

Though All Were Fables.
Though all great deeds were proved but fables fine, Though earth's old story could be told and all hope Though the sweet fables loved of them that Were empty as the ruined Delphian shrine; Though God did not in words benign,
With voice of his great Fatherhood endow Though life immortal were a dream untrue,
And he that promised it were not divine; Though well, though spirit were not and all hope Reaching beyond the hours melted away; Though virtue had no goal and good no scope, But both were doomed to end with this our day;
Though all these were not, to the ungrateful heir Would this remain—to live as though they were.
—Dean Ingelow.

PAINTERS AND WRITERS.
Carolina Duran is to pay another visit to the United States next summer, when, according to the Paris papers, he will paint a portrait of William Dean How-Reports of Muncey's falling health are denied by his wife, who says he is improving, that he always recognizes her, but that he cannot be roused out of his apathy.

Despite the eastern flavor of some of his verse, T. B. Aldrich does not know any oriental language. He is at present, however, studying Persian with a view to a translation of Omar Khayyam.
Aubrey Thomas de Vere, the oldest living English poet, has just celebrated the eighty-sixth anniversary of his birth.
Mr. de Vere has been a poet as well as a verse writer; his poetical work is embedded in 15 volumes, while ten books stand to his name in prose. It is almost 60 years since the appearance of his first volume in verse, "The Walrus."

THE SHANGHAIS.
A Fowl That Was Popular in This Country From 1840 to 1865.
The 1840 exhibition on Boston Common had a small number of breeds, but a goodly number of exhibitors. It was at this exhibition that these Chinese breeds were first exhibited as Shanghais, and the name Cochins China, which up to that time had been used, was dropped. Buff and White Shanghais and the Marsh fowls (colored), so named from the importer, were being introduced into this country in 1847-8 and the early part of 1849. These were all heavily feathered on slanks and feet, and breeders were seeking when to make more uniform color in each variety and to keep the varieties distinct.
And what a scramble there was to secure the Chinese birds previously bred

CLERICAL LINEN.
A Baltimore minister was criticised because he wore colored shirts. He resented the criticism by accepting the call of a New York congregation at a 100 per cent increase in salary—Exchange.
Shall ministers of the gospel be permitted to wear colored shirts? The question may as well be settled before the highly illuminated wastecost makes its appearance in the pulpit.—Washington Post.

Printing Without Ink.
A company has been formed to control the process of printing without ink, by using electricity and chemically prepared paper. In a short time, it is expected, this innovation will be completely introduced, and old methods revolutionized. There is one thing however that has resisted all innovations; that is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which has many imitators, but no equals as a cure for stomach, liver and bowel troubles. This peerless remedy has been the standard medicine of the American people for past fifty years. It is a wonderful medicine for dyspepsia, indigestion, biliousness, insomnia, constipation and nervousness. It also prevents malaria, fever and ague. It keeps the stomach in good condition, and bowels regular.
Try it, and you will not be disappointed.

Shall ministers of the gospel be permitted to wear colored shirts? The ques-
highly illuminated wastecost makes its appearance in the pulpit.—Washington Post.

Printing Without Ink.
A company has been formed to con-
ink, by using electricity and chemically prepared paper. In a short time, it is expected, this innovation will be completely introduced, and old meth-
thing however that has resisted all in-
no equals as a cure for stomach, liver
and bowel troubles. This peerless
remedy has been the standard medicine of the American people for past
fifty years. It is a wonderful medicine for dyspepsia, indigestion, biliousness, insomnia, constipation and nervousness. It also prevents malaria, fe-
in good condition, and bowels regular.
Try it, and you will not be disappointed.
