IF THEY WOULD.

Great Benefits Would Come From Though not addicted to cast iron pledges, the thought frequently comes thing for some nine-tenths of the poultry keepers of America if for one year they would rigidly adhere to a resolution to be guided in everything pertaining to their poultry by competent authority. Saying this, we do not forget that authorities are at odds on some points. (As authorities are plain, fallible men and women, it would be passing strange if they were not.) So far as the purpose of adherence to this resolution goes, it would make no dif-ference if in following us chosen au-thority the poultry so for ande some minor mistakes. What he would avoid, which is of far greater importance, is the costly blunders which beginners make through diregard of advice on points upon which authorities are vir-

We say doctoring sick fowls-i. e., giving continuous treatment calling for a great deal of time and a great many drugs to fowls which had been neg lected until disease had become established or which had shown that they lacked recuperative power and could not throw off mild disorders when given the proper simple remedies when disorders first manifested themselves As far as we know, there are not two qualified opinions about the foolishness of doctoring. POPULAR CARNATIONS.

Varieties Recommended as Best by Expert Growers.

Carnations seem to be growing more perican Cardening of the best varieties for commercial or private use includes the following from an expert

We find Mrs. Frances Joost the best of the dark pink carnations; it is destined to supersede that grand variety, William Scott, which has had such a run of popularity. Daybreak, of course, is indispensable: it is a persistent bloomer and always in demand: -- two best whites. The first named is really a white Daybreak. It is generally not so large and full a flower, but a much better stem. Flora Hill, with us, It is easily the best white after March. Freedom, a variety raised by Mr. Peter Fisher, the raiser of the celebrated Mrs. T. W. Lawson carnation, is our best early white; it has a large flower, ot so double as the other varieties but borne on a good stem, and it is a persistent bloomer.

Our selection of half a dozen varietles for private or commercial use would be Mrs. Frances Joost, Day-break, Mrs. George M. Bradt, F. Mangold, G. H. Crane and either White Cloud or Flora Hill.

Another expert says: The best paying carnations for commercial use are: White, for early, Flora Hill; late, White Cloud. Red, for early, Flame; late, Crane. Pink. New York. Crimson, Macco.

For private use I select: Red. Crane; white, White Cloud; pink, New York and Mrs. J. Dean; crimson, Maceo and Gomez; variegated, Mrs. Bradt; yellow, Gold Nugget.

Winter Budding In the South. A method of winter budding the peach which has been practiced with success by Professor Price of the Texas station is shown in the cut. Its importance consists in the fact that it enables the operator to do this work at season when he is not so pressed for time as during the summer. Professor Price describes his operation as fol-

HUMOR OF THE HOUR.

It was a neat piece of work, and over the telephone at that. The principals are Detroit men, and only a change of names is required to make true every word of the story.

Brown and Black are old friends. During the holidays they met upon numerous festive occasions that did not violate the spirit of the season. One evening Black found that his quirements and borrowed $10 from Brown.

Next morning Black folded a crisp note of the denomination mentio and sent it to Brown by mail. Last Thursday Brown called Black up by telephone and opened the conversation pleasantly by asking if it would be convenient to pay the $10.
"Have paid it," came back the re-

"Sent it last month and within 24 hours of the time I borrowed it. Didn't you get it, old man?"

"No, I didn't get it," in a tone that was a little chilly. "Registered letter, postal order or check?" "Neither. Simply folded the bill and inclosed it."

"Foolish! Very foolish! I never got It." Then Black's shrewdness came into play. "But there was a return card on the envelope." 'No, there wasn't. Nothing on it but
