., says: "Shiloh's Catarrh Remedy is the first medicine I have ever found that would do me any good." Price 50 cents.

A. M. Ginn now has his hands full baling hay, nearly every farmer wanting more or less of it done. He has baled seventy tons of his own on the Jas. Howe place.

The report of Sultors mill being closed down was untrue. Part of the crew were released to go out and harvest, but the mill is running and filling orders as usual.

If some editors would spend half the time they devote to slinging mud and epithets at some fellow craftsman to hunting up interesting items for their readers, it would be better all around.

Miss Nellie Collins is now visiting kindred at Moscow Mills, in Lincoln county, Missouri. She has been engaged to teach the coming year at Madison, South Dakota, at a salary of $500.

A new school district, No. 46, has been organized in the McMinnons valley region, with Wm. Hollinshead, J. S. Hart and H. C. McMinnons as directors and Tracy McMinnons as clerk.

Mrs. A. W. Lucas and her son, Bert, of Monmouth, arrived Saturday afternoon, and Mrs. W. D. Denton, of Portland and her three sons, Sunday night, to attend the McMurphy-Shelton wedding—Eugene Daily Guard.

The Salem Journal says: Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Bowman went through on the train today from Toledo. They will make their home at Gervais. Mrs. Bowman is the daughter of J. L. Hyde, formerly a prominent druggist at Dallas.

Preaching at all the churches every Sunday morning and evening. Methodist and Christian Sunday schools at 9:45, Presbyterian 12:15 Baptist, and M. E. south S. Prayer meetings Thursday evening. The general public welcome at all these meetings.

Here are the officers of the newly organized Epworth League at Boone Vista with nearly fifty members: President, E. S. Longacre; first vice president, Seymour L. Wells; third vice president, Elmer Hall; fourth vice president, John Bedford; secretary, Miss Flora Jones; treasurer, J. Newton Hornbuckle.

When a fellow comes along trying to introduce some new fangled religion, we believe in letting him severely alone. There are already too many doctrines of the kind. If half the religious denominations in the world were abolished, and people would more conscientiously follow the teachings of the others, it would be far better.

Waterhouse, of Monmouth, was in town Monday canvassing for his celebrated cherry. He was born in New York in 1829, but spent his youth and early manhood in Indiana, where he was a cooper and carpenter for twenty years. Since 1852 he has been a resident of Polk county. He was formerly postmaster at Monmouth and has been a practical carriage painter.

We now have decreased train service on the recently widened narrow gauge road. Hereafter trains will come out from Portland on Monday, Wednesday and Friday, returning each day. The same reduction has been made on the Woodburn-Silverton branch. Lack of freight and passenger traffic is the reason. It is said that for the first time in its history, the Southern Pacific failed to make through on the country the railroads are reducing their expenses by taking off trains and discharging employees. As soon as times pick up the usual order of things will be resumed.

There is a new girl at the home of Sheriff Wells.

Mrs. Shatt has moved to Sacramento, California.

C. R. Bonney began threshing oats last Saturday.

Dr. Hayter, dentist, over Wilson's drug store, Dallas.

Rev. B. W. Reynolds has gone back to his old Missouri home.

J. R. Magness died at Wheatland last week, aged seventy-two.

J. J. Emmett, of McCoy, is angling and shooting over around Alesia.

Albert Beattie and Jennie Fowler were married at Amity last week.

Miss Docia Durham, of Independence, will spend the summer at Eola.

The Southern Pacific has discharged over 1,000 employees to reduce expenses.

Hop tickets and warehouse receipts can be had at this office on short notice.

Dick Daniels berriving party came in the other day with 240 quarts of fine fruit.

Ab and Henry Beyerley and families are off in the Kings Valley berry patch.

Mrs. Sam Goff, of Independence, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Roe, in San Francisco.

R. M. Gilbert has been authorized to repair the broken down Guthrie lane bridge.

There are fifty-five school districts in this county.

A good, light one horse wagon for sale cheap by J. J. Wiseman.

Miss Eva Towns has been employed to teach at Cochrane next term.

Mrs. John Smith and Mrs. R. F. Macos, of Bridgeport, are under the doctor's care.

Letters remain at the Dallas office for O. W. Apperson, Mrs. Fannie Foard and Miss Ida Lane.

The sons of swearing fathers naturally fall into the same unmanly and utterly useless habit.

The Willamette river is now so low that all the boats running along Oregon City have tied up.

This seasons wheat crop in Illinois will be the smallest for years and much of it of an inferior quality.

Whenever any of our readers have an item of news which they please bring or send it to the IREMIKER.

Rev. Wallace Struble has made a fine impression during his short connection with the Independence and Buena Vista churches.

While picking cherries Tuesday the ladder turned and Isaac Levens fell, painfully scratching and bruising his head and face.

The other day several carrier pigeons were turned loose at Portland and in seven hours flew 154 miles to their home at Puyallup.

Two Albina faith curies have substituted on bread and wine for forty days. The balance of the world very naturally call them cranks.

W. A. Ginn, who has been teaching at Drain, is among us, and so is his mother, who has been stopping with her daughter, Mrs. Gould, at Corvallis.

Times are hard and call for retrenchment of expenses by all in every possible direction. Many a family could comfortably live on a third less than they do.

Mr. F. S. Barzee, of Salem, paid a call Tuesday. Mr. B. is making a tour of the county in a carriage with his wife in hopes that the trip may benefit her health.—Marshall Sun.

Uncle Isaac Smith has had a siege with that very annoying skin disease, eczema. At one time his whole body was scaled over, with intense itching, but he is gradually getting the trouble subdued.

In 1847 Dr. Marcus Whitman and fourteen others were massacred by the Indians about six miles below Walla Walla. They were buried there, and their graves are covered with a tangled mass of grass and weeds.

The other day we saw at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Pettijohn, near Grand Ronde, a large photographic picture of Henry Bowell, his wife and their two children. Mrs. Bowell was only 15 years old and all living. Such cases are rare.

Neither a farmer nor his hired men have time to stop and discuss either politics or business with agents during these very busy days. Sometimes it requires considerable strategy to get a stranger into you.

The mite society will have a quilting bee at the home of Mrs. J. D. Smith this afternoon and then go over and take tea with Mrs. J. E. Smith.

They have raised and paid $100 for a new school building. The school is now open and the school is now open and the school is now open.

Miss Ethel Simpson, of Eugene, is to be the academy music teacher. She is a musical graduate from the state university and was a pupil of Miss McCormack, who graduated from the Boston conservatory of music. Miss Simpson is a highly accomplished pianist.

Several of the little girls between the ages of 9 and 14 have organized a quilting society at Perrydale. Officers as follows: President, Florence Fullerton; secretary, Lillian Plenary; treasurer, Lillian Wolf; secretary, Myrtle Flanery; assistant secretary, Lizzy Holcomb.

The hop news from all parts of the county is quite encouraging. Lee Wann says the Ballston yards are in fine condition and almost leafless. Wm. Critchfield brought us a fine sample from George McDowell's yard and Dan Richardson some extra good ones from the Groves yard.

D. B. Richardson has constructed for J. F. Groves a model granary. A slanting trap door and shutter are so arranged that the granary can be filled from above and the grain fed naturally gravitates right where you want it. It is no trouble to keep it shut and it could not be more convenient.

Marion county growers seem to have no fears of hop lice, and are refusing to pay $20 to $30 per acre for the New York hop louse promises to be excellent in quality, but deficient in quantity. Some California hops have been contracted at 21 cents, but many growers will hold for 30 cents.

Material is being collected on the ground to erect a new railroad bridge at Dallas. Eight of the timbers are about 100 feet long and thirteen by sixteen inches at the ends. It requires three flat cars to haul them and the train had serious time bringing them around the curves this side of Smith-gled.

The appointive officers of Friendship Lodge are: F. J. Chapman, warden; A. V. Snyder, R. S. F. G.; D. W. Siddons, L. N. S. G.; C. W. Smith, R. S. V. G.; J. C. McKee, L. S. V. G.; J. Q. Sadler, Outside Guard; W. T. Shaw, I. G. B. F. Chambers, R. S. S.; W. J. Wagner, L. S. S.; A. W. Teas, chaplain.

You just ought to have seen Uncle Jimmy Ayers, his dog and his hog, all fighting hop lice. The old man was from Petersburg, Virginia. A bullet cut away the covering of his shin bone, and ever since it has troubled him more or less. He has now been bedfast with it for two weeks. At one time blood poisoning had set in, and Dr. Woodruff, of Dallas, had to be called in to save his life, but he is now getting along nicely.

Down at the railroad bridge, or rather over the track 100 yards on each side of it, half a dozen short ropes dangle down over the track from a frame work. At first glance we thought it was a gallows erected to hang that many lying thorns and fish catchers, but little Miss Dena Reynolds said it was to warn brakemen who might be standing on standard gauge freight cars that the top of our narrow gauge bridge would bump their heads, unless they stooped.

We will take either wheat or oats on subscription.

A genuine rattle can nearly always find something to do.

Wm. Ridgeway and J. E. Richter are to be gate keepers at the state fair.

George Rowcliffe near Dallas has about fifty goats for sale at $2.25 each, or the edge of the brush deep.

Mrs. Kennedy, of Monmouth, has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Key, at Perrydale.

Dr. McCallon has moved into his own property, the Vaughn house on railroad street.

C. P. Zumwalt and family, of Perrydale took a week's outing over at the edge of the brush deep.

The British wheat crop is a comparative failure, the home product being only one-third enough to supply the demand.

The home of Hugh Boyd, whose wife is a daughter of J. A. Dempsey, was recently burned at Slaughter, Washington.

The railroad warehouse is being moved back five feet and several feet nearer the depot, to suit standard gauge convenience.

There are said to be not less than 100,000 idle men in each New York and Chicago and the authorities fear trouble unless some relief comes.

The grain has ripened so fast that many farmers have found it necessary to run their binders night and day.

We will take either wheat or oats on subscription.

A genuine rattle can nearly always find something to do.

Wm. Ridgeway and J. E. Richter are to be gate keepers at the state fair.

George Rowcliffe near Dallas has about fifty goats for sale at $2.25 each, or the edge of the brush deep.

Mrs. Kennedy, of Monmouth, has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Key, at Perrydale.

Dr. McCallon has moved into his own property, the Vaughn house on railroad street.

C. P. Zumwalt and family, of Perrydale took a week's outing over at the edge of the brush deep.

The British wheat crop is a comparative failure, the home product being only one-third enough to supply the demand.

The home of Hugh Boyd, whose wife is a daughter of J. A. Dempsey, was recently burned at Slaughter, Washington.

The railroad warehouse is being moved back five feet and several feet nearer the depot, to suit standard gauge convenience.

There are said to be not less than 100,000 idle men in each New York and Chicago and the authorities fear trouble unless some relief comes.

The grain has ripened so fast that many farmers have found it necessary to run their binders night and day.

To do business without profit may seem nice enough for a time, but it gradually becomes powerfully inconvenient, then distressing, and ends with a business failure.

The fact that so many men are compelled to go to liquor cure establishments, broken down in body, mind, reputation and purse, is evidence that whisky is a villainous thing and should be abandoned.

The steel bridge at Salem has been condemned as unsafe until repaired with new planking. The question has been whether Marion or Polk county or the city of Salem should make the needed repairs.

That new hop house of Tom Guy and John Grant near the covered bridge is no snide affair. It costs but a trifle more to make things neat and attractive. As a big wheel would say, "conservative hop houses are the best."

Yesterday we found Prof. R. F. Robinson and wife visiting and otherwise repairing their dwelling west of the public school for some renter. Of course they could have hired the work done, but do not believe in employing a contractor to do what they can do themselves.

Miss Ethel Simpson, of Eugene, is to be the academy music teacher. She is a musical graduate from the state university and was a pupil of Miss McCormack, who graduated from the Boston conservatory of music. Miss Simpson is a highly accomplished pianist.

Several of the little girls between the ages of 9 and 14 have organized a quilting society at Perrydale. Officers as follows: President, Florence Fullerton; secretary, Lillian Plenary; treasurer, Lillian Wolf; secretary, Myrtle Flanery; assistant secretary, Lizzy Holcomb.

The hop news from all parts of the county is quite encouraging. Lee Wann says the Ballston yards are in fine condition and almost leafless. Wm. Critchfield brought us a fine sample from George McDowell's yard and Dan Richardson some extra good ones from the Groves yard.

D. B. Richardson has constructed for J. F. Groves a model granary. A slanting trap door and shutter are so arranged that the granary can be filled from above and the grain fed naturally gravitates right where you want it. It is no trouble to keep it shut and it could not be more convenient.

Marion county growers seem to have no fears of hop lice, and are refusing to pay $20 to $30 per acre for the New York hop louse promises to be excellent in quality, but deficient in quantity. Some California hops have been contracted at 21 cents, but many growers will hold for 30 cents.

Material is being collected on the ground to erect a new railroad bridge at Dallas. Eight of the timbers are about 100 feet long and thirteen by sixteen inches at the ends. It requires three flat cars to haul them and the train had serious time bringing them around the curves this side of Smith-gled.

The appointive officers of Friendship Lodge are: F. J. Chapman, warden; A. V. Snyder, R. S. F. G.; D. W. Siddons, L. N. S. G.; C. W. Smith, R. S. V. G.; J. C. McKee, L. S. V. G.; J. Q. Sadler, Outside Guard; W. T. Shaw, I. G. B. F. Chambers, R. S. S.; W. J. Wagner, L. S. S.; A. W. Teas, chaplain.

You just ought to have seen Uncle Jimmy Ayers, his dog and his hog, all fighting hop lice. The old man was from Petersburg, Virginia. A bullet cut away the covering of his shin bone, and ever since it has troubled him more or less. He has now been bedfast with it for two weeks. At one time blood poisoning had set in, and Dr. Woodruff, of Dallas, had to be called in to save his life, but he is now getting along nicely.

Down at the railroad bridge, or rather over the track 100 yards on each side of it, half a dozen short ropes dangle down over the track from a frame work. At first glance we thought it was a gallows erected to hang that many lying thorns and fish catchers, but little Miss Dena Reynolds said it was to warn brakemen who might be standing on standard gauge freight cars that the top of our narrow gauge bridge would bump their heads, unless they stooped.

We will take either wheat or oats on subscription.

A genuine rattle can nearly always find something to do.

Wm. Ridgeway and J. E. Richter are to be gate keepers at the state fair.

George Rowcliffe near Dallas has about fifty goats for sale at $2.25 each, or the edge of the brush deep.

Mrs. Kennedy, of Monmouth, has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Key, at Perrydale.

Dr. McCallon has moved into his own property, the Vaughn house on railroad street.

C. P. Zumwalt and family, of Perrydale took a week's outing over at the edge of the brush deep.

The British wheat crop is a comparative failure, the home product being only one-third enough to supply the demand.

The home of Hugh Boyd, whose wife is a daughter of J. A. Dempsey, was recently burned at Slaughter, Washington.

The railroad warehouse is being moved back five feet and several feet nearer the depot, to suit standard gauge convenience.

There are said to be not less than 100,000 idle men in each New York and Chicago and the authorities fear trouble unless some relief comes.

The grain has ripened so fast that many farmers have found it necessary to run their binders night and day.

To do business without profit may seem nice enough for a time, but it gradually becomes powerfully inconvenient, then distressing, and ends with a business failure.

The fact that so many men are compelled to go to liquor cure establishments, broken down in body, mind, reputation and purse, is evidence that whisky is a villainous thing and should be abandoned.

The steel bridge at Salem has been condemned as unsafe until repaired with new planking. The question has been whether Marion or Polk county or the city of Salem should make the needed repairs.

That new hop house of Tom Guy and John Grant near the covered bridge is no snide affair. It costs but a trifle more to make things neat and attractive. As a big wheel would say, "conservative hop houses are the best."

Yesterday we found Prof. R. F. Robinson and wife visiting and otherwise repairing their dwelling west of the public school for some renter. Of course they could have hired the work done, but do not believe in employing a contractor to do what they can do themselves.

We will take either wheat or oats on subscription.

A genuine rattle can nearly always find something to do.

Wm. Ridgeway and J. E. Richter are to be gate keepers at the state fair.

George Rowcliffe near Dallas has about fifty goats for sale at $2.25 each, or the edge of the brush deep.

Mrs. Kennedy, of Monmouth, has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Key, at Perrydale.

Dr. McCallon has moved into his own property, the Vaughn house on railroad street.

C. P. Zumwalt and family, of Perrydale took a week's outing over at the edge of the brush deep.

The British wheat crop is a comparative failure, the home product being only one-third enough to supply the demand.

The home of Hugh Boyd, whose wife is a daughter of J. A. Dempsey, was recently burned at Slaughter, Washington.

The railroad warehouse is being moved back five feet and several feet nearer the depot, to suit standard gauge convenience.

There are said to be not less than 100,000 idle men in each New York and Chicago and the authorities fear trouble unless some relief comes.

The grain has ripened so fast that many farmers have found it necessary to run their binders night and day.

To do business without profit may seem nice enough for a time, but it gradually becomes powerfully inconvenient, then distressing, and ends with a business failure.

The fact that so many men are compelled to go to liquor cure establishments, broken down in body, mind, reputation and purse, is evidence that whisky is a villainous thing and should be abandoned.

The steel bridge at Salem has been condemned as unsafe until repaired with new planking. The question has been whether Marion or Polk county or the city of Salem should make the needed repairs.

That new hop house of Tom Guy and John Grant near the covered bridge is no snide affair. It costs but a trifle more to make things neat and attractive. As a big wheel would say, "conservative hop houses are the best."

Yesterday we found Prof. R. F. Robinson and wife visiting and otherwise repairing their dwelling west of the public school for some renter. Of course they could have hired the work done, but do not believe in employing a contractor to do what they can do themselves.

Miss Ethel Simpson, of Eugene, is to be the academy music teacher. She is a musical graduate from the state university and was a pupil of Miss McCormack, who graduated from the Boston conservatory of music. Miss Simpson is a highly accomplished pianist.

Several of the little girls between the ages of 9 and 14 have organized a quilting society at Perrydale. Officers as follows: President, Florence Fullerton; secretary, Lillian Plenary; treasurer, Lillian Wolf; secretary, Myrtle Flanery; assistant secretary, Lizzy Holcomb.

The hop news from all parts of the county is quite encouraging. Lee Wann says the Ballston yards are in fine condition and almost leafless. Wm. Critchfield brought us a fine sample from George McDowell's yard and Dan Richardson some extra good ones from the Groves yard.

D. B. Richardson has constructed for J. F. Groves a model granary. A slanting trap door and shutter are so arranged that the granary can be filled from above and the grain fed naturally gravitates right where you want it. It is no trouble to keep it shut and it could not be more convenient.

Marion county growers seem to have no fears of hop lice, and are refusing to pay $20 to $30 per acre for the New York hop louse promises to be excellent in quality, but deficient in quantity. Some California hops have been contracted at 21 cents, but many growers will hold for 30 cents.

Material is being collected on the ground to erect a new railroad bridge at Dallas. Eight of the timbers are about 100 feet long and thirteen by sixteen inches at the ends. It requires three flat cars to haul them and the train had serious time bringing them around the curves this side of Smith-gled.

The appointive officers of Friendship Lodge are: F. J. Chapman, warden; A. V. Snyder, R. S. F. G.; D. W. Siddons, L. N. S. G.; C. W. Smith, R. S. V. G.; J. C. McKee, L. S. V. G.; J. Q. Sadler, Outside Guard; W. T. Shaw, I. G. B. F. Chambers, R. S. S.; W. J. Wagner, L. S. S.; A. W. Teas, chaplain.

You just ought to have seen Uncle Jimmy Ayers, his dog and his hog, all fighting hop lice. The old man was from Petersburg, Virginia. A bullet cut away the covering of his shin bone, and ever since it has troubled him more or less. He has now been bedfast with it for two weeks. At one time blood poisoning had set in, and Dr. Woodruff, of Dallas, had to be called in to save his life, but he is now getting along nicely.

Down at the railroad bridge, or rather over the track 100 yards on each side of it, half a dozen short ropes dangle down over the track from a frame work. At first glance we thought it was a gallows erected to hang that many lying thorns and fish catchers, but little Miss Dena Reynolds said it was to warn brakemen who might be standing on standard gauge freight cars that the top of our narrow gauge bridge would bump their heads, unless they stooped.

We will take either wheat or oats on subscription.

A genuine rattle can nearly always find something to do.

Wm. Ridgeway and J. E. Richter are to be gate keepers at the state fair.

George Rowcliffe near Dallas has about fifty goats for sale at $2.25 each, or the edge of the brush deep.

Mrs. Kennedy, of Monmouth, has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Key, at Perrydale.

Dr. McCallon has moved into his own property, the Vaughn house on railroad street.

C. P. Zumwalt and family, of Perrydale took a week's outing over at the edge of the brush deep.

The British wheat crop is a comparative failure, the home product being only one-third enough to supply the demand.

The home of Hugh Boyd, whose wife is a daughter of J. A. Dempsey, was recently burned at Slaughter, Washington.

The railroad warehouse is being moved back five feet and several feet nearer the depot, to suit standard gauge convenience.

There are said to be not less than 100,000 idle men in each New York and Chicago and the authorities fear trouble unless some relief comes.

The grain has ripened so fast that many farmers have found it necessary to run their binders night and day.

To do business without profit may seem nice enough for a time, but it gradually becomes powerfully inconvenient, then distressing, and ends with a business failure.

The fact that so many men are compelled to go to liquor cure establishments, broken down in body, mind, reputation and purse, is evidence that whisky is a villainous thing and should be abandoned.

The steel bridge at Salem has been condemned as unsafe until repaired with new planking. The question has been whether Marion or Polk county or the city of Salem should make the needed repairs.

That new hop house of Tom Guy and John Grant near the covered bridge is no snide affair. It costs but a trifle more to make things neat and attractive. As a big wheel would say, "conservative hop houses are the best."

Yesterday we found Prof. R. F. Robinson and wife visiting and otherwise repairing their dwelling west of the public school for some renter. Of course they could have hired the work done, but do not believe in employing a contractor to do what they can do themselves.

We will take either wheat or oats on subscription.

A genuine rattle can nearly always find something to do.

Wm. Ridgeway and J. E. Richter are to be gate keepers at the state fair.

George Rowcliffe near Dallas has about fifty goats for sale at $2.25 each, or the edge of the brush deep.

Mrs. Kennedy, of Monmouth, has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Key, at Perrydale.

Dr. McCallon has moved into his own property, the Vaughn house on railroad street.

C. P. Zumwalt and family, of Perrydale took a week's outing