"Seeing is Believing."

And a good lamp must be simple; when it is not simple it is not good. Simple, Beautiful, Good—these words mean much, but to see "The Rochester" will impress the truth more forcibly. All metal, tough and seamless, and made in three pieces only, it is absolutely safe and unbreakable. Like Aladdin's of old, it is indeed a "wonderful lamp," for its marrelous light is purer and brighter than gas light, softer than electric light and more cheerful than either. Look for this stamp—THE ROCHESTEE. BEER AND LIGHT WINES.

The plea is that the lighter drinks are narmless and their use tends to ween men from stronger liquors. How fal-lacious this claim is has often been proved. Concerning the wholesomeness or harmfulness of beer The Quarterly Journal of Inebriety says, "The constant use of beer is found to produce a species of degeneration of all the organism, fatty deposits, diminished circulation, conditions of congestion and local inflammations of both the liver and kidneys." Dr. Astley Cooper and Dr. Ed-munds agree that the diseases of beer drinkers are always of a daugerous character, and it was the testimony of leading physicians of Toledo that every surgeon dreads to have anything to do with them. The president of the Con-necticut Mutual Life Insurance company said that while the effect of beer was longer delayed than that of whisky it was in the end destructive.

The execution of a murderer in Stam is thus described: A temporary altar was erected, and before this the seven superbly built executioners, with drawn swords, made offerings of boar's head, fowls, rice, etc., and lighted large tapers. Then the swords were anointed. The condemned meanwhile remained on the funeral barge, where Buddhist priests gave him the last rites. He smoked and chatted after the ceremony and never showed any signs of weakness.

At last he was brought out in front of the altar and placed on freshly cut plantain leaves. The executioners asked his pardon for killing him after they had wound red sashes about their body and placed red handkerchiefs about their heads. A snow white cloth was wound around the condemned man's loins; his ears were stopped with clay so that he should not hear the headsman's footsteps as he came behind him. His neck chain and handcuffs were removed, and his elbows were secured to a bamboo post, while he was forced to a sitting position. Then a white line was marked on his neck as a guide to the swordsman.

Marriage of Lilliputians.

A curious marriage has recently taken place in France. The groom, M. Edouard Lornet, was born at Arbois June 9, 1872.

the fabric on which the work is to be Negara have exercised a frightful fascina-tion on the minds of men intent upon gain-ing fame and fortune by public exhibitions of their nerve and daring. Whether it be going over the falls in a barrel, swimming the rapids or walking across the terrible gorge with a siender rope or wire for a footpath nothing seems too foolhardy to be attempted if only notoriety and ducate the rapids or walking across the terrible gorge with a siender rope or wire for a footpath nothing seems too foothardy to be attempted if only notoriety and ducata loom up in hopeful promise.

The latest aspirant for fame in this direction, Clifford M. Calverley, is a young Canadian from Toronto who started out a year ago to eclipse the records of Blondin, Peer and Dixen. He was then without much emperience as a wire walker, which are to started out sideways and also adds to the looks of the work when complete. With sharp pointed accissors out smoothly and nices and may be said to have been educated up to dizzy heights.

He was a schoolmate of Dixon's and gothis first idea of "walking the falls" from his friend, though he never thought of making a business of it until after Dixon's was killed by falling into a shallow little pond at a Canadian summer resort. Dixon's time of crossing the falls had been 12 minutes. At his very first attempt Calverley said that he intended to lower the record. He did it, and the watches showed that he made the trip over 940 feet of wire in 6 minutes and 8 seconds.

He was not satisfied with this, however, and announced that on the Fourth of July he would beat his own record. A crowd of 15,000 people assembled to see him do it. When he left the Canadian shore, he started running like an Indian. When he reached the sag in the middle of the cable,

A Long Craise on a Little Yacht. The little steam yacht Niobe made fast to the dock in a slip at the foot of the completed a cruise of over 6,000 miles. She was built in St. Louis and is owned by Will D. Campbell. On board are Charles A. MacKnight, engineer; O. H. Harpham, pilot; F. L. Mowder, Allie Cullnaine and Frank Booth, steward. The Niobe is a small boat to start on a cruise like the one she has just completed, being only 38 feet long and 10 feet beam. She is run by kerosene, having a water tube boiler and compound

They lived aboard to the conclusion that it could no longer grant a policy to any man employed in a lager beer brewery, because their "business had been injured by the shortened lives of men who drink lager beer."

The use of beer and light wines does not wean men from the use of stronger liquors, as is shown by the increasing consumption of the latter in beer drinking and wine growing countries.

Another fallacy is that intemperance is rare in countries using beer and wine. Professor Warren said before the legistative committee of Massachusetts in 1867 that one-third of the students in Berlin and Halle were once a week drunk. And the New York Independent quotes a medical authority to the effect that in Germany no less than 10,000 people die of delirium tremens every year; that of the male prisoners over 75 per cent are constant drinkers; of the female, over 50 per cent.

In France The Constitutional, a Parispaper, admitted that the habit of drunk enness has increased year by year since the beginning of the century. "Men begin with wine; then alcohol is taken. Origin of the Red Cap of Liberty.

The red cap of liberty had a very prosaic origin. Instead of being the "Phyrgian bonnet" it is just the galley slave's headgear. The Swiss of the Chatesuroux regiment sent to the galleys for their share in the Nancy ricts were released and came into Paris with the red caps still on their heads. "They are the victims of despotism," said the people, forgetting the circumstances of the rict, and so the red cap became the favorite with the extreme party.—Washington
