Let us save your peas.
An original sort of dish is made by combining lettuce with canned peas. Take the heart of the lettuce leaves and chop them. Drain all the liquid from a can of peas and then wash the peas in cold water. Put them into a saucepan with the chopped lettuce, add two teaspoons of sugar and a few mint leaves finely minced. Then put in two small slices of cold ham, one tablespoon of water and pepper to taste. Let the whole simmer slowly until the peas are tender. Remove the pieces of ham and add one cup of cream. Set this stew for a moment longer, then serve.

Summer Resorts.
To the mountains our people in increasing numbers yearly look for those days of relaxation and recreation necessary to maintain their human machine in fair working condition. The languorous sloth of the summer proves very seductive with its heat, but many have decided to seek the actual change of air and surroundings, but also such stimulation as energy, vigor as will provide better and vigor for the return to labor. For this they urge the mountains, the mountains and the clear unadulterated mountain air. In this direction the shortest route is afforded by the attractions. The entire line of road from Ashland to Redding is studded with charming and accessible hotels and camps, where are cheer and comfort and healing at reasonable cost, where you can hunt, fish, ride, loaf, or play with equal facility. Or if you look for healing waters, none better can be found, hot or cold, than the springs at Ashland, Colesburg, Anderson, Bartlett, Byron and Paso Robles. Before visiting Europe, the people of the northwest should see the glories of Yosemite valley, and the wooded groves of Mariposa and Calaveras; the Parisians are likely to make inquiries concerning these attractive resorts. Seeley U. H. Markham, general passenger agent, Portland, has new booklets on Castle Crags, Shasta springs, McCloud river, Yosemite and excursion rates thereto.

She Didn't Buy It.
The following story will show the high price that illustrators of reputation command for their work. A young woman who had received treatment from Dr. S. Weir Mitchell of Philadelphia and was very fond of him decided, at a recent celebration of his birthday, that a fitting and appropriate gift would be the presentation of one of the original drawings of Mr. Howard Pyle for "Hugh Wynne." Forthwith she inquired of the Century company's salesman and, with her fingers tenderly grasping a new $10 note, asked to buy the drawing. She was informed that these pictures were never sold unless exceptions were made in cases where the artist himself or the author wished to make the purchase.

Clear and to the Point.
The following is taken from a hotel advertisement in the Calcutta Times: "Gentlemen who come in hotel not say anything about their meals they will be charged for, and if they should say beforehand that they are going out to breakfast or dinner, etc., and if they say that they not have anything to eat they will be charged, and if not so they will be charged, or unless they bring it to the notice of the manager they will be charged for the least things according to the hotel rate, and no fuss will be allowed afterward about it."

Carrots For Cows.
In the table of nutritive value which the Michigan Farmer publishes carrots are rated 2 per cent of fat, while both sugar beets and beets for fodder are rated at only 1 per cent of fat, but whatever chemical analysis may show as the percentage of fat in potatoes it is practically nothing when it comes to butter making. The cream from milk from cows fed on potatoes is white, waxy and without the grain that the best butter should have. Feeding cows with beets causes them to give a great amount of milk, and it makes fair, good butter, but the cows also need some cornmeal or other grain feed to increase the butter fat. Feeding the carrots makes the milk increase in quantity, and it will be, just milk, and a yellow colored butter, even in winter if fed with cornstarch and a very little corn. Of all the roots grown carrots and parsnips are the best of all roots to feed to milk cows. They are largely fed in the Channel Islands, and it is possibly this feeding on succulent food, combined with the mild winter that prevails there, that has helped develop the milking qualities of Jersey and Guernsey cows.

PASSING
Look in your mirror today. Take a last look at your gray hair. It surely may be the last if you want it so; you needn't keep your gray hair a week longer than you wish. There's no guesswork about this; it's sure every time.

Ayer's Hair Vigor
Alter using it for two or three weeks notice how much younger you appear, ten years younger at least. Ayer's Hair Vigor also cures dandruff, prevents falling of the hair, makes hair grow, and is a splendid hair dressing. It cannot help but do these things, for it's a hair-food. When the hair is well fed, it cannot help but grow. It makes the scalp healthy and this cures the disease that causes dandruff.

Write the Doctor.
If you do not obtain all the benefits you desire from the use of the Vigor, write the doctor about it. Address: Dr. J. C. AYER, Lowell, Mass.

A Cork Safe.
"The most curious safe I ever saw," said a traveling man, "was a cork one, and it was made by an ingenious Dutch mechanic for a one time famous confidence man named Dr. Baggs, who operated in Denver, Salt Lake City and Frisco. The safe was a folding affair, made of paper on a backing of sheet cork, and when it was opened, was six feet high and looked exactly like the real thing. As it was always placed in a corner, it had only two sides, but every visible detail was complete—combination knob, hinges, lettering, bolt heads and all. When folded, it could be carried in an ordinary dress suit case. Baggs used the thing in a fake lottery office which was of itself a marvel of trick furnishing.

Red Tape Illustrated.
A correspondent passing hurriedly into the room of the committee on rivers and harbors pulled the knob off the door. "How can I get that fixed, do you think?" asked the congressman. "I'll get the carpenter or the locksmith?" "The locksmith, I suppose." "No, sir, were I to send for the locksmith he would tell me to consult the architect of the capitol. He has no authority to fix doorknobs. Doorknobs are permanent fixtures and are solely within the jurisdiction of the architect of the capitol." "Do you see that bookcase there?" said the committee secretary. "I caused the carpenter to paste some cloth on the inside of the glass doors in order that the books might not show. He did the work, but when he had finished I noted that he had not cleaned the glass before he put the cloth on. The thing looked so disreputable that I asked him why he had not cleaned the glass. He told me that the glass was a permanent fixture and that he had no authority to touch it, but that the pasting of the cloth upon it was a temporary matter and was entirely within the province of his labors. The whole thing got to be done all over again."—Washington Cor. Cleveland Plain Dealer.

The Broiler Industry.
Thomas F. Jager in Practical Poultryman says the broiler industry is considered by men who have experimented in this line long enough to be entitled to a standing as one of the main sources of profit in the market poultry business, especially if the turning out of birds can be accomplished prior to the hand raised stock as furnished the cities by the farmers or small landowners.

Roman to the Romans.
Friends!
I come not here to talk. Ye know too well the story of our triumph. We are slaves! The bright sun rises to his course, and lights a race of slaves! He sets, and his last beam falls on a slave! Not such as swept along by the full tide of power, the conqueror leads to triumph glory and undying fame. But here, ignoble slaves—slaves to a horde of petty tyrants, feudal despots; lords Rich in some down paltry villages, strong in some hundred squares, only great in that strange spell—a name! Each hour, dark trade.

End of the Century Shoes.
That capricious young person the girl of fashion is tired of the mannish shoe. While it was the fad of the moment she revelled in the comfort it gave her and even went so far as to buy boots of shoes exclusively. But now that the fad of buying sensible shoes is gaining she is again purchasing her footwear with an eye solely to the artistic. Even her golf shoes have lost much of their stout clumsiness, her walking boots show high heels and a tendency toward the return of the pointed toe, and as for her slippers they gladden with spangles and glitter with jeweled buckles and are as much ornamented as it is possible for them to be. The low military heel is fast losing its popularity.

A Serious Business.
Women in America consider themselves obliged to buy perishable dresses to meet the exigencies of fashion, while in England a princess, a duchess, will do with one handsome silk as her only elegant costume. The training of dressmakers and the frequent changes of fashion make dress a very serious business to fashionable women in America if they chance to be poor. And in giving good material into the hands of inexperienced dressmakers women often suffer a dreadful loss. It is the old story of the Irish cook trying to make a vol-au-vent de volailles. To make a French dress one needs a French artist. The French dress is elegant, and it fits.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

A Delicate Matter.
A wise mistress who wants to have and to keep good servants should herself do any fault finding that may be required and never if possible let her depute the task to any one, not even a daughter, especially if the latter is young and has not much or any experience of house-keeping, for servants, particularly elderly women, resent being corrected by a deputy, even when they accept it with a good grace from their mistress. They would dislike and resent still more to have a message of correction sent to them through a fellow servant.

Mother's Love
Is boundless. Yet it is utterly helpless to give strength to the child born with a low vitality. The time to give strength to the child is before birth and to impart this gift the mother herself must be strong. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription gives strength to mothers. It preserves them in robust health in the months before baby comes. It practically does away with the pains of motherhood, and enables the mother to endure her child with a healthy body and a happy disposition. Favorite Prescription contains no alcohol and is absolutely free from opium and cocaine.

The Cold Day at Billville.
The cold day came to Billville; they slung the snow on a sled. An pious old man with Providence to bless the frozen pool. "Twas just the time for stay in, with barometer door. THE WORLD OF SPORT.
Miss Rose M. Murray of Toledo is the holder of the women's world's record at tennis. Recently at Toledo she rolled a total of 236 and to show that it was no fluke rolled another score of over 200 on the same day. Miss Murray, who has an inborn fondness for athletics, works hard in an office all day. She is considered the equal of any bowler in Toledo. Her father is so pleased with her proficiency at tennis that he is having an alley built in his residence. Miss Murray may be seen in Chicago shortly in an exhibition match.

Humors of the Links.
It is curious what a peculiar direction the golf ball will sometimes take after it has been struck. Of course the player is sure that he struck it all right, but nevertheless the little white sphere will seem possessed of an evil spirit and will land where no one ever dreamed of a golf ball going before. At the Morris County Links during a tournament William Shippen, one of the original golfers, drove his ball into an apple tree, and after a long hunt it was discovered, firmly caught between two twigs, over 50 feet above the ground. Under a fusillade of sticks and green apples the ball was dislodged, and, counting an extra stroke, for the descent of the ball from the tree counted one, Shippen continued the game.
