

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; hence cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. We will give $100 for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Rape for Pasturage.

The Rural Northwest says: As John B. Stamp, of Monmouth, has probably had more experience in growing rape than any other man in the Pacific Northwest, his conclusions as to the growing and use of this plant have special value. He depreciates the exaggerated claims occasionally put forward for rape, but finds it exceedingly useful. He grows rape on bare summer fallow for summer pasturage and with spring wheat grain for fall and winter feed. The rape on the bare summer fallow is pastured over very closely just before the land is to be seeded with wheat. Sheep are fond of the stems, and when the tops have been eaten off they will bite off the stems and thus destroy most of the plant. A thorough working of the land with the disc harrow follows, and he has never been troubled by rape growing among the wheat. For bare summer-fallow Mr. Stamp uses from two to four pounds of seed per acre. In the spring, when he is putting in spring wheat and oats, he mixes rape seed with the seed grain and drills them in together. For this purpose he considers one pound of seed per acre enough. The young plants do not make any growth to speak of until the first fall rains come, when they make immediate rapid growth and the field is ready to be pastured. There are very few years when rape in the Willamette valley will not supply plenty of feed until after Christmas, and in seasons like the present the rape grows all winter. Sheep or goats which are feeding on rape in winter should also have what they want to prevent scouring. Rape and clover hay together, without any other feed, keep the sheep in wonderful good condition.

DALLAS HINTS.

Mrs. Shaffer having attended the millinery openings in Portland found out what will be most useful this season and has laid in her new stock accordingly.

The Gaylor footwear emporium was never better supplied with everything in that line needed by men, women and children. See samples in show windows.

The Wing meat market, opposite the blacksmith shops is a popular place, being patronized by nearly all the families in town. You get pure lard there.

Fidler's stage makes a round trip to Salem every day and is always ready to procure whatever may be wanted by any living here or along the way.

Garden and farm implements of all kinds may be had at Faulk's hardware store where you can also get all manner of grass and garden seeds. The building season is approaching and he has numerous things needed in the construction of all sorts of structures. He keeps wire and rope.

They say Ike Lynch is a dandy at shoeing horses.

And they say that O. H. Cobb can make any kind of a vehicle that will stand the very hardest usage. All his timber is seasoned for months before being used.

Brown's store is headquarters for everything to eat and wear. If you have any doubts as to their keeping the latest and best, take a good look over the goods and prices. They are very cheap for spot cash is their motto.

For guns, ammunition, entery, umbrellas and fishing tackle go to Mr. Risser on Mill street. He can make a key to fit any lock and can put any sewing machine in good repair. All broken articles mended.

F. J. Morrison, south of the court-house, has a very reliable as you will find. His horses hold their heads high and go and his rigs are clean and comfortable.

SALEM HINTS.

Those who have been dealing at the New York Basket store for years are still of the opinion that it is the best place in the city to buy things to wear. Their stock is quite large and prices very low.

It is a mistake for Polk county people to pass Keeler's feed yard in search of a better place to put up for it cannot be found. Separate warm waiting rooms for ladies and gentlemen.

The steam laundry draws considerable custom from across the river because of the excellence of the work done. If you have your washing done away from home try them.

The Cronis picture gallery ranks first in both material and workmanship.

Undertaker Clough, who has long coroner, is having his establishment fitted up better than was ever before any burial parlor in the city. He keeps everything for funerals.

Hellenbrand, the eating house man, sets a table good enough for any ordinary mortal.

When you want to take a ride or drive to any part of the country go to Brown's Old Postoffice livery stable. He keeps the best and his prices are reasonable.

COAT RAISERS MEETING.

The owners of mohair producers from all over the county met in Brown's hall last Saturday and discussed the interests of the association. Among other things it was decided that a committee of five, consisting of U. S. Grant, H. L. Fenton, Nat Holman, George Richmond and Wilson Ayres, should look after the pooling, selling and receiving bids for the mohair of the association. It was determined to sell at open bids and to reserve the right to reject any and all bids. At their next meeting, March 31st, the day of sale will probably be fixed. Up to last Saturday coats had been put into the pool as follows: Wilson Ayres 19 Wm Armitage 145, J. H. Burns 85, W. W. Bird 36, R. P. Boice 165, Mark Blodgett 16, W. C. Brown 125, J. A. Those who attended the meeting of the Polk County Teachers Association at Monmouth last Saturday report an interesting and profitable time. The attendance was quite large, there being about forty teachers present from nearly every part of the county. After adjournment the visiting teachers were shown through the manual training department of the normal school. The next meeting will be held at Independence.

F. E. Chambers has sold Potaluma incubators to E. C. Thurston, Arthur Moore, Mr. Bemer, L. P. Kramer, Mrs. A. McLaughlin and Mrs. J. M. Pedrow. The eggs begin to hatch in sixteen days and it takes only three gallons of oil to run a machine three weeks. A great advantage of the incubator is that you can set it at any time so as to have good sized chickens when the market is highest. Birds that hens sometimes abandon their nests and the eggs become no good, but Mr. Chambers says his incubators were never known to do that. Nothing is more profitable than the poultry business, considering the capital invested, when properly conducted.

It is very hard to stand idly by and see our dear ones suffer while awaiting the arrival of the doctor. An Albany (N. Y.) dairyman called at a drug store there for a doctor to come and see his child, then very sick with croup. Not finding the doctor in, he left word for him to come at once on his return. He also bought a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, which he hoped would give some relief until the doctor should arrive. In a few hours he returned, saying the doctor need not come, as the child was much better. The druggist, Mr. Otto Scholz, says the family has since recommended Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to their neighbors and friends until he has a constant demand for it from that part of the country. For sale by A. K. Wilson.

It is hoped that the circuit court room in the new court house will be ready for the county political conventions. It will be a big improvement over what any previous county conventions ever enjoyed.

We are in receipt of No. 1, vol I of The Pacific Homestead, to be issued weekly from Salem at $1 a year. It will be a general farm newspaper devoted to Pacific Northwest. Having ability and enterprise back of it, we shall expect it to become a valuable farm journal.

A committee of Presbyterian ladies consisting of Mrs. A. K. Wilson, Mrs. J. C. Gaynor and Mrs. L. B. Martin drew up a series of appropriate resolutions concerning the life and death of Mrs. Hannah Bools, who was one of the most faithful and best beloved members of that church.

Mr. W. S. Harwood has made a special personal study of conditions of industrial life in Rochdale, England—the ancient Lancashire city in which industrial co-operation was born. He furnishes an illustrated article on the subject for the March Magazine Number of The Outlook, ($3 a year. The Outlook Company, New York).

The registration of voters goes slowly along. In the Dallas, Independence and Monmouth precincts a majority have registered. Rickrell, Suver, Buna Vista, McCoy, Bridgeport and Rock Creek precincts are making good progress, but the others must get a move on or some folks will not be prepared to vote in June.

A. R. DeFluent, editor of the Journal, Doylestown, Ohio, suffered for a number of years from rheumatism in his right shoulder and side. He says: "My right arm at times was entirely useless. I tried Chamberlain's Pain Balm, and was surprised to receive relief almost immediately. The Pain Balm has been a constant companion of mine ever since and it never fails. For sale by A. K. Wilson."

There will be a republican central committee in Dallas tomorrow to fix dates for primaries and county conventions. Among the prominent representatives are Lee Rowell, Henry Key, J. R. Moyer, W. L. The Dallas school meeting Sunday called out about 100 voters. The finances of the districts were shown to be in good shape. H. L. Fenton and H. G. Campbell were re-elected directors and clerk and the school board were instructed to erect a six room school building. It having been found that one of the academy rooms could be had for public school purposes after this school year, it was recognized as a necessity to have more room, and there were but few in favor of adding to the old building.

The fruit growers of Dallas and vicinity met Monday afternoon and chose H. S. Butz, R. L. Chapman, J. B. Nunn, C. L. Hubbard, Wm. Grant and S. P. Kimball delegates to the state fruit growers meeting in Portland. There are over 40 acres of fruit trees within three miles of Dallas and it is output in a good year would be about fifty car loads of dried fruit. They meet again tomorrow to talk about uniform drying grading and packing and the advisability of pooling the prune crop of this vicinity.

The day of heavy refreshments "was passed away, perhaps never to return. Cultured people live more simply and more daintily. Afternoon "pat home" are social gatherings, not feasts; consequently they may be given by those who become do not justify them in entertaining in a more expensive way. Then, too, they are elastic. A dinner party, as a rule, can only be given to a chosen few, but an afternoon affair is sufficiently elastic to include all of one's friends and calling acquaintances.—March Ladies' Home Journal.

We have saved many doctor bills since we began using Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in our home. We keep a bottle open all the time and whenever any of my family or myself begin to catch cold we begin to use the Cough Remedy, and as a result we never have to send away for a doctor and incur a large doctor bill, for Chamberlain's Cough Remedy never fails to cure. It is certainly a medicine of great merit and worth.—D. S. Mearles, general merchant and farmer, Mattie, Bedford county, Pa. For sale by A. K. Wilson.

J. H. Townsend returned Tuesday from Washington and other eastern cities, he being a member of the national democratic committee which recently met at the national capital. He reports business good throughout the east and says the people are more energetic and pushing their than here. He noticed a wide spread dissatisfaction with the imperial policy of the administration and some of the recent doings of congress. In his opinion many out of doors are not half so great as we westerners imagine them to be.

ASK YOUR DOCTOR!
Ask your physician this question, "What is the one great remedy for consumption?" He will answer, "Cod-liver oil." Nine out of ten will answer the same way.

Yet when persons have consumption they loathe all fatty foods, yet fat is necessary for their recovery and they cannot take plain cod-liver oil. The plain oil disturbs the stomach and takes away the appetite. The disagreeable fishy odor and taste make it almost unendurable. What is to be done?

This question was answered when we first made of Cod-Liver Oil with Hypophosphites. Although that was nearly twenty-five years ago, yet it stands alone today the one great remedy for all affections of the throat and lungs.

The bad taste and odor have been taken away, the oil itself has been partly digested, and the most sensitive stomach objects to it rarely. Not one in ten can take and digest the plain oil. Nine out of ten can take SCOTT'S EMULSION and digest it. Even advanced cases it brings comfort and greatly prolongs life.

Get it in all drug stores.
