COURTHOUSE DEDICATED.

Judge Boise held an adjourned term of court here, beginning last Monday and in consideration of his long and prominent connection with the jurisdiction of the county, district and state it was thought to be eminently proper that the members of our bar should ask him to dedicate our splendid new courthouse before holding the first session of court in it. No other man in the state has had a larger or longer connection with legal matters. Judge Boise came from Massachusetts in 1850 and in 1852 was chosen prosecuting attorney of this judicial district. That year in the old courthouse in North Dallas he prosecuted and convicted Everman for killing Hooker. Among those present were Judge Geo. H. Williams, Judge Pratt, Judge Deady, Cal. Nesmith, Judge Wood and Dave Logan. Two years later he was one of the commissioners who prepared the Oregon code and in 1857 was a member of the constitutional convention and was made supreme judge of the territory. When the state was admitted in 1859 he became chief justice and at the expiration of his term was elected to the supreme bench a position he filled for many years. In 1880 he was chosen judge of this judicial district and was repeatedly re-elected. After a few years retirement he was again in 1898 elected to the same position in connection with Judge Burnett. Some forty years ago he held the first term of court in the courthouse recently burnt where the present one stands and now he presides over the first court held in the new structure which is of stone and may be standing 100 years from now. The home attorneys present when the courthouse was dedicated last Monday afternoon were J. L. Collins, N. L. Butler, J. H. Townsend, J. E. Sibley, J. N. Hart, E. F. Coad and Oscar Hayter, while W. H. Holmes, W. M. Slater, Webster and Frank Holmes, of Salem, were also there. After a reminiscent talk by Judge Boise each of the others had something to say, nearly all of it along the legal and pioneer line. Judge Collins was present when Everman was convicted in 1852, and was admitted to practice at the first term of court held by Judge Boise in the old court house where the new one stands. Quite a number of ladies and gentlemen were present to witness the dedicatory exercises. Upon motion a committee, consisting of Judges Collins, Butler and Sibley, were appointed to draft a suitable report of the occasion to be spread upon the court journal. Many historic incidents were brought out, among them this one. Many have noticed that the county jail is not square with the streets but few have ever inquired why. It seems that Judge Taylor asked out the ground and instructed an old Russian to lay the foundation. The night before he began work some one staked his horse there and deranged the stakes set by the judge.

GATHERING OF PIONEERS.

Last Saturday was a nice day, but the damp and unsettled weather of the previous week changed the minds of many who had intended to attend the pioneers reunion, so the attendance was smaller than for several years. However those who did attend had a royal good time as they talked of persons, scenes and things of bygone days. The gathering was in our spacious and pleasant park in the western edge of town. Before noon there was inspiring music by the band and the orchestra and Hon. N. L. Butler, the silver tongued orator, held

"He That Any Good Would Win"

Should have good health. Pure, rich blood is the first requisite. Hood's Sarsaparilla, by giving good blood and good health, has helped many a man to success, besides giving strength and courage to women who, before taking it, could not even see any good in life to win.

WHAT THEY HAVE TO SAY ABOUT THE DOINGS IN THE COUNTY.

An Unacquainted and Complete Resumé of What Your Friends are and Have Been Lately Doing.

SUVER.

The rain has done more good than harm. Fall grain is in poor condition—not much rust but heads small. Gardens are growing fine, but have too many weeds. Plenty of berries and the apple crop will be extra good. It is time for haying, but the farmers are holding off for settled weather. Several around have fields of clover hay for the first time. Hops look well and there are no lice in sight. Winter wood is being hauled.

Miss Mary Sedgwick who has taught the primary department of our school for the last two years has secured a position as primary teacher in Utah and has resigned her place here. She returned to her old home at Albany Monday. The young folks gave her a farewell party Sunday night. She has given satisfaction as a teacher and made many friends while here.

Owing to the heavy rains our picnic was not as well attended as usual. A good programme was rendered by the pupils of the school and Senator Mulkey presented the diplomas to the graduates with appropriate remarks. There were four graduates, Alfred Hall, Henry Gregg, Nancy and Myrtle Jones. The music was furnished by the Sheridan quartet and was much appreciated. After dinner Senator Mulkey delivered an address on education which was listened to with marked attention. At 4 o'clock there was a bicycle race in town over a 34 mile course, which was won by Mr. Riddle, of Monmouth, in 9 minutes. There was a grand ball at Woodman hall in the evening which was well attended.

"Better late than never." It is best however to be never late about taking Hood's Sarsaparilla to purify your blood. Take it now.

The motor will make two special trips from Independence on the Fourth starting at 7:30 and 9. An excursion boat from Salem may connect with the latter.

The Falls City and Salem railway projects to hang fire. It takes lots of ready money to build railroads, and the general public are slow in furnishing it.

Too many hard run families spend their slim earnings in frivolous or fleeting pleasure instead of for things of lasting value. How much better it would be to apply said money on home improvement.

The Belgian hare industry is being rapidly introduced into Oregon. Most people have considered them merely as pets but they will become a common article of diet here as they are in many other parts of the world.

At Monroe, in Benton county, last week about 700 head of goats were sold at auction in two hours. The prices ranging between $2 and $5 a head. Nearly all the wool in Benton county has been sold at about 15 cents.

We solicit local news items of all kinds from everybody in the county. Don't wait for some correspondent to happen along but bring or send it on a postal card. If you are a friend of the ITEMIZER please consider yourself as specially appointed to gather news for it.

Hood River has this season shipped seventy-five car loads of strawberries mostly to Montana. It is estimated that at least $175 was realized from each acre of berries. They brought good prices, all the sales being made by one man, which prevented competition.

Word is being received from those who went to Cape Nome, there being nearly 1,000 Oregonians among them. Some of the reports are very encouraging and some otherwise. The final outcome is apt to be about like that in connection with the great rush to Klondike. As a rule it does not begin to pay to follow up mining excitement.

Newburg is making big efforts to have a beet-sugar factory established there. No matter what may be the outcome the community will be profited by the effort. Whatever stirs up and energizes the public is profitable. Polk county agriculture is far below its possibilities and whoever arouses greater interest in any line of farming will prove a benefactor to those around him.

About The Crops.

The fall wheat in the Willamette valley continues in a general poor condition, and complaints are now made that in addition to the rust affecting it that many fields are badly infested by the grain aphids. In southern Oregon the Columbia river valley and the Plateau region fall wheat is doing splendidly. The warm weather has caused the heads to fill rapidly, and it is expected that cutting will be general in week or ten days. The rains have been beneficial to spring wheat, and that crop has made excellent progress during the week. Barley, oats, corn, potatoes and gardens have also been benefited by the rains. Winter oats are heading nicely, and hay in many places is ripe and ready to cut. Hops continue to make rapid growth, and although hop lice are numerous they are not increasing very fast. Quite a large amount of hay, principally clover, in the Willamette valley and coast district, recently cut and lying on the ground, has been damaged beyond recovery by the rains, but that remaining uncut is abundant, and the loss will not be a serious one. In these sections cherries and berries have also been damaged by the wet weather, but in the remaining portions of the state fruit is doing nicely, and considerable thinning by hand has had to be done.

A dozen energetic and ambitious teachers after finishing terms from five to eight months in this county have come to spend the summer teaching in Tillamook.

Doctors Failed.

"In August, 1893, I was attacked by neuralgia and nervous prostration. For six months I was confined to my room and most of the time to my bed. Five doctors were consulted without results. Dr. Miles Nerve and Liver Pills cured me. Today I am well and strong."
